COUNCIL TURNS THUMBS DOWN ON BOND ISSUES

Thompson Men Fear to Run with Them.

The city council yesterday, by a vote of 35 to 8, agreed not to submit any bond issue proposals to the voters at the aldermanic election Feb. 26. The action came as a surprise move after the finance committee, in its morning session, voted to recommend to the council that bond issues totaling $17,150,000 be placed on the ballot.

The defeat of the proposals was laid to the fear of the city administration that its own projects would help to defeat the administration aldermen who are candidates for reelection. Twice before, the voters have rejected the same bond issues, and, it was pointed out, if they were defeated again, the aldermen who placed them on the ballot would go down with them.

Five Switch Votes.

Switching of votes by the administration aldermen between the time that the finance committee adjourned and the opening of the council meeting was pointed out as supporting this theory. Five aldermen who voted for the bond issues in the finance committee voted in the council meeting to reject them.

By its action the council refused to submit the following bond proposals, which had been agreed upon by the finance committee:

Proposal—	Amount.
Payment of judgments on property condemned for street improvements	$13,650,000
Fire department	1,000,000
Street lights	1,000,000
Municipal [illegible]	500,000
Purchase of city dumps	500,000
Purchase and installation of stop and go lights	500,000
Total	$17,150,000

Consideration of the bond proposals was begun when the council convened as a committee of the whole to take action on the finance committee's recommendation. Here the attack of the administration, led by Ald. Oscar F. Nelson [46th], the mayor's floor leader, and Ald. Louis B. Anderson [2d], resulted in the substitution of a resolution by the former for the finance committee's recommendation. The resolution was against placing bond issues on the ballot at this time.

Adopt Nelson Resolution.

The city council then adopted the Nelson resolution as the finance committee's report. The eight aldermen who voted against the resolution were William D. Meyering [8th], Jacob M. Arvey [24th], James B. Bowler [25th], John S. Clark [30th], Joseph H. Smith [33d], Edward J. Kandil [34th], Max Adamowski [38th], and John W. Chapman [40th]. Those absent from the council chambers and not recorded as voting were H. C. Van Norman [27th], George Maypole [28th], Dorsey Crowe [42d], and Titus Haffa [43d].

The attitude of the voters on bond issue proposals, expressed at the last two elections, was used by Ald. Anderson in support of the Nelson resolution. He commented also on the fact that the voters' attitude would reflect on the candidacy of any alderman who voted in favor of putting the bonds on the ballot.

"You are all concerned in this matter," Ald. Anderson said, "if your vote here is going to reflect on your candidacy. That is in your mind. You know that the tax payer and voter is unalterably opposed to anything that has even the earmarks of increased taxation. While he is voting against the bonds, he is going to vote against the fellow who had the audacity to send the proposal to him."

Outlying Districts for Bonds.

Among the aldermen who fought for the bonds were a number who represent the outlying wards. They pointed out that their wards either have no street lights at all or are poorly lighted.

"The tax situation is not germane to these proposals," Ald. Arvey declared. "The city has ample bonding power to take care of it now and for the next ten years.

"A wave of reform has come over the city," he continued. "I don't think that the people are against spending money but are against any waste in the expenditures. The finance committee has picked out the things that the city needs right now. Who are we to say that the people won't approve? The law gives the people the right to decide and we should let this program go to them."

Payment of the judgments against the city would save $135,000 a year to the taxpayer, Ald. Sheldon Govier [9th] declared. He pointed out also that by voting against the bonds, the aldermen would not be reducing taxes.

"The fly in the ointment is that our opponents will use it against us if we vote for these proposals," he

7 RESCUED FROM FLAMES; BLAST WRECKS SALOON

Three persons were overcome by smoke and four others were carried to safety by firemen in a fire and explosion which damaged the soft drink saloon of Charles Sher, 1143 South Kedzie avenue, early this morning. According to Dennis Curtin, chief of the 15th battalion, the fire was incendiary, and the place had been saturated with oil. Police laid it to rivalry among beer runners. Chief Curtin said the explosion was caused by gas generated by the fire in the tight room. The front of the place was blown out and the flames spread upward to the second floor of the three story building.

Those overcome and carried out by Joseph Burger, a taxicab driver, and revived by an inhalator, were Philip Zieff, 17; Davis Zieff, 20, and Alex Brandar. Mrs. Lena Kaminitzky, 75 years old, and her husband, Morris, 85 years old; Mrs. Fannie Sterne, and a 20 months old baby of Mr. and Mrs. John Gordon were carried out by firemen. The loss was estimated at $5,000.

Police said that Sher has been the target of beer runners before and that three weeks ago his place was fired.

PHILANDER KNOX SUED BY WIFE; CRUEL, SHE SAYS

Washington, D. C., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Mrs. Josephine P. Knox filed suit here today for a limited divorce from Philander C. Knox, son of the former secretary of state, who also was once senator from Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Knox charges that her husband's cruelty and drunkenness had caused her such humiliation that she could not continue to live with him.

She asked the court to prevent Knox from molesting her further and requested that he be forced to pay her attorney fees in addition to $500 a month which she is now receiving. She fixed his income $18,000 a year or more. There are two children.

WOMAN FOUND ON ISLAND IN PARK; ILL FROM POISON

Miss Lillian Swallow, 23 years old, a clerk, 6608 Maryland avenue, was found unconscious late yesterday on the wooded island in Jackson park, where she is believed to have swallowed poison in an attempt to end her life. She was found shortly after 6 o'clock by South Park Policeman Timothy Murphy. Police took her to the Jackson Park hospital, where physicians said that they believed she had taken a number of tablets. She was partly revived but could make no coherent statement to the police.

Judges Found Toiling Harder Show Results

Judges of the Criminal court who displayed a "startling leniency" in the first three months of 1928 distinguished themselves in the last quarter of the same year by a stern severity in dealing out penalties to criminals, according to the annual report made public yesterday by Henry Barrett Chamberlin, operating director, to Frank J. Loesch, president of the Chicago Crime commission.

Statistics gathered by Mr. Chamberlin's corps of investigators in the criminal courts revealed that the judges not only gave longer sentences in the last quarter, but they also spent nearly twice as much time on the bench. There were more jury trials and more cases disposed of than in the first quarter. On the other hand, there was a decrease in felony waivers.

Increase in Penalties.

So religious in their attention to duties were the judges in the last part of 1928 that they overcame a certain laxity in the first quarter, according to the report, and the year as a whole compared favorably with 1927, there being a general increase in penal sentences, hours spent by judges on the bench, and large decreases in sentences to the House of Correction.

It was pointed out in the report that a decrease in sentences to the House of Correction was a favorable sign. These sentences were formally imposed upon criminals who succeeded in obtaining felony waivers.

The judges took it easy in court attendance in the first quarter, the figures showed. They spent 1,637 hours on the bench. In comparison, during the last quarter [despite the holiday season in December] they spent 3,063 hours on the bench. There were 335 jury trials in contrast to only 116 jury trials in the first quarter.

More Trials by Jury.

"Energy was almost doubled as indicated by hours spent on the bench," Col. Chamberlin noted. "Trials by jury were almost tripled."

One of the tables produced in the report follows:

	First quarter.	Fourth quarter.
Cases disposed of	1,051	1,344
Sentenced to death	1	4
Sentenced to penitentiary	96	238
Sentenced to Pontiac	89	123
Sent'd to house of correction	243	139
Felony waived	560	226
Gun count waived	101	22
Robbery count waived	60	7
Burglary count waived	36	25
Probations granted	158	195

"The tables show that the first quarter of the year was distinguished with a startling display of leniency," the report stated. "They also show an equally astonishing decrease in leniency during the remaining quarters of the year with an accompanying increase in energy and severity."

During December Judge Thomas J. Lynch led in energy with 114 hours on the bench and seventeen jury trials. Judge Thomas Taylor was second with 99 hours on the bench. Judge Dennis J. Normoyle with 95 hours, Chief Justice John J. Sullivan with 95 hours, and Judge Charles A. Williams with 90 hours were next.

The tables proved beyond a doubt, the report pointed out, that the practice of waiving felonies did not speed up the disposal of cases, as had been argued. Despite the great decrease in felony waivers the judges disposed of 293 more cases in the last three months of 1928 than in the first quarter.

$2,000,000 WILLED TO 'GENTLEWOMEN, UNMARRIED, OVER 60'

A fund of two million dollars for the establishment and maintenance of a home for aged unmarried women is created by the will of Mrs. Suzanne King Bruwaert, filed yesterday before Edward S. Scheffler, assistant to Probate Judge Henry Horner. Mrs. Bruwaert, the widow of Edmond Bruwaert, who was French consul general in Chicago during the World's Fair, died last November at Utica, N. Y., at the age of 80. She was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. McGregor Adams of Chicago.

The bequest disposes of almost the entire estate. The closest surviving relative, a sister, Mrs. Jane King Burry of 1232 Astor street, is left $50,000, and other relatives share another $25,000.

The residue of the estate, after the gifts to relatives, "shall become a charitable fund," reads the will, "to create and support a nonsectarian home for gentlewomen [ladies], unmarried and of good family, not younger than 60, having small means but so limited that they would be happy to be welcomed to a pleasant and inexpensive home whither they could pass their last years.

"I should like a lady and a gentleman at the head of the home to act together and to make it cheerful and pleasant, similar to those in France, like St. Terine and Chardon-Lagache."

Mr. Bruwaert died about six months before his wife in Lausanne, Switzerland. They were married in Chicago in 1893 following a courtship during the World's Fair here.

STEWART ROLLS INDIANA MELON INTO PROXY WAR

Adds Cash Split of $15,620,000.

In the midst of the battle of John D. Rockefeller Jr. to wrest control of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, from Col. Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the board, the directors of the corporation (who are backing Col. Stewart) late yesterday declared the greatest stock and cash dividend in the company's history.

Estimates of the actual value of the stock dividend range from $300,000,000 to $400,000,000. The Indiana shares closed at $96 on the market yesterday. At a valuation of $96 the new shares would be worth $444,000,000. The par value of the stock is $25. At $25 a share the issue is worth $116,000,000.

Added to the stock dividend was a cash dividend of $15,619,375 to be distributed among the 58,000 shareholders.

50 Per Cent Stock Melon.

What the directors actually did was to declare a stock dividend of 50 per cent, or one-half share on each whole share held by the stockholders. And immediately following this, cash dividends of $1.12½ were declared on all capital shares, the new half shares included. The cash dividend alone thus was $1.68¾ on each of the old shares.

Standard Oil of Indiana now has 9,250,000 shares on its books. Col. Stewart says the actual value of the corporation is about $920,000,000. Recently, during the proxy fight, the shares were sold as high as $103. What effect the 50 per cent stock issues will have on the price, will not be known until the market opens this morning.

Stock Dividend in 1922.

The previous highest stock dividend declared by Standard of Indiana was $75,000,000, back in 1922. Calculated on the basis of the $25 par value of the stock, the stock dividend declared yesterday was $41,000,000 above that of 1922.

Col. Stewart himself had nothing to say concerning the effect of the huge dividend on the struggle in which both he and Mr. Rockefeller Jr. are trying to obtain enough proxies to control the affairs of the company when the showdown comes at the annual meeting on March 7. Attachés of the fighting official admitted the dividend came at a psychological time, but they said that was by accident. They insisted this is the regular time for declaration of quarterly dividends and that this one came in an entirely normal way.

Board Issues Statement.

The directors sent word to the newspapers they would have a statement to issue late in the afternoon, setting the hour. When newspaper men arrived they had but a few moments to wait, before the following was handed out:

"At a meeting of the board of directors of the Standard Oil company, an Indiana corporation, held this day, a stock dividend of fifty per cent was declared, amounting to one-half share for each whole share held by the stockholders of this company, to be paid to stockholders of record at the close of business, Feb. 16, 1929.

"Following this the regular cash dividend of sixty-two and one-half [62½] cents, and an extra cash dividend of fifty [50] cents in addition thereto was declared on each share of its capital stock, the same to be paid March 15, 1929, to the stockholders of record at the close of business Feb. 16, after effect is given to the 50 per cent stock dividend declared this date, said cash dividend being payable to all stock including that issued pursuant to said stock dividend."

Same "Moral Influence."

L. L. Stephens, general counsel for the company, made a statement that the books of the company are closed for voting purposes today, pointing out that the new stock could therefore not have any voting power. It was admitted that declaring the huge stock and cash dividend at this time might have some "moral" influence on the stockholders in voting their proxies. But if that were so, the attachés said, it was a coincidence, the dividend was declared at the proper time and brokers and financiers had been looking forward to it for a considerable period.

It was now pointed out to Mr. Stephens and others that Col. Stewart, on his recent return from New York, had denied the truth of reports that a large stock dividend might be

Lindy Blazes Air Mail Trail to Canal Zone

BY JOHN TAGGART.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BELIZE, Feb. 4.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh blazing a trail for the new air mail route from the United States to Central America, the Panama Canal Zone, and ultimately much of South America, arrived here this afternoon. He had flown from Miami, Fla., where he hopped off at 6:08 o'clock this morning. He stopped at Havana, Cuba, for fuel.

His stop here, after 750 miles of flying, ended the first leg of a 2,327 mile route. After spending the night here he will fly to Tila, Honduras, tomorrow, and then to Managua, Nicaragua, where he will spend the night. On the third day, he will stop at Prenta Arenas, Costa Rica, and then hop to his final destination, Cristobal, Canal Zone.

Ahead of Schedule.

True to form, Col. Lindbergh alighted gracefully in the harbor at 3 o'clock, ahead of schedule. Before landing he encircled the town several times. Then he delivered the first air mail from the United States to Central America.

Belize went wild. The crowd made it difficult for Lindy to taxi up to the ramp, built into the harbor to the tiny field, after dropping his wheels in four feet of water. Col. Lindbergh showed great skill in avoiding the crowd.

The left front wheel of the plane overran the ramp and stuck in the sand. The plane was later pulled out without damage.

Welcomed by Governor.

Col. John Hambleton, vice president of the Pan-American Airways, and H. L. Burkey, as mechanic and radio operator, accompanied Col. Lindbergh in the big amphibian.

The governor of the British colony, Sir J. A. Burdon, welcomed Col. Lindbergh. Belize, he said, was delighted to have him here once more, particularly now as this flight linked British Honduras with the United States by air mail. Gov. Burdon announced that it was Lindy's 27th birthday and the crowd applauded heartily.

Hopes for Daily Service.

Col. Lindbergh replied, "Ladies and Gentlemen: I want to tell you all that I am very glad to be back to Belize once again, more particularly glad to be back here on the first flight of a service which is linking British Honduras to the United States and to other countries in Central and South America. I hope it will not be long before these planes are landing here not once in two weeks, but once each day, and I think I can assure you that not very many months will pass before that becomes a reality."

After the preliminary reception Col. Lindbergh took Gov. and Lady Burdon over the proposed site for a landing field for Pan-American Airways passenger planes about ten miles from Belize. Col. Lindbergh was fêted at the golf and polo club and then went to the government house, where he will spend the night.

Refuels in Havana.

HAVANA, Feb. 4. — (AP) — Col. Charles A. Lindbergh hopped off for Belize, British Honduras, on the second lap of his inaugural air mail flight to Panama, just one hour and four minutes after his arrival here from Miami. The weather was favorable.

The youthful pilot, celebrating his 27th birthday, said he considered this flight of great significance, not only as a medium of quick transportation to Central America and the West Indies, but also because the new service would bring the nations of the new world into closer contact.

Because he had resumed his old

CRUISER BILL'S PASSAGE TODAY IN SENATE SURE

Trounce Church Bloc in Test Vote.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 4.—[Special.]—Passage of the fifteen cruiser bill tomorrow by an overwhelming majority, with the three year construction time limit intact, was foreshadowed today by a test vote in the senate. An amendment offered by Senator Pat Harrison, [Dem., Miss.], under which the President would not be required to begin building any of the ships for three years, was defeated by a vote of 54 to 28.

Under provisions of the bill, as passed by the house, five cruisers and one airplane carrier are to be laid down before July 1 next, five more cruisers before July 1, 1930, and the remaining five cruisers before July 1, 1931.

President Coolidge urged the elimination of this time limit. The effect of such action would be to authorize a paper navy which might never be built.

All Desert President.

When the test came the President found himself completely deserted. Not a senator was willing to offer an amendment unqualifiedly removing the time limit. The closest approach to the Coolidge proposal, which was backed by the pacifists, was the Harrison amendment allowing postponement of the beginning of construction until Jan. 1, 1932.

So intolerant of delay is the senate, however, that immediately after it rejected this amendment it voted down in a roar of noes an alternative proposal by Senator Harrison to postpone the beginning of construction of the ships six months. The senate manifested a determination to have the first six ships under way before July 1.

The sentiment in the senate appears to be such that there is little likelihood that various proposals to decrease the number of ships will prevail. Events are tending toward passage of the bill in a form little differing from the house measure and the acceptance of the senate bill by the house, thus obviating a conference adjustment which would threaten the defeat of the measure by filibuster in the closing days of this congress.

The action of the senate on the Harrison amendments was a disastrous rout of the pacifists, marshaled by the church lobby, who have been bombarding senators for weeks with resolutions, letters and telegrams assailing the cruiser bill as a militaristic measure inconsistent with our acceptance of the Kellogg war renunciation treaty.

Lobby Hard, but Lose.

When they found they could not defeat the measure outright or kill the time limit provision entirely the pacifists sought to bring about postponement of construction until after the forthcoming Geneva disarmament conference. The Federal Council of Churches sent a letter to 75,000 pasters, suggesting pressure on the senate to achieve postponement.

What the church lobby reaped as the fruit of its efforts was its first signal reverse since it was organized for political activity. It found itself deserted by leaders upon whom it has relied in the past. Even Senator Joe T. Robinson [Dem., Ark.], minority leader of the senate, one of the Methodist members of the Federal Council of Churches, voted against the Harrison amendments, and, not only that, he denounced in unmeasured terms the proposal to eliminate the time limit.

Calls for Prompt Construction.

"The program carried in this bill," thundered the Democratic leader, "is justified from every standpoint of the public interest. The only protection to neutral commerce in time of war is adequate sea power. The prompt construction of the vessels contemplated by this bill is essential to a properly balanced and efficient navy.

"No wholesome end can be accomplished by eliminating the time clause and thus placing upon the executive a responsibility which under the constitution falls upon the legislative department."

Senator Robinson said that even if further navy limitation should be agreed upon by the powers, the maximum of cruisers allowed would be far higher than our total with these 15 added.

Facing the galleries, packed with clergymen and women pacifists, the Arkansas senator concluded:

"There is not the slightest likelihood that any ship constructed under this plan will be scrapped unless the United States shall become content to accept a position of mediocrity among naval powers. That I am not willing to vote for, or even to discuss."

Colleagues Echo His Views.

Senator Dan Steck [Dem., Ia.], explained that he would vote for the bill, because much as he hopes for "everlasting peace," he realizes that "the only guarantee of peace is the power to defend ourselves."

Senator John J. Blaine [Rep., Wis.], who cast the sole vote against the Kellogg anti-war treaty because he doubted its efficacy, argued that the cruiser bill should be defeated because inconsistent with the war renunciation pact.

"If there is any inconsistency between the cruiser bill and the Kellogg treaty," said Senator William C. Bruce [Dem., Md.], "it is an inconsistency we will share with every power. Every power will build the ships it thinks it needs for defense. The Kellogg treaty will not reduce any army or navy."

Senator Bruce said that he would vote for the bill, if for no other reason, because "the military spirit of the nation is being enervated by pacifism." He related his experiences with the church lobby.

Tells of Tilt with Clergymen.

"I was approached by a delegation of clergymen whose spokesman," he said, "quoted the Biblical admonition that 'he who lives by the sword shall perish by the sword.' I asked him if he accepted the Biblical assurance that wine is something that cheers the heart of God and man."

Foreseeing the defeat of the Harrison amendment, Senator George W. Norris [Rep., Neb.], one of the pacifist leaders who lives in the Methodist "capitol" here, turned on a stream of irony upon the Republicans who were deserting the President.

"I thank heaven I am still faithful," said Senator Norris, amid laughter, aroused by the fact that the eliminination of the time clause is the only matter on which he has ever stood with the President. "I am still following my leader. But, O, you ungrateful senators who have fattened on his bounty, but who are about to turn your backs upon him now that he is going out of office."

MANUFACTURERS OF ILLINOIS SUPPORT FIGHT FOR CRUISERS

Home support of the stand of Congressman Fred A. Britten, chairman of the house committee on naval affairs, in his fight for the construction of fifteen new cruisers within three years, was contained in a letter to the congressman sent yesterday by the Illinois Manufacturers' association.

The City club of Chicago, however, adopted resolutions opposing the passage of the bill with a time limit clause, and suggested its modification to provide for seven cruisers of 10,000 ton capacity and one aircraft carrier, with the President having the right at any time to suspend the construction work.

"Illinois manufacturers who desire to maintain their foreign trade admire your courageous and public spirited stand on the fifteen cruiser bill," the letter signed by James L. Donnelly, executive vice president of the Manufacturers' association, began. "Unless a time limit is fixed by law on the building of these vessels it is exceedingly doubtful if they ever will be constructed. At this time the United States has only four first class cruisers."

In the City club resolutions, adopted at a joint meeting of the foreign affairs committee and the naval and military affairs committee, the statement is made that the addition of fifteen cruisers would result in the naval superiority of this country in total tonnage over the British empire.

Bandits March Victim Through Loop; Rob Him

BRITAIN TO DROP CRUISER PROGRAM LONDON REPORTS

Claims Action Aims to Appease America.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Copyright: 1929: By The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Feb. 5.—(Tuesday.)—According to the political correspondent of the Daily Chronicle, the government has decided to postpone indefinitely the construction of the cruisers which were to have been started this year. Originally the program included three cruisers for the year 1928-'29, but one was abandoned last year.

The decision was reached yesterday at a conference between Stanley Baldwin, prime minister, and Sir Austen Chamberlain, secretary of state for foreign affairs, and W. C. Bridgeman, first lord of the admiralty, held in the house of commons. Sir Charles Madden, first sea lord, was also present. The decision must be ratified by the cabinet, but a reversal is not considered likely.

Hopes to Appease U. S.

The announcement will probably be deferred until the cruiser bills have passed the American senate, as it is not the intention of the government to use the curtailment of the British naval program to affect in any way the senate's decision.

At the same time it is hoped such curtailment will do something to remove the impression created by the Anglo-French naval understanding that Great Britain is entering a naval armament race against America.

The correspondent of the Daily Chronicle declares the latter aspect of the question has been strongly pressed by Sir Austen, and Chancellor of the Exchequer Winston S. Churchill clinched the argument by emphasizing the need for economy. The admiralty has been forced to admit that the disarmament conference to be held in Washington in 1931 may materially curtail the subsequent cruiser program.

Sir Austen believes this gesture now may create an atmosphere more favorable for success at that conference than any previous negotiations.

[Copyright: 1929: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, Feb. 4.—That delay in the conclusion of the new Anglo-American arbitration treaty is due to failure to receive a reply from one of the dominions was stated by Sir Austen Chamberlain in the commons last week. That this dominion is Canada has been generally surmised. What was not released, however, is the fact that Canada desires to substitute her own arbitration machinery with the United States for that proposed in the draft of the Anglo-American treaty.

Canada's proposal is emphasized as being made in the friendliest spirit, both to the United States and the mother country. It is pointed out that Canada's relations with the United States are closer and of more important character than those of any other part of the British commonwealth, scarcely excepting Britain herself. This was stressed three years ago by the appointment of a Canadian minister to Washington.

Canadians assert that their experience with Anglo-American arbitration where Canadian interests have been concerned has not been of the happiest. An Englishman represented her in the delimitation of the Maine boundary and the result did not please her. Lord Alverstone sided with the American representatives on the Alaska boundary commission against two Canadian representatives, and the result, Canadians complain, is the Alaska Panhandle, which shuts off half of British Columbia from the sea.

CHINA ACTS TO SETTLE DEBTS TO THE POWERS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, Feb. 4.—The Nationalist government announced today that identical notes have been forwarded to the United States, Great Britian, Japan, France, and five other nations whose citizens have loaned money to China and which loans are now in default. The notes request that representatives be sent to China in order to enable the Nationalist government to take up the question of refunding.

The Chinese government says that the Nationalist government has set aside $5,000,000 from this year's increased customs revenue for the purpose of beginning payment of interest. It also says the government has appointed a debt funding commission composed of six members for the purpose of opening negotiations with the foreign interests.

It was also announced today that the Nationalist health ministry has appointed three eminent physicians as advisers for the formulation of a general health program for China.

RICHEST INDIAN TELLS HOW LOVE AMBUSHED HIM

Old Jackson Barnett Regales Senate Quiz.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 4.—[Special.]—Jackson Barnett, Oklahoma Indian, whose oil millions and December-May romance are the subject of litigation in half a dozen states, takes little stock in the alleged plot to rob him of his fortune.

Today he told a senate subcommittee investigating his affairs he does not know how much money he was persuaded to give the American Baptist Home Mission society or how much he gave his comparatively young white wife. Furthermore, he does not care, he said.

"I'm having a good time," declared the aged Indian, and senators and spectators roared with laughter when he boasted of his Los Angeles mansion, surpassing that of any movie star, his automobiles and his $25,000 or more a month income.

Kidnaped by Wife, Charge.

Back of the senate subcommittee's inquiry and the years of litigation in courts from New York to California are charges that the comely Mrs. Barnett, less than half his age, kidnaped the aged Indian and forced him to marry her. To make the marriage attack proof, after one ceremony in Coffeyville, Kas., she took him to Independence, Mo., where another was performed.

Under the Oklahoma law, Mrs. Barnett was entitled to one-half of her new husband's property and obtained $550,000, one-half of the funds then on deposit to Barnett's credit. Lest the other half should fall into the hands of Mrs. Barnett, whom they believed to be a fortune hunter, Indian officials approved the creation of a $550,000 trust fund in which the Baptist society was named as the beneficiary. Barnett under the agreement was to receive at least $20,000 a year income from the fund during his lifetime and at his death the principal was to be turned over to the society for the benefit of Indian schools in Oklahoma.

Court Sets Trust Aside.

A New York federal court set the trust agreement aside on the ground that Barnett was mentally incompetent to handle his estate and had been unduly influenced to create the trust. The present senate investigation was undertaken to determine whether Indian Commissioner Burke had exercised due care in protecting Barnett's estate.

Barnett, who cannot remember how old he is, but who appears to be in the seventies, obviously enjoyed his experience today. He laughed loudly when pictures of him "before and after" oil was found in his Oklahoma allotment were exhibited. He proudly identified himself as the well dressed man in the "after" pictures, but flatly refused to admit he was the long haired, unkempt Indian in the "before" series.

How Love Came to Lo.

"I don't know how I came to get married," asserted the Indian, who continued that soon after oil was discovered on his farm, Mrs. Barnett, then known as Mrs. Anna L. Lowe, called on him to talk about an oil lease. "The woman," he said, took him on several trips into the country before the marriage was discussed.

Barnett admitted that he went willingly with Mrs. Lowe to Coffeyville, where they were married the first time, but said he saw no reason for the second ceremony in Independence, Mo.

"Did you have anything to drink?" asked Senator Wheeler.

"No," said Barnett.

"Did you ever take a drink?" asked the senator.

"Yes," answered Barnett with a broad smile.

"You never did want to get married, did you?" asked Senator Wheeler.

"Not that way—not twice," said the Indian. "I did not think that was fair. I did not care much about it the first time."

He's Happy, at That.

Senator Elmer Thomas [Dem., Okla.], asked Barnett whether he liked Los Angeles or Muskogee, Okla., best, and Barnett declared he was happy with "the woman" in California, although he expected to return to Oklahoma some day when his affairs are finally settled.

Senator W. B. Pine [Rep., Okla.] asked Barnett if he knew the difference between a $20 bill and a $1 bill.

"Sure I do," shouted Barnett, taking a roll of bills from his pocket and waving a $20 bill at the senator. "Do you?"

NEGRO CONFESSES KILLING VICTIM DURING ROBBERY

Robert Moore, 27 years old, 545 East 46th street, colored, confessed last night that he had fired the shots which killed Philip Ochota, 45 years old, owner of a restaurant at 1358 W. 22d street, during a stickup in the restaurant last Saturday.

Moore was captured by Sergts. John O'Malley and Joseph Bresnahan in a room at 501 Aldine street. Joseph Terry, 35 years old, 546 East 46th street, colored, was also arrested. Terry admitted that he was Moore's partner in the stickup, but declared that Moore had shot Ochota when the latter tried to escape.

FAHERTY ASKS 2½ MILLIONS FOR DAMEN AV. SPAN

Funds for the construction of a bridge at Damen avenue (formerly Robey street) across the south branch of the Chicago river and viaduct approaches on each side were requested of the finance committee yesterday by Michael J. Faherty, president of the board of local improvements. Objections raised by several members of the committee resulted in the referring of the request to a subcommittee.

Mr. Faherty, the committee was told, already has advertised for bids for this construction work. He has requested the committee to give him $2,510,000 out of the $5,476,513 remaining in the bond issue voted in 1919. This fund, it was pointed out, is the only one in which there is a large amount of money left for construction work.

Alds. Jacob M. Arvey [24th], Guy Guernsey [6th], and James B. Bowler [25th] declared that the committee should give more consideration to the proposal before approving it.

On the south side the viaduct approach to this bridge will extend across the right of way of the Santa Fé railroad. An ordinance passed recently provides that the railroad construct the portion of the viaduct approach across the right of way.

Assistant State's Attorneys Harry Ditchbourne and Walter Butler had presented the prosecution evidence showing that the youths were found in the stolen car, when court adjourned for the noon recess. The defendants announced witnesses would be called to prove otherwise.

"Have a stenographer present this afternoon," the judge told the prosecutors. "If perjury is committed in this court it will be punished."

At the afternoon session the defendants announced a desire to plead guilty. They were sentenced to 1 to 20 years each in Pontiac reformatory.

ORMISTON ONE OF 4 MISSING IN NEW AIMEE QUIZ

Famous Carmel Grocery Slip Vanishes.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 4.—[Special.]—Kenneth L. Ormiston, whose name was linked with Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson's when the bronze haired, vibrant evangelist disappeared in the summer of 1926, has eluded a summons to appear before the state legislature inquiry here, it became known today.

Besides Ormiston, three other key witnesses were reported as unprocurable by legislative attachés who have been trying to reach them with subpoenas.

Ormiston is reported in Mexico. Mrs. McPherson's mother, "Ma" Kennedy, is in Seattle. The Rev. J. W. Arthur, Mrs. McPherson's bookkeeper, who testified for one day, since then has gone where the sergeants at arms cannot find him. Miss Berenice Morris, expected to be an important witness, also has disappeared.

Incidentally, it developed that the famous "grocery slip" of the Carmel cottage, which was part of the 1926 grand jury's exhibits, and which was to have been officially compared with Mrs. McPherson's handwriting, has utterly vanished.

Detectives' Report Read.

The day's sensational disclosures were made in the reading of a detective's report. The detective, whose report named Mrs. McPherson as his "client," described his visit to Police Chief Gabrielson of Monterey, near Carmel.

The report quoted the police chief as "having no doubt" that both Ormiston and "the client" had been at the Carmel cottage in May, 1926. Mrs. McPherson's explanation of her absence from Los Angeles at that time was that she had been kidnaped.

The detective's report became of acute interest to the legislators, whose actual mission is to investigate Judge Carlos Hardy's acceptance of a $2,500 check from Mrs. McPherson, because the detective noted that his information was to be communicated to Judge Hardy.

Judge Hardy is under threat of impeachment for accepting the evangelist's money while she was under fire legally. The legislature is to determine whether the money was a "love offering," as Mrs. McPherson insists, or for legal services.

His Activities Told.

William H. Carter, foreman of the 1926 Los Angeles county grand jury, testified that Judge Hardy came before the grand jury on July 13, 1926, and made a statement regarding some points in the McPherson case. Carter had a diary in which under date of Aug. 26, 1926, he noted, "Judge Hardy, interfering."

Carter testified that Judge Arthur Keetch, who dismissed the Carter grand jury after it had persisted in the McPherson investigation, told him that he [Keetch] had conferred with other sitting judges before dissolving the grand jury some months before its time was up.

Judge Keetch had previously told the assemblymen in this inquiry that he had not consulted with either Judge Hardy or any other judge before dismissing the jury.

Assemblyman Sewell, one of the committee, read into its proceedings the following telegram, dated Aug. 1, 1926, and addressed to J. W. Buchanan, Burns detective agency manager: "You see Orms' parents about his woman friend. Communicate before returning.

Three armed men entered the Silvery Fur shop, 2946 West Madison street, yesterday and after menacing Sol Silvery, the owner, and a clerk, David Wexler, 42 years old, 1320 South Sawyer avenue, escaped with twenty fur coats valued at $6,000.

SUBURBANITES MAY JOIN PHONE FIGHT; WANT 5 CENT RATE

Suburbanites who must pay ten cents for telephone calls into Chicago were reported to be organizing yesterday for a new fight in behalf of a five cent charge. They plan to ally themselves with the Telephone User's league, which was formed three weeks ago as a result of an altercation between the Illinois Bell Telephone company and hotel owners, druggists, confectioners and others.

Roy T. Mould of Argo and Summit, a real estate dealer, made known to the Retail Druggists' association that a movement was being carried on to unite suburban organizations with Chicago business men who have objected to a reduction in commissions to holders of public booth telephones. The suburbs lost a similar campaign in 1927, but Mr. Mould said he believed that a combination with the Chicagoans might result in bringing more pressure to bear upon the telephone company.

The fight between the telephone company and the hotel owners remains at a standstill with the hotels still refusing to open booths in their lobbies. The druggists, who control from 5,000 to 6,000 telephones in Chicago, are giving five cent service but many are disgruntled with the new commission rate, it was stated.

8 KILLED AS FAKE CHILD SACRIFICE YARN STIRS RIOT

Mobs Search Bombay for "Kidnapers."

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BOMBAY, India, Feb. 5.—Armed police are patrolling the thoroughfares here tonight while furious mobs, armed with clubs, are roaming the streets in a great blood hunt for imaginary kidnapers. The trouble was caused by a mysterious story, which spread through the city, that Pathans were kidnaping children in order to immure them as a "sacrifice" in the foundations of a new bridge at Baroda. The Indians refused to be convinced that the rumors were baseless, and a reign of lawlessness, pitched battles in the streets, lootings and burnings began.

Eight Die in Riots.

Six Pathans were lynched today, and two met death yesterday, while more than fifty persons were in hospitals following furious riots against the Pathans.

More than 100,000 workers quit the mills and workshops today and roamed the streets in the hunt for the mysterious kidnapers. Pitched battles between the hunted Pathans and infuriated crowds of Indians continually occurred. The Pathans, strong, sturdy fighting men from the frontier, were overwhelmed by numbers. Police had great difficulty in dealing with a serious mob this evening. A small body of Pathans were driven to bay by a mob of 1,000 mill hands near King Edward hospital. Stones and bricks were hurled.

Fight Like Tigers.

Fifty Pathans rushed from the building in which they were cornered and attacked the mob. A furious battle followed. Iron bars, bamboos, quarry stones and clubs were used. The Pathans fought like wounded tigers. When the police arrived many Pathans and Hindus were lying in the bloodstained road. Twenty-five were removed to the nearby hospital.

The police appear unable to cope with the situation, and troops will be called out if the trouble does not diminish.

U. OF C. CLINICS TO GET $500,000 IN THREE GIFTS

Dr. McLean Is Appointed to Directorate.

DR. F. C. McLEAN.

Gifts of $500,00 toward the support of the university clinics, to be made over a five year period beginning July 1, were announced last night by the University of Chicago. At the same time the appointment of Dr. Franklin C. McLean, professor of medicine at the university for the last six years, to the directorate of the university clinics was made known. As part of his duties Dr. McLean will assist the president in the medical affairs of the university, according to the announcement.

Of the gifts to be donated, Max Epstein and Albert D. Lasker have each pledged $125,000 and the Julius Rosenwald fund $250,000. This last gift it was stated is conditioned upon the university's obtaining from local sources pledges amounting to $250,000 in addition to the gifts now announced.

Supplements Earlier Gift.

Mr. Epstein's gift supplements his previous gifts of $200,000 for the Max Epstein clinic for out-patients at the university and $100,000 to extend this clinic to the new Chicago Lying-In hospital. Mr. Lasker has previously given $1,000,000 to the university for the creation of the Lasker foundation for medical research, which is engaged in the study of the degenerative diseases of middle age.

The University of Chicago clinics, which include the Albert Merrit Billings Memorial hospital and the Max Epstein clinic, were opened to the public on Oct. 2, 1927. Enlargements will soon be made by the addition of the new Bobs Roberts Memorial hospital for children, the gift of Col. and Mrs. John Roberts; a new hospital for crippled children provided by Mrs. Gertrule Dunn Hicks and Mrs. Nacy A. McElwee, to be operated in cooperation with the Home for Destitute Crippled Children, and by the addition of the new Chicago Lying-In hospital. Construction of these three hospitals, which will increase the total of hospital beds on the Midway to 500, will begin in early spring, according to the announcement.

Organized Medical Faculty.

Dr. McLean is an alumnus of Rush Medical college and the University of Chicago. SIFT RECORDS OF CANAL BOARD FOR SLUSH EVIDENCE

Prosecutors Hunt Material for March Grand Jury

The task of digging through the mass of records in the sanitary district on a hunt for grand jury evidence was started yesterday by the special prosecuting staff of First Assistant State's Attorney Frank J. Loesch. Mr. Loesch went to the district offices and started five assistant prosecutors and a corp of clerks and stenographers to work on the task, which is expected to take up most of this month.

"We have started to work on a job which may not produce much news for the public for some time to come," said Mr. Loesch. "However, if we find what we are looking for, the public will be surprised with the results when we are ready to go to work before a March grand jury. We have received many anonymous tips which promise amazing testimony for the next jury if we are able to verify the information."

Want Evidence First.

It is the intention of the prosecutors, it was announced, to first get the evidence and then to call in the persons involved and call upon them for an explanation if there is one for the facts involved.

Witnesses will not be called for questioning for some two or three weeks, it was said.

Practically the entire special prosecuting staff, composed of Assistant State's Attorneys David Stansbury, Thomas H. Slusser, William Haynes, George Callaghan, and Otho Fasig, went to work behind locked doors in the district headquarters yesterday. They started first to delve into the voucher payments for amounts of $500 or less. No contract is necessary for work performed for such amounts.

Engineers May Inspect Jobs.

It was reported yesterday that engineers have been employed to go over the different sanitary district jobs of recent years to determine whether or not the taxpayers received value paid for under the régime of the former president, Timothy J. Crowe. The McCormick boulevard paving job and the adjoining bridle path are two of the contract jobs now being inspected by engineers.

Contractors, who are expected to do some $13,000,000 worth of work for the district during this year, have started to express dissatisfaction to the trustees over the lack of financial assistance. It was reported that many of them are ready to quit work in a short time unless some arrangement is made to pay the bills.

BOARD CUTS ONLY $77,000 OFF HUGE SCHOOL DEFICIT

After three hours spent in trimming estimated expenditures in the various divisions of the educational department, members of the board of education and bureau heads yesterday succeeded in cutting a mere $77,000 from the anticipated deficit of $13,357,948 in the educational fund.

There was an air of despair about the board rooms following the long session. Trustee James A. Hemingway, chairman of the finance committee, said that virtually every dispensable item had been cut from the budget and in some instances expenditures had been restricted in such a way as to impede the normal functioning of the schools.

FERGUS TO OPEN NEW REMAPPING BATTLE TODAY

John B. Fergus, veteran exponent of constitutional reapportionment of Illinois, will today start another court battle against the state legislature to compel it to remap the senatorial districts in accordance with the latest United States census.

Mr. Fergus, an octogenarian is confined to his home by illness, but his attorney, Ray E. Lane, will appear before Circuit Judge Victor Arnold this morning with a "petition for leave to file information in the nature of quo warranto" against members of the general assembly.

This legal phrase means that the court will be requested to compel all state senators and representatives to show by what authority they are acting as legislators. Mr. Fergus contends that they lack authority because elected from senatorial districts that are obsolete and void because of the failure to reapportion the state.

The suit is brought in the name of the people of Illinois ex rel John B. Fergus. State's Attorney John A. Swanson, after studying the law and the legal document for ten days, yesterday affixed his signature to the petition as representative of the people.

MOVE FOR MORE DAYLIGHT TIME UP IN COUNCIL

Extension of daylight saving time for an additional three weeks in the spring was advocated by Ald. John Toman [23d] in a resolution introduced into the city council yesterday. The resolution, which provides for the preparation of amendments to the daylight saving ordinance, was referred to the committee on judiciary and special assessments.

The proposed amendment would provide for turning the city's clocks up an hour on the first Sunday in April, the 6th, instead of the last Sunday in April, the 27th. This would give Chicagoans an extra hour, during April, for gardening, golfing, motoring, and other outdoor activities, Ald. Toman said. His resolution had the backing of a number of aldermen.

LEGISLATURE TO DROP SANITARY DISTRICT INQUIRY

But How to Do So Presents a Problem.

BY PARKE BROWN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 4.—[Special.]—Regardless of the general political nervousness that marks this session of the Illinois general assembly, it is probable that the resolution for a legislative inquiry into the Chicago sanitary district's pay rolls will fade out this week.

Following their conference with State's Attorney Swanson, Speaker David E. Shanahan and his associates on the conference committee, Minority Leader Michael L. Igoe and Representative Robert J. Branson, are due to report to the house of representatives that the Chicago prosecutor believes a parallel inquiry will embarrass his own work.

Afraid to Vote Against It.

But the situation tonight, on the eve of the reconvening of the house, revolves around the manner in which the subject is to be brought before the assembly. The anomaly of the situation is that while the membership of the house, as a whole, is opposed to a legislative inquiry, crippled by the lack of records already in the hands of the Cook county authorities, there will not be a handful against the Branson resolution if it comes to a vote. Apparently, there are few that dare to vote against it.

Therefore the question before the powers that be is the parliamentary procedure which will bring the sanitary district matter before the house. If Representative Branson presents the report on the conference with State's Attorney Swanson he is likely to urge immediate action on his resolution even if that consists of merely setting a date—such as some time in April—for a committee of inquiry to go to work.

If, on the other hand, Speaker Shanahan rules that the subject is foreclosed for the time being by the attitude of State's Attorney Swanson and that the Branson resolution will rest where it is in the committee of the whole, there probably will be no fireworks. The speaker tonight said he had given no thought to this subject, and that the decision will rest with the house tomorrow.

May Pass Over O'Neill Charges.

While there may be a drastic ruling in this matter from the speaker, the indications tonight are that he will pass over, without notice, the controversy concerning committee chairmanships started last week by Representative Lottie Holman O'Neill, who charged that political influence barred her from heading the house committee on education.

The speaker, it is understood, has been considering whether it is advisable to make a statement from the rostrum explaining the methods of seniority and experience by which he selected the house committees. But the latest information available is that he believes the controversy will die an easy death unless it is stirred up again and the subject may not be mentioned tomorrow.

Probably the biggest thing on tomorrow's program is the introduction of Gov. Emmerson's gasoline tax bill—two cents for the state and another cent to be spent in the contributing counties by the state—which is to be presented in the upper house by Senator Martin R. Carlson of Moline, who is presiding, in the absence of Lieut. Gov. Fred E. Sterling, over the senate.

CITY'S RULES ON WATER METERS CALLED UNFAIR

They Exclude Too Many Bidders, Charge.

Charges that the city's specifications for water meters are unfair, as they exclude the product of a large number of manufacturers, were made yesterday by Ald. Jacob M. Arvey [24th] in the meeting of the council finance committee. The committee had under consideration the request of Commissioner of Public Works Richard W. Wolfe for permission to purchase 2,000 meters on the open market.

Council Defers Decision.

Despite the objections of Ald. Arvey, the committee recommended the purchase to the council and the order was introduced later in the council session. Unanimous consent of the council on the order, permitting the purchase without advertising, was requested by Ald. John S. Clark [30], chairman of the finance committee, but was defeated. A roll call showed a vote of 19 to 17 against the meter proposition. A motion to reconsider won and the matter was ordered deferred and published.

"The city's specifications are unfair to the bidders," declared Ald. Arvey in the finance committee session. "They can be construed so as to exclude every make of meter that is not wanted. Some of the companies charge that the specifications exclude all but one or two companies."

Criticize Engineers' Report.

Criticism of the report of the Western Society of Engineers on the nine bids received by the city on water meters was also made by Ald. Arvey. Only two of the companies bidding had a product which complies with the city's requirements, the report stated.

Commissioner Wolfe, in his report on the bids, listed the Gammon, Neptune and Hershe meters as the only ones complying with the specifications. The 2,000 meters, according to Ald. Edward J. Kaindl [34th], chairman of the meter subcommittee, will carry out the meter installation program until March 1.

SECOND and WORSE FLU WAVE FEARED

Colds Attacking Weakened System Pave Way for New and More Severe Diseases

Health authorities fear that the present decline in the number of new flu cases may be only a prelude to a second and worse wave.

They point out the importance of keeping free from colds, especially if the system has already been weakened by the flu, as colds at this time are so apt to bring on bronchitis, or even pneumonia.

Every cold must be checked immediately. And yet too much "dosing" may upset the digestion which is already disturbed by the toxins of influenza.

Vicks VapoRub is especially valuable here. As it is applied externally, it can be used freely at the first sign of a cold without upsetting the most delicate digestion. Just rub it on the throat and chest at bedtime.

HAFFA, 4 OTHERS GO TO TRIAL ON BOOZE CHARGES

U. S. Witnesses Will Tell of $5,000,000 Ring.

Ald. Titus A. Haffa [43d] and four other defendants went on trial yesterday before federal Judge Walter C. Lindley, charged with the operation of a $5,000,000 liquor syndicate. A jury was selected in the almost record time of one hour and before adjournment last night Assistant United States District Attorney John E. Northup had completed his opening statement.

This morning two of the prosecution's most important witness, John Conwell and James Donahue, will take the stand and testify that they were employed by the syndicate and watched its operations from November, 1927, to March, 1928, during which time Haffa and the others maintained three stills doing a large business.

Give Information to U. S.

From time to time the two men turned their information over to Special Intelligence Agents Patrick T. Roche and Clarence Converse.

Roche and Converse collected evidence from the outside which is credited with being responsible for the eleven count indictment now facing Haffa and the following: Sam Simon, alleged driver for Haffa and an assistant around the breweries; Edward Hug, a still expert; Joseph Murray, delivery man, and Joseph Bagheria, precinct captain of the alderman, who is said to have owned an interest in the business. With them as a co-defendant, until the trial begun, was Albert P. Bauer, former Lincoln park commissioner, who at the last moment changed his plea from not guilty to guilty.

Accused of Conspiracy.

Ten of the eleven counts in the indictment charge the manufacture, sale and transportation of intoxicating liquor. The eleventh count accuses them of conspiracy to violate the national prohibition law, conviction on which charge carries with it a two year penitentiary sentence, a fine of $10,000, or both.

Clear Up Mystery of Thorne-Hutchins Wedding

Mystery surrounding the marriage of Mrs. Ann Clore Thorne, divorced wife of Gordon Thorne, to John M. Hutchins, La Salle street broker, was cleared up last night. A close friend of the bride declared that Mrs. Thorne had desired the wedding ceremony performed with the utmost privacy and to that end had allowed it to be circulated among her friends and acquaintances that the marriage was postponed. Official announcements of the wedding for Saturday afternoon had previously been sent out.

When Schwartz started a law practice, Miss Berkman aided him financially, she says. HINT BERLIN BANK ROBBERY A PLOT AGAINST LATVIA

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Feb. 4.—The recent robbery of the Berlin branch of the Disconto Gesellschaft, when the robbers bored a tunnel and plundered 150 safe deposit boxes, acquired a sensational and new significance today when it was announced that one of the safes emptied belonged to the Latvian legation and that documents of the greatest diplomatic moment were stored there. It is said that these included drafts of treaties with several European powers.

The political department of the German police has now been brought in to help the criminal investigators. There are hints of a theory that the entire robbery, which entails more than $2,000,000, was engineered by the secret service of some power for the sole purpose of stealing Latvia's diplomatic secrets.

PHILIP R. DAVIS IS ACCUSED OF DIVORCE FRAUD

Court Told Lawyer Planned Perjury.

Philip R. Davis, attorney at 110 South Dearborn street, yesterday was accused of committing fraud upon the court by presenting perjured testimony to obtain a Cook county divorce for a New York woman.

The charge was made in open court before Chief Justice John J. Sullivan by Attorney George L. Schein. The judge appointed John L. Fogle, chairman of the Chicago Bar association's grievance committee, as amicus curiæ [friend of the court] to investigate and report on the charges.

The investigation involves a divorce obtained by Attorney Davis a year ago for Mrs. Lillian Bowers Friedlander, 67 Park avenue, New York, the wife of a wealthy business man, William T. Friedlander. She is now seeking to set aside the decree, alleging that she was duped by her husband's lawyer, a New York attorney, and Davis, whom he hired to do the work.

Charge Fraud in Case.

Chief Justice Sullivan was told that Attorney Davis furnished Mrs. Friedlander with a witness whom she had never met before and that the lawyer imposed on the judge a case founded entirely upon fraud.

"It is this brand of shyster," Attorney Schein said in addressing the court, "that has brought into disrepute a branch of legal practice that should be above reproach, the handling of matrimonial relationships.

"I feel it my duty as an officer of the court to disclose the facts as they have come to my attention for the court's information. I have taken this step only after consulting with the Bar association and receiving its advice as to procedure."

Can Defend Self in Court.

Attorney Davis, a familiar figure with his bald head, heavy rimmed spectacles and his cane, will be given an opportunity to state his defense in court, if he cares to do so, before Chairman Fogle of the grievance committee makes a report, Judge Sullivan said.

Davis, with Mr. Friedlander's lawyer, made the arrangements for the divorce in a New York office, it was said. Davis came to Chicago and filed a bill, alleging among other things that Mrs. Friedlander had been a resident of Illinois for four years. As a matter of fact, her home was in New York and had been for many years, according to Attorney Schein.

"On Jan. 21, 1928," Attorney Schein told the court, "Mrs. Friedlander arrived in Chicago and went to Attorney Davis' office. From there they went to the county building and she was introduced for the first time to Miss Ella May Miller, who was to be her witness. The three went before you, Judge Sullivan, and, deceiving you by perjury, obtained a divorce.

Find Addresses Wrong.

"Miss Miller gave her address in her testimony as 2752 Ashland avenue. Mrs. Friedlander gave the same address. My investigators find that neither of them lived there. The investigators located Miss Miller at 4752 North Ashland avenue. They also learned that she was an employé of E. H. Davis, a brother of Attorney Davis."

A transcript of the divorce trial shows Miss Miller, on examination by Attorney Davis, testifying as follows:

Q.—You know Mr. and Mrs. Friedlander? A.—Yes.

Q.—How long have you known them? A.—Four years.

Q.—Do you know how Mrs. Friedlander treated her husband while they lived together? A.—Very fine.

Q.—How did he treat her? A.—Very cruelly.

Woman Charges Coercion.

The divorce was awarded on a charge of cruelty. By stipulation, Mrs. Friedlander received a settlement in lieu of alimony of $40 a week for two years. She now alleges she was coerced into this settlement and that her husband, head of a business system organization, deprived her of her due financial rights. She retained Attorney Max D. Steuer, prominent New York lawyer, who in turn retained Attorney Schein to prosecute Davis and have the decree set aside.

KEGEL TO SEEK NEW FACTS IN MILK DISPUTE

Questions the Findings of Arbiter King.

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

Two separate movements designed to take over the Chicago milk marketing situation were started yesterday by the health department and the city council. Dissatisfaction among city officials grew out of last week's farmer-distributor conferences in which Dr. Clyde L. King, arbitrator of Philadelphia, decided that dealers would pay farmers $2.65 a hundred for their milk during the first three months of this year.

It is understood that both dealers and farmers have accepted the decision of the arbitrator. The dealers will pay the increase of 15c a hundred, and, according to some of the dealers, they have no intention of increasing the price of milk to the consumer. The retail price will remain at 14c a quart, dealers say.

Kegel Assails King.

Assailing Dr. King, Dr. Arnold Kegel, health commissioner, declared in a statement yesterday that the controversy over milk prices was ineffectual and that he would endeavor to secure the legal establishment of a fact finding body. The commissioner will have this group look into costs of production, find out what would be a reasonable distribution profit and price to the public.

In referring to Dr. King's work the commissioner said he did not consider that arbitration had settled the milk controversy. He has invited representative dealers to attend a meeting in his office at 10 o'clock this morning when the King award will be discussed.

Dr. Kegel said in his public statement, "It is stated the price to the public was not discussed. What then was discussed at this meeting between those having such a controlling interest in opposition to that of the public?"

Must Be Settled.

The commissioner added that the milk question must be settled. "It should not be settled by politicians 'strutting their stuff,' as Dr. King is reported to have said. It certainly cannot be settled by the vague allusions of Dr. King as to criminal conditions in Chicago, though interference with interstate shipments of milk by violence and riot seem to him to be perfectly legitimate weapons in this controversy," said Dr. Kegel.

The city council asked the committee on judiciary and special assessments to consider the feasibility of establishing a single milk distributing system under the terms of which the council would have absolute control over profits and the power to determine and fix a reasonable charge for services rendered. The council resolution asks for full and ample power for a strict regulation of the milk industry. It is pointed out that there is danger of an increase in the retail price due to the King decision and inefficiencies in the industry, namely the "vast duplication of milk delivery routes."

DRY AGENTS MAY ASK CLOSING OF CAFE FOR PERMITTING DRINK

Permanent injunction proceedings, similar to that recently taken against the Club Chez Pierre, 247 East Ontario street, may be instituted against the Samovar café, 624 South Michigan avenue, it was learned yesterday, as the result of a raid early Sunday.

In the Chez Pierre hearing the government sought to close the club for one year on "observation evidence." The club was not charged with selling or possessing liquor but with condoning drinking on the part of its guests. Prohibition agents testified that open drinking was not interfered with by the management.

Deputy Prohibition Administrator F. D. Silloway said yesterday that the raid Saturday night presaged similar action against the Samovar. The café was not searched but agents took the names of guests who had been drinking.

MOTHERS KEEP PUPILS HOME IN SCHOOL STRIKE

Thirty-two pupils, recently transferred from the Leslie Lewis to the Ella Flagg Young school, played truant yesterday with their parents' approval. The mothers of these children have prepared a protest against the transfer which they have placed in the hands of the ward committeeman for presentation for the board of education.

The Lewis school is at 1431 North Leamington avenue; the Ella Flagg Young school, at 1434 North Parkside avenue. School officials said the transfer was ordered to relieve congestion at the Lewis school and added that the Young school was one of the city's best. To this the mothers retorted that their children would remain at home until the order is rescinded.

"This is my first vacation in 26 years, and I am having a nice little rest seeing Europe," Mr. Crowe said.

Mr. Crowe's party today went sightseeing. The party was noticed last night at an exclusive night club, where Vienna's social leaders and famous musicians and artists gather after theater hours. The party includes Mr. and Mrs. Robert Levy, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Graydon and Miss Louise Meyers.

SEEK DOCTOR ON MURDER CHARGE AFTER GIRL DIES

Sweetheart Confesses to Aiding Operation.

A warrant for the arrest of Dr. J. A. Harter, 2517 West Marquette road, on a charge of murder was issued yesterday by Judge Samuel Heller in Stockyards court as a result of the death last Saturday night of Mary Strugnell, 16 years old, 454 West 26th street, in the county hospital. Dr. Harter could not be found last night at either his residence or his office at 1001 West 63d street. Vernon Keyser, 22 years old, 6220 South May street, was being held on charges of rape and accessory to murder.

Keyser was arrested after the girl's father, George W. Strugnell, a roofer with eight children, had told his story to police and to Judge Heller.

Met Youth a Year Ago.

"Keyser met my daughter a year ago," he said. "She was only 15 then and just out of grammar school, so my wife and I did all we could to discourage his attentions. He worked in his father's machine shop a few doors from our house, and used to stop and see Mary every night. Sometimes he took her out.

"A week ago my youngest boy, Raymond, 9 years old, was run over by a truck and his leg broken. Last Tuesday my wife and I went to the People's hospital to see him, leaving Mary alone. When we returned, Mary was gone."

What happened thereafter until Mary died Saturday night in the county hospital was told by young Keyser in a confession which the police say he signed at the Chicago Lawn station.

Tells of Operation.

"About three months ago Mary said she was in trouble and asked me to help her," Keyser told the police. "I didn't know what to do until a few weeks ago I met Dr. Harter, who said he would take care of the case for $150 if I brought Mary to his office.

"On Tuesday, when her parents were away, I took Mary to Dr. Harter's home. She was frightened and began to struggle, but the doctor's brother and I held her on a table while the operation was performed. Five hours later I took her to the home of a Mrs. Irma McMullen, 7037 Claremont avenue.

Mary's condition grew worse, the youth said, and, to divert suspicion from himself, he called each day at her home, asking whether she had returned. On Friday Dr. Harter said he could do no more for her and advised him to consult another physician, Keyser said. The second physican, Dr. J. A. Goodhart, 6409 South Kedzie avenue, ordered her removed to the county hospital, where she died. She declared she had performed the operation herself.

Keyser said that he prompted the girl's statement after Dr. Harter had advised him to persuade her to tell that story as "the simplest way out of it."

"Reach for a Lucky instead of a sweet."

"WHEN I climbed aboard the 'America' after those cold, strenuous hours getting the men off the freighter 'Florida,' there was nothing I wanted so much as a Lucky—'By George,' it tasted wonderful! A Lucky is always refreshing. My tense nerves relaxed, my aching throat was soothed and the whole thrilling adventure just seemed a part of the day's work. As time goes by, and I look back to that memorable night, I'll always remember the wonderful taste of that welcome Lucky. As I went around to visit the men we'd rescued, I found many of them enjoying Luckies, too. We really couldn't wait to get back to our ship and 'Luckies.' As an actual fact in returning to the 'America' I noticed one of our men* rowing with one hand and lighting a 'Lucky' with the other. There's no flavor to equal toasted tobaccos, and I always prefer Lucky Strikes. There's wisdom in the saying: 'Reach for a Lucky instead of a sweet.' It helps a man to keep physically fit and we who follow the sea must always be prepared for any emergency."

TALK OF 2 FOR STIMSON POST IN PHILIPPINES

Will Quit to Head State Dept., Experts Say.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 4.—[Special.]—Two men stand out for consideration by President Elect Hoover for the important post of governor general of the Philippine islands, which would become vacant with the resignation of Henry L. Stimson, who is believed to be slated for the state department portfolio. These men are Col. Blanton Winship, U. S. A. (retired), and Brig. Gen. Frank R. McCoy, who has just completed a special mission in Nicaragua.

Col. Winship is legal adviser to the governor general in Manila, having resigned from the army a year ago, while he was military aid to President Coolidge, to accept this post. He is supposed to have the backing of Mr. Stimson. He is a member of a distinguished Georgia family and is being groomed for the promotion by southern Republican leaders as a recognition of the south's part in the recent Republican victory.

Brig. Gen. McCoy went out to the Philippines in 1921 as a member of the Wood-Forbes commission and was the right hand man of Gen. Wood for years. He served under Gen. Pershing in the Philippine campaign and had a fine record in France.

Hoover Remains Silent.

The appointment of Mr. Stimson as secretary of state is taken here as the present intention of Mr. Hoover. The President Elect declined to comment in any way upon this report this morning. He has no intention of making any cabinet announcements or denials until he sends the list to the senate on March 4. Practically the same situation exists with regard to the appointment of Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, president of Stanford, as secretary of the interior. Dr. Wilbur is one of Mrs. Hoover's closest friends and he has taken a two year leave of absence from Stanford.

Senator Reed Smoot of Utah, who will have charge of the tariff legislation in the senate during the special session, arrived at Belle Isle today to spend several days as the guest of Mr. Hoover. He wants the special session called on April 1 instead of April 15 in order to finish the debates and get action by July 1. On farm relief legislation he said:

"I am in favor of giving the farmers everything they want, except price fixing. If 300 million dollars is insufficient for a revolving fund to stabilize surplus crops then give them 500 millions or whatever is necessary. We do not want any cause for complaint after congress has acted. It is extremely fortunate that Mr. Hoover knows precisely what he wants in the way of farm relief legislation. I expect that he will have something specific to offer to congress when the time comes."

See Liberal Tariff Increase.

On tariff revision the chariman of the senate finance committee said that he was confident that there will be a liberal increase in many schedules and that such an increase is required in order to continue prosperity. He thinks that any further cut in taxation in the near future is out of the question as the government is involved in many public undertakings requiring large sums.

Reorganization of the executive departments of the government will be one of the subjects to be discussed by Senator Smoot with Mr. Hoover. The Hoover idea is to spend money, but spend it efficiently.

The President elect plans two trips in Florida before he returns to Washington. The first will be next Monday to the home of Thomas A. Edison at Fort Meyers on the west coast to attend Mr. Edison's birthday dinner. On the 15th and 16th of this month, Mr. Hoover will inspect the Lake Okeechobee district which was the center of a flood disaster last year when 2,000 were reported drowned. Control of the flood area in this district is part of the federal project and Mr. Hoover wants to look it over as an engineer.

WISEACRES PICK THREE

Washington, D. C., Feb. 4.—[Special.]—Washington's unofficial cabinet makers have already decided on three members of President Elect Hoover's official family.

The latest name on which agreement appears general is that of Col. Henry L. Stimson, governor general of the Philippines, to be secretary of state to succeed Frank B. Kellogg. The other selections which Washington gossip considers certainties are: Secretary of the Treasury Andrew Mellon and Secretary of Agriculture William M. Jardine of Kansas.

The Stimson boom has been gathering momentum rapidly during the last week and Washington apparently has taken it for granted that the former secretary of war under President Taft will succeed Mr. Kellogg. In quarters where the selection was doubted it was pointed out that such an appointment would not be particularly acceptable to several of the South and Central American countries because of the colonel's activity in stopping the Nicaraguan revolution.

Stimson Refuses Comment.

MANILA, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Gov. Gen. Henry L. Stimson declined today to make any comment upon a dispatch from Washington stating that it was learned from "unquestioned sources" that Mr. Stimson had been offered and had accepted the post of secretary of state in the cabinet of President Elect Hoover.

DICTATOR FACES MUTINY AMONG SPANISH POLICE

Object to Chief Named to Crush Rebels.

BY HENRY WALES.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Feb. 4.—News running the gauntlet of the censorship across the Spanish frontier at San Sebastian says Dictator Primo de Rivera faces the menace of a revolt by the corps of civilian guards. He also fears national police may join the army rebels who have engaged in two attempts within a week to overthrow him.

The disaffection of the gendarmerie prompted Premier de Rivera to obtain King Alfonso's approval of a decree recognizing civilian bodies like the Somaten and the Patriotic union, volunteer military organizations, pledged to the dictator, to act as armed vigilantes throughout the country.

Despite the seriousness of the crisis, however, the Danish king and queen, who were here today incognito, received a telegram from Madrid advising them that everything was safe for them to make their scheduled visit to the Spanish royal family. They leave for Madrid tomorrow.

Object to New Commander.

The national gendarmerie of Spain is dissatisfied because Premier de Rivera named Gen. Jose Sanjurjo to command them after the outbreak Saturday at Valencia. There is a sullen anger among the civilian guards because the dictator imprisoned their leader at Ciudad Real when he failed to take forceful measures to smash the revolution among the artillery men there a week ago.

Numerous officers and men among the rebel forces in western Spain have deserted and fled across the border into Portugal. Among these are the scions of some of the leading families in Spain.

OUST YOUNG SOLDIERS

BY ROBERT SAGE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
[Copyright: 1929: By The Chicago Tribune.]

MADRID, Feb. 4.—[By telephone to Paris.]—The ministry of the army tonight announced that a royal decree which orders an immediate vacation of four months for all the youths comprised in the 1927 class now undergoing military training. This is expected to rid the country's garrisons of the discordant element until the present situation is cleared up.

Gen. Gil Yuste today assumed command of the Valencia garrison, replacing Gen. Castro Gerona, who has arrived at the capital to give Gen. Primo de Rivera his version of what happened last week after the outbreak at Ciudad Real and the arrival of former Premier Sanchez Guerra, who quit his exile in France to lead the revolt.

Persistent rumors assert that a rebellious feeling is also pervading the Spanish navy and there were several outbreaks on various warships, but no details can be obtained. The directorate government and the dictator are plainly worried over the situation and are taking every precaution to safeguard the régime. However, Premier de Rivera assured King Alfonso that the revolt was ended and all malcontents were in hand.

Sought Abdication of King.

TOULOUSE, France, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Abdication of King Alfonso of Spain was one of the objects sought by the political plotters in that country, said a prominent Spaniard who was interviewed by the Associated Press today. He is a political opponent of Gen. Primo de Rivera, and he said that the upheaval was intended to oust both the monarch and the dictator. He had just arrived from Valencia.

The political coalition behind the movement was described as embracing considerable sections of the infantry and artillery corps of the army, and it included Republicans, Monarchists, Socialists, and Catalonian autonomists. The plotters felt that King Alfonso had violated his oath and that Gen. Primo de Rivera was leading the country to ruin. They intended to establish a constitutional government, he said.

Reports Wholesale Arrests.

The visitor reported that wholesale arrests had been made in Barcelona, Madrid, Bilboa, Seville, San Sebastian, Saragossa, and Cuidad Real. He said that Valencia was under a reign of terror; that any citizen denounced by a member of the Patriots' union as even suspected of infidelity to the dictatorship was imprisoned without the slightest formality. All newspapers have been suppressed or else requisitioned and put at the service of the dictatorship.

Heads Smashed as Rival Austrian "Armies" Battle

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VIENNA, Feb. 4.—Several heads were smashed and two persons so seriously injured that they may not survive during a free for all battle today between members of the Socialist and Fascist "armies" at Gloggnitz, 50 miles south of Vienna. The fight started at the town hall during Herr Puechler's speech against the Heimwehr, Fascist military group. Members of the Heimwehr were present and resented the Socialist's remarks. They charged the platform, using tables and chairs as weapons.

declared for the purpose of influencing the stockholders in his favor and helping him win the fight.

Former Statement Recalled.

Those who remembered the colonel's statements told Mr. Stephens the colonel had expressed indignation when he was asked about the possibility, that he had said "it was unthinkable" from an ethical standpoint. Mr. Stephens then issued the following explanation:

"For voting purposes the books of the company close tomorrow, Feb. 5. Today was the regular meeting of the board of directors for the declaration of dividends. The announcement of this dividend, made this afternoon, makes it practically impossible to have any stock transferred on the books of the company in time to change the owner for the purpose of voting.

"Our surplus on hand is upward of $228,000,000. The prospects for the future were such that the directors thought a stock dividend should be declared and the prospects for future earnings would justify their action today. The action of the board of directors is entirely in the normal course of business, and in no manner influenced by the present proxy fight."

The proxy battle between the younger Rockefeller and Stewart started shortly after Jan. 1, when the former sent his proxy forms to all the stockholders of the company. The forms were sent several weeks before the normal date for such procedure. When the Stewart forces discovered John D. Jr. had opened a battle to oust the colonel in the stockholders meeting, Col. Stewart issued his statement accepting the challenge. And the Stewart proxies much different in style and form were sent out to the stockholders.

A Mixup in Proxies.

There ensued something of a mixup. Some stockholders who had signed Rockefeller proxies believing them to be the regular ones they had received annually for several years, signed them and sent them off. When they got Col. Stewart's proxies and read some newspaper accounts they discovered a fight was on and wished to change thier proxies.

The Stewart forces saw to it they were informed that the legal proxy is the one which post-dates all others.

It is pointed out as a probability that most of the 58,000 stockholders now are informed that if they have made a proxy and change their minds, all they need do is make another. And it is believed that both camps now hold proxies on which they can't count, inasmuch as there are post-dated proxies in the opposing camp. Thus it is expected that the issue of the battle will not be determined until the proxies are counted at the meeting which will be called to order at noon, March 7.

All proxies must be in by March 4, three days before the meeting. The proxies must be counted legally by the secretary of the company, in charge of a number of tellers.

Then they delivered the couple back at their residence, 4357 Oakenwald avenue, announced they would later rob all the other Walgreen stores, and drove away, doffing their hats.

BOOTH TO PRESS BATTLE TO RULE SALVATION ARMY

LONDON, Feb. 4.—(AP)—"The legal side of this situation has not ended," was the word which came tonight from the private office of Catherine Booth, daughter of Gen. Bramwell Booth, and herself a member of the high council of the Salvation Army. The announcement was made by Miss Booth's secretary, Ensign Jackson, who said Miss Booth had been advised by her solicitors not to discuss the army affairs because of that fact.

The intention of the Gen. Booth faction to go to court again if the high council once more votes to depose him became known while the council was in an informal session discussing a definite offer of mediation made by Lord Davidson, retired archbishop of Canterbury. The council also talked over the situation created by Gen. Booth's sudden trip to London on the eve of preparations by his legal advisers to open a way for a renewal of the court fight.

It was understood that the solicitors were planning to test the validity of the 1904 deed poll under which the council has been acting. This question was raised in the first injunction suit but did not come to adjudication at that time because Wilfrid A. Greene of the Booth counsel said in court that he did not feel justified in pursuing that point.

No word came from Gen. Booth's residence at Hadley Wood as to the attitude of him or his family on the peace offer from Lord Davidson. At the international headquarters, however, it was said that with all due respect for and appreciation of the venerable retired prelate's desire to help, the present dispute was considered a family affair and, as such, called for internal settlement. Therefore, intervention by the Anglican dignitary would not be welcome.

Navy Planes Fly Over Islands Swept by Fire

Sound, uncrowded teeth a strong, sturdy frame

the time to build these is during the early years of life

This warning is being broadcast to mothers by physicians everywhere. "Do you know there is danger that your baby will not have the finely-shaped head you want him to have, the full chest, straight legs, and sound, uncrowded teeth that will not decay easily?

"He must have special protection against the danger of soft, porous bones and poor teeth. Even the breast-fed baby must have it."

Nature provides two plentiful sources of this protective factor, Vitamin D. Sunshine and good cod-liver oil!

Direct sunshine would keep your baby safe, if he could get enough of it on his bare body. But this is not possible on account of clothing, clouds, fog and smoke. Even ordinary window glass filters out the rays that protect.

The use of Bottled Sunshine—good cod-liver oil—then, is urged as the surest protection.

The country's leading specialists advise the use of Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil. They prefer it because they know they can depend on its rich vitamin content.

Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil is very rich in Vitamin D, the "sunshine vitamin" which helps to build good bones and teeth, and also in Vitamin A which promotes normal growth and increases resistance to infections.

When you choose Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil, you are using a vitamin-tested, vitamin-protected oil. Be sure to insist on Squibb's. At all reliable drug stores. Plain and Mint-flavored.

Investigators find Steady Nerves reason for Tareyton's quick sales climb

ANSWERS HUNDREDS OF QUESTIONS DAILY—How would you like to have a job like this . . . answering questions all day long? Picture shows Severyn Zborowski, Chief Information Clerk at Grand Central Station, New York . . . and he's a typical Tareyton smoker all right. When our investigator asked him about cigarettes he said, "Your nerves have to be steady when you are working at the Information Desk. Answering questions takes a lot of energy. Watching the number of cigarettes I smoke a day would get my goat. So I smoke Tareytons—I can use two packs a day and never feel it."

Thousands say switch to Tareytons keeps nerves in fit condition

"We smoke all we want without feeling it," they report

THE VERDICT is in!

They combed the nation. Talked to thousands in crowded stores.

What kind of people? What kind of work? What big reason's behind this great swing toward Tareytons?

Bankers, brokers, brakemen . . . all agree! Chicago, Cleveland, Cincinnati . . . all tell the same story.

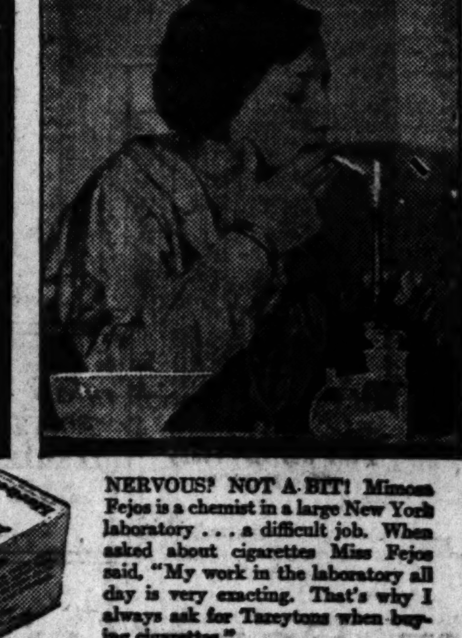
In the hustle and bustle of present-day life . . . "Steady Nerves" are vital. "Stick to Tareytons if you want nerves in sound condition."

That's the reason for Tareyton's quick-gaining popularity.

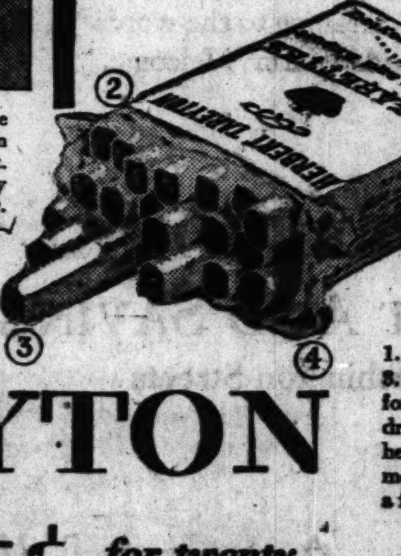
People find they can smoke two and three packs a day . . . and still keep nerves fit for exacting jobs.

Just switch to Tareytons for 7 days. Smoke as many as you want . . . but smoke nothing else.

And after 7 days see if you don't notice a difference in the way you feel. Steady nerves!



NERVOUS? NOT A BIT! Mimosa Fejos is a chemist in a large New York laboratory . . . a difficult job. When asked about cigarettes Miss Fejos said, "My work in the laboratory all day is very exacting. That's why I always ask for Tareytons when buying cigarettes."



1. Humidor Package. 2. Heavy Foil. 3. Quality Tobaccos. 4. Sealed Perforated Top. That's why there's no dryness . . . no crushing. The extra heavy foil used in Tareyton's famous humidor package assures you a fresh full-flavored smoke.

FIND MAN SLAIN IN SALOON; LABOR DISPUTE BLAMED

Gunmen Shoot Down Union Leader at Bar.

Persuaded that two eye-witnesses were telling the truth, the Racine avenue police last night ascribed the killing of William Cantwell, 38 years old, 5239 Hirsch street, to dissension within the ranks of the Sheet Metal Workers' union.

Cantwell was shot six times Sunday night in the saloon of James W. Close at 1842 West Grand avenue. His body was discovered fifteen hours later when the bartender, John Tobin, 1900 West Huron street, came to the saloon door to open up for business.

Bartender Tells of Killing.

Tobin, under questioning, gave a description of the shooting which police found plausible. Cantwell, he said, was drinking at the bar when a pair of gunmen walked in, stepped to either side of their victim, and opened fire.

Tobin ducked out the door and did not return until yesterday noon. His story was corroborated by Ernest Post, 517 West Madison street, who was in the saloon playing tunes on a mouth organ for drinks when the gunmen walked in. Post, too, fled at the shots, but was winged by a bullet in the shoulder as he dodged out the door.

Goes to Hospital.

An hour later he appeared at the Grant hospital asking that his wound be dressed and explaining he had been shot in a saloon "somewhere in the 1800 block on Grand avenue." The police commander of the district ordered a canvass of saloons in the block and finally posted the detail at Close's locked saloon.

In the dead man's wallet was a membership card in the sheet metal workers' union and on his coat a star of a city furnace inspector. From other members of the union it was learned that Cantwell had recently announced himself a candidate for office in the organization.

RUM CLUB FOR SCHOOL BOYS, GIRLS RAIDED

Bakersfield, Cal., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Thirty-five boys and girls of high school age, many of them sons and daughters of prominent families, were brought into Juvenile court here today and then sent before the grand jury as a result of a sensational raid on a "juvenile night club."

Superior Judge Erwin W. Owen and Probation Officer C. M. Johnson said that liquor was being sold at the "club" and that the walls of the building bore writing and drawings indescribably obscene, and that the meeting place of the young people "cloaked many actions which would not have found sanction from their parents."

TWO CONFESS PLOT TO BOMB REALTOR'S HOME

A plot to bomb the home of Kurt Kroeber, a real estate dealer at 8144 Blackstone avenue, was admitted yesterday to Assistant State's Attorney Charles J. Mueller by two of four men held by the police. The two men who testified declared that Walter E. Keiley, 4143 Broadway, vice president of the Construction Bond corporation, 160 North La Salle street, offered $50 to have the bomb thrown.

Keiley told James Giono, a drug clerk in a store at 4200 Broadway, that he wanted "a little job" done, according to Giono's statement. Giono introduced Anthony Di Giovanni, 843 Gilpin place, to Keiley. Di Giovanni said that Keiley told him to place a bomb at Kroeber's home, saying: "I don't want to kill him. I just want you to throw a scare into him."

Di Giovanni was on his way to the Kroeber home in the automobile of Tony Venuti of East Chicago when the two were captured and a home made bomb discovered. Kroeber told police that he had recently dissolved a partnership with Keiley after a business dispute.

Keiley refused to talk. A writ of habeas corpus for his release was set for hearing this morning.

EATING AT HOME

is the average man's idea of the best place in the world to eat. Of course he's right. The reason—or one of them—is that at home his likes and dislikes are carefully taken care of.

This faculty of making food taste just the way people who like good food want it to taste is what makes Stevens Building Restaurant home to hundreds at meal time. They get not only what is good for them, but what they like, too.

There is always enough, always variety and the price being fixed (and very moderate) they may indulge to suit their fancy, without changing the size of the check.

ALDERMEN ASK WHY BANKERS ARE TIGHT WITH CITY

Decide to Call Financiers on the Carpet.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The city council finance committee has decided to investigate the Chicago bankers to ascertain why they hesitate to lend the city and school board cash for current expenses.

"Chicago bankers take the city's cash, which I am told now totals around $80.000,000, and pay us 2 and 2½ per cent interest," said Ald. Joseph B. McDonough [13th]. "Then the banks, I am informed, have declined to lend the city any money on its tax anticipation warrants, even at 6 per cent. They have also refused to lend the school board any money. But these same bankers lend the city's $60,000,000 at from 6 to 9 per cent. Perhaps they are trying to discredit this city administration and the city council. I think they should be brought to time by the city taking its millions out of the banks and buying government bonds."

To make the inquiry Chairman John S. Clark [30th] of the finance committee appointed Ald. McDonough, Jacob M. Arvey [24th], E. I. Frankhauser [49th], J. B. Bowler [25th] and Terence F. Moran [16th]. They will meet this afternoon with the city controller and later ask the leading bankers to appear and make statements.

Heavy Loans Made.

The McDonough statement gave one view of the situation. Another is that the floating debt of the school board and the city corporate fund, as represented by tax anticipation warrants, is the largest in Chicago's history. An aggregate of $93,765,000 in tax warrants has been ordered issued by the two tax expending bodies. The Chicago banks have loaned the city proper $17,000,000 and the school board $23,750,000 on tax warrants of last year. The city has loaned itself from its surplus funds $20,965,000 and the school board $11,350,000, also on last year's warrants.

This year to date the city corporate fund has borrowed $15,000,000 from the Guaranty Trust company of New York and has loaned the board of education $5,700,000 from the city's surplus funds.

How Banks View Situation.

While no authoritative statement has been issued from any bank, it is understood that the Chicago bankers have three reasons for turning down loans on tax warrants. First they are "fed up" on the $40,750,000 outstanding from last year. Second, the revaluation of real estate for taxing purposes makes it uncertain when the taxes will be collected. Third, some of the banks have received legal advice that there is some question about tax warrants because of the cancellation of the tax rolls prior to the revaluation.

First Assistant Corporation Counsel Breen told the finance committee: "There is no question whatever about the legality of the city's or school board's tax warrants."

At that moment President Caldwell of the board of education was before the finance committee asking that the city lend its surplus funds to the school board. This board, which is facing an estimated 1929 deficit of $13,000,000, is prohibited from paying more than 5 per cent interest on tax warrants and is required to sell them at par.

What the Schools Need.

Assistant Corporation Counsel Breen advised the committee to permit the board to advertise for bids, under which condition he claimed the board has the legal power to sell its warrants below par.

"I won't stand for that, except as a last resort to keep the schools open," commented Ald. Arvey. "What do you need cash for?"

"The teachers' salaries on Feb. 8 require $1,700,000," replied President Caldwell. "We must have $100,000 for evening school teachers salaries on Feb. 15, $400,000 for civil service employés on that same day, $400,000 more on salaries on Feb. 28, another pay day of $400,000 comes on March 1 and on March 8, we need $3,400,000 for teachers' pay. The coal dealers have notified us they cannot deliver more coal without cash. We need $400,000 so they will continue their deliveries."

Instead of permitting the board to advertise for bids, the committee recommended a loan of $4,000,000 from the city's surplus funds at 5 per cent and the city council approved it.

The city borrowed money from the banks last year on tax warrants at 4¾ to 5 per cent. For the $15,000,000 the city obtained this year from New York the interest rate was 5.72 per cent.

Aldermen Appear Indignant.

The aldermen displayed indignation over the bank situation yesterday.

"The banks appear to have a league of their own," said Ald. McDonough at one time. "If you ask for bids on warrants, 50 or 75 reply, but all with the same interest rate."

"We ought to break up the combination," suggested Ald. Arvey.

"These silk hat financiers," said Ald. Govier, "have been meddling in a solution of the transit problem so that they can retain car money at low rates, in their banks. If a poor man ran the racket of the bankers he would be hauled over before the grand jury."

"The Chicago bankers have a lot of nerve to take the city's money at 2 and 2½ per cent and then refuse to loan the city money at 6 per cent," commented Ald. James B. Bowler.

U. S. MARINE HERO CAPTURES CHIEF OF SANDINO BAND

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Feb. 4.—First Lieut. Herman Henry Hanneken of the U. S. Marine corps, who in 1919 was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor for the leading part he played in the elimination of the notorious Haitian bandit, Charlemange, has again distinguished himself less than one month after his arrival here by the capture of Gen. Manuel Maria Jiron, one of Augusto Sandino's most trusted rebel leaders.

Lieut. Hanneken, whose home is in Missouri, reported for duty less than a month ago. He arrived aboard the transport St. Mihiel and was assigned immediately to the northern area for duty with the Eleventh regiment.

The feat which won Lieut. Hanneken the Congressional Medal was one of the most sensational performed in marine corps history. Disguised as a Haitian, he passed through several lines of sentries and finally succeeded in reaching the stronghold of the bandit chieftain. The passing of Charlemange broke the backbone of banditry in Haiti.

Enlisted in 1914.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Lieut. Herman H. Hanneken enlisted in the marine corps in St. Louis in 1914 and was commissioned in 1920 while on duty in Haiti. He is 36 years of age. His mother, Mrs. Helen H. Hanneken, lives at 839 Allen avenue, St. Louis, Mo.

VOICE TEACHER SUES HEMPEL; ASKS $50,000

New York, Feb. 4.—[Special.]—Frieda Hempel, opera and concert singer, who for several years played the role of plaintiff in a suit for nearly $1,000,000 against August Heckscher, realty owner and philanthropist, for breach of an agreement to pay her $48,000 a year for life, is now cast as defendant in an action for $50,000 brought by Johannes Adler, former Berlin voice teacher, also for breach of an agreement, it was learned today.

Prof. Adler asserts that the voice of Mme. Hempel had been failing her and that on account of her gratitude because he rejuvenated her singing powers, she promised to supply him with pupils in New York.

HUNT FOR MISSING GIRL BROADENS; COAT NEW CLEW

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 4.—[Special.]—The quest for 10 year old Edith May Dierdorf, missing from Terre Haute since Jan. 27, was broadened to include central Indiana tonight.

A bloodstained coat, tallying to the description of the one worn by Edith May, was found in the Three Notch road, south of Indianapolis.

A scarf also was found near the coat. The coat was dark gray with fur trimmings. Relatives said the coat resembled the missing child's garment.

Saturated with chloroform, the coat was found by Hubert Rivers, driver of a school bus. The coat was turned over to the principal of the Bargersville school, who notified Indianapolis police.

RUSSIA AND ALL NEIGHBORS TO SIT AT PEACE PARLEY

WARSAW, Feb. 4.—(AP)—For the first time in the history of the union of Socialist Soviet Republics, Russia and all her western neighbors from the gulf of Finland to the Black sea are to sit at a council table. This will take place on Feb. 7, in Moscow when representatives of Russia, Poland, Roumania, Esthonia, Latvia, and Lithuania are to sign a protocol for immediate enforcement of the Kellogg anti-war pact between those countries.

Stanislas Patek, Polish minister to Russia, gave formal notice of the readiness of Poland and Roumania to sign when he visited M. Litvinoff, assistant commissar for foreign affairs, at Moscow today. M. Patek will sign for Poland, while Roumania will send a special delegate.

The fact that Lithuania will join the other states did not become known here until this morning. Advices from Kovno did not reveal just why Premier Waldemaras' government had changed its stand.

DORSEY R. CROWE FACES FIGHT FOR 42D WARD SEAT

Two Democrats Withdraw to Back Prendergast.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Insurrection among the 42d ward Democrats against Ald. Dorsey R. Crowe blazed up last night on the near north side. Joseph P. Broderick and Michael McCue, two Democrats, withdrew as candidates for alderman, announcing they would support Richard Prendergast, Ald. Crowe's leading opponent, in a nonpartisan campaign to "clean up the ward." Their withdrawals were declared to be part of an extensive movement.

In olden days, Prendergast's new allies pointed out, the 42d used to elect some of the strongest leaders in the city council. They argued that, what with the changing complexion of the ward, which used to be the great boarding house sector, and the shooting up of skyscraper apartment houses and hotels in Streeterville and along the near Gold Coast. the time has struck for a renaissance.

How Groups are Divided.

The Prendergast forces, which have a law and order platform, reported that political unrest is so stirred up that they expect this time to carry even Representative Lawrence C. O'Brien's precinct against Ald. Crowe.

The dispersion of the factional groups is rather complicated. Ald. Crowe has the old line Democrats, now splitting apart. Mr. Prendergast has support from independents and the Deneen Republican group. The Thompson Republican group has indorsed Cornelius R. Palmer, a lawyer who was at Notre Dame eight years and later taught economics and political science at the University of Colorado.

The Prendergast managers say that at the last moment the Thompson group will swing its support from Palmer to Ald. Crowe. They charge that Charles E. Peace, the Thompson ward committeeman, is trying to utilize Lincoln park patronage against Prendergast.

"It's no secret," said Mr. Prendergast, "that for years there has been a bi-partisan combination in existence by which Charles Peace, the committeeman, and Charles Agnew, Mayor Thompson's harbor master, have worked harmoniously with the Democratic leaders."

Deny Thompson Support.

Ald Crowe's managers point to his anti-Thompson voting record in the city council on which the M. V. L. commented and say the city hall is after his scalp.

"It's nonsense to say the Thompson camp is backing Mr. Palmer as a straw man to be knocked over in my favor," said Ald. Crowe. "The whole Thompson-Small organization can be expected to go down the line for him."

Three other candidates in other wards pulled out of the running. In the 43d, the withdrawal of Mathias A. Wagner and Michael H. Wolf, left four candidates, the two chief contenders being Ald. Titus Haffa and ex-Ald. Arthur Albert.

In the 18th, James L. Brogan withdrew, leaving Ald. Patrick F. Ryan with four opponents.

Three Youths Confess Robbing 90 Taxi Drivers

Three Negroes arrested in the act of robbing a taxicab driver, confessed last night at the Wabash avenue police station to having committed more than 90 taxicab robberies in the last six weeks. The prisoners are Henry Baumgarten, 25 years old, Roy Hamilton, 18 years old, both of 4646 Prairie avenue, and Frank Enloe, 19 years old, 4727 Prairie avenue.

ROBS GIRL IN HOSIERY STORE.

Ald. William R. O'Toole [14th] was host last night to 7,000 residents of his ward at a dance and reception which he gave at the Trianon ballroom. A number of public officials, the speakers of the evening, praised Ald. O'Toole's record in the city council and added their endorsement to that of the ward organization.

Ald. O'Toole, who is chairman of the council committee on buildings and zoning, led the fight to obtain an increase in the police force. His resolution, requesting the addition of 1,000 patrolman in 1929 and an eventual increase of 5,400 by the end of 1933, brought the police situation to the attention of the public and resulted in 750 additional men being authorized this year.

Chief Justice John J. Sullivan of the Criminal court, Sheriff John E, Traeger, ex-City Clerk Al Gorman, State Representative James T. Boyle, and State Senator Frank McDermott were among the evening's guests.

Identify Two Pals of Robber Slain in Holdup

At an inquest yesterday into the death of James Laungaro, 26 years old, killed in the holdup of Nick Svalina's grocery store, 2844 South Wells street, by Svalina's cousin, Nick Bravich, 2843 South Wells street, on Saturday, Ralph Madia, 21 years old, and his brother James, 22 years old, were definitely identified as Laungaro's two companions in the robbery. They were arrested Saturday night at their home, 3018 Princeton avenue, by Sergt. William J. Brown of the detective bureau. Ralph, police said, has also been identified as a participant in the robbery of the Krulewich Loan bank, 1122 South Halsted street, Dec. 7, of $2,500.

Hunt Burglar with Old Shoes the Only Clew

Armed with a pair of battered, down at heel shoes, Sergt. Frank Steinke of the West North avenue police station was searching last night for a burglar who dived through the window of a bungalow at 1308 North Claremont avenue and escaped when the owners, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kanopka, returned home unexpectedly. In his hurry, the burglar forgot his shoes.

YOUNG WIFE ASKS DIVORCE; BLAMES STEPDAUGHTER

Miss Mary Van Arsdel, about 25 years old, introduced her father, Eddy C. Van Arsdel, 61 years old, editor of "Grain World," to her chum, a divorceé of her own age. That was two years ago. There was a Crown Point marriage and yesterday Mrs. Hildreth Van Arsdel, 6017 Kenmore avenue, filed a bill for separate maintenance, blaming her ex-chum and present step-daughter, Mary, for the domestic strife.

Mary and Hildreth were close and intimate friends for some time before Mr. Van Arsdel figured in the relationship, according to the bill, which was drawn by the law firm of Socrates and Davis. They spent a great deal of time together and, at a social function, Mary presented her father, who was a widower.

Chum Encourages Friendship.

After this introduction, the pleading relates, father, daughter and her girl chum were thrown into each other's society frequently and Mary seemed to welcome and encourage the growing friendship between her father and the divorceé.

After the wedding, Hildreth "took up her duties as a wife in the household of the defendant at 9847 Prospect avenue, quoting from the bill Immediately thereafter, the friendship between Mary and Hildreth was strained by the relationship of step-daughter and step-mother, it is alleged.

Later, Miss Van Arsdel became openly belligerent toward the new Mrs. Van Arsdel, the pleading recites, and was fault-finding and critical. For some time: Mr. Van Arsdel sympathized with his bride in these family quarrels and sought to pacify his daughter.

Refuses to Leave Daughter.

The young wife several times asked her husband of more than twice her age either to move with her to another house or to request his daughter to move, the bill sets up. He rejected her proposals.

Then Mr. Van Arsdel changed his attitude and took the side of his daughter against his bride, it is alleged. Father and daughter, acting together, caused the wife "untold mental suffering and anguish," Mrs. Van Arsdel complains. Constant bickering and maltreatment wrecked her health, she alleges, forcing her, on the advice of her physician, to leave her husband and retire to a sanitarium on Jan. 27, 1929.

THE FOURTH BRANCH OF NATIONAL GOVERNMENT.

It is already apparent that the moral and clerical lobbies in Washington intend to assert that Mr. Hoover is under peculiar obligations to them, which must be repaid in administrative acts. They regard or profess to regard the election as a church contest which they won. This view may not be pleasing to the President Elect, but he will need to exert himself to resist the pressure of it. He was not satisfactory to the Anti-Saloon league as a candidate for the nomination, but that does not prevent the assertion now of a proprietary interest.

The Rev. Ernest True Wilson, secretary of the board of temperance, prohibition and control, says that the administration must not permit any federal officers to violate the Volstead law. They must keep themselves personally innocent of wrongdoing. All persons having place in any branch of government must indulge themselves only in legal beverages. Mr. Hoover is advised that the religious lobbies interpret the prohibition resolution of the Republican platform to mean "that the President and the first lady of the land will not serve contraband goods in the White House, and thus by the example of our first home set the law at defiance."

Mr. Hoover might ask to be spared the impertinence of that finger shaking. The White House of recent years has been one of the few places in Washington where liquor is neither kept nor stored. Mr. Coolidge made it a rule that the eighteenth amendment applied to the President and his household. It gives the presidential residence a new distinction in the national capital.

Nothing in Mr. Hoover's career to date would indicate that he ever enjoyed interference without authority in work in which he was engaged. He may be able to make good his independence. Mr. Coolidge is not a man who would be expected to yield or to have his acts influenced, but as his administration comes to an end he indicates that he has been at least under considerable strain.

Only within the last two or three weeks has congress revealed anything like opposition to the demands of the lobbies. The senate showed resistance in the matter of the cruisers and the house on the question of prohibition appropriations. The issue is whether the United States has three branches of government or four, and whether the fourth is on top.

BABES IN THE POLITICAL WOODS.

Because of the manner in which the affairs of the sanitary district have been conducted of recent years, a movement is under way to "take the district out of politics" by making the trustees appointees of the governor.

Perhaps it was inevitable that the disclosures of corruption should be followed by some such suggestion. Perhaps there must always be some one sufficiently naive to believe that cutting the pack will assure an honest deal. Still, with the memory of a recent state administration, its commerce commission and its pardonings, to say no more, still fragrant, the proposal deserves special consideration in any treatise on the will to believe.

It is interesting to recall that the voters of Chicago who contributed heavily to the defeat of Small also drove from office sanitary trustees whose acts are now under investigation. The present sanitary board might be a good deal worse; it is probably the equal in ability and integrity of any board which all but one in a dozen governors would appoint. And if it squanders any money, the voters of the district will have only themselves to blame.

FARM TARIFFS.

Prof. John D. Black discussed tariff revision the other day with the members of the Illinois Agricultural association in convention at Danville. Among other matters he warned farmers against famine prices brought about through ill considered changes in present schedules.

Agriculture should have tariff protection equal to that accorded any other industry. An unprotected or ill protected industry in the midst of a sea of protected industries is likely to be submerged. Many farm leaders believe that tariff revision alone is all that is needed to reëstablish farm prosperity, and in support of their position they point to the present prosperity of the cattle industry, which results in part, at least, from the embargo on South American beef. This embargo is based upon the existence of foot and mouth disease in the Argentine, but its effect is that of a tariff high enough to keep foreign competition out of the market.

The value of higher tariffs to many farmers may be admitted without weakening the force of Prof. Black's warning. He said that the farmers are themselves consumers of the products of other farmers and that they might therefore be called upon to pay their full share of the advanced prices of such commodities as sugar.

The farmers must also bear in mind the fact that their principal market is the American city. As they weaken the purchasing power of the city by exacting famine prices, in Prof. Black's phrase, for one farm commodity, they inevitably reduce purchasing power for all other farm commodities.

The situation calls for upward revision in general, no doubt, but the changes should be made only after careful consideration of consequences. Farming is not one industry, like the manufacture of bath tubs, but many and highly diverse industries.

The production and marketing of beef, pecans, and cheese have relatively little in common. A blanket increase in the tariff, spread indiscriminately over all agricultural products, might prove of doubtful benefit even to those whom it is intended to assist.

THE NEBRASKA SAGE ON THE NAVY.

Senator Norris in the debate on the cruiser bill said:

"It seems to me that we ought to set before the world an example of our desire for world peace. Somebody ought to do it and stop this interminable race for naval supremacy. We are better equipped than any other nation of the world to do it."

The senator assumes that the desire for peace is in inverse proportion to the size of the navy. This has not been proved and cannot be proved. So far as this country is concerned, it has seldom, if ever, gone to war when its preparation for war was anything like adequate. On the contrary, we avoided war with France in Mexico, and perhaps with Great Britain as well, immediately after the civil war, at a time when we were well prepared to fight.

Mr. Norris' desire to have us take the lead in disarmament is a bit tardy. We did take the lead in the Washington conference, and we have been leading ever since by failing to maintain our ratio with Britain and Japan. The effects of that policy are now plainly discernible. Our lead has not been followed, and there is no reason to believe it will be.

The statement that we are better equipped than any other nation in the world to lead in disarmament, if it means anything at all, means that we enjoy the highest standard of living in the world and can survive blockade by a strong naval power longer than would other nations. The prospect may delight the senator from Nebraska, but the majority of the American people are not masochists.

The only nation in recent times which has ever succeeded in leading the world toward so-called disarmament has been the United States, and the only time this nation's leadership in this matter has been followed was at the moment when our greatest naval construction program was in full swing.

MOTOR MAKERS AND MOTOR ROUTES.

Charles W. Nash told the members of the Nash dealers' organization that the future of the automotive industries is limited by the lack of adequate progress in highway development. Consequently he urged his distributors to promote road planning and road building. Mr. Nash was looking to the public good as well as to private gain in his analysis. The prosperity of the automobile industry has become an essential in the prosperity of the country. Mr. Nash sees the larger factors, conditioning the prosperity of his business, and his remarks earned space outside the columns devoted to routine motor news.

Especially was Mr. Nash concerned with traffic facilities in metropolitan districts. Under present conditions and under future conditions, unless new traffic systems are adopted, the great volume of motors will not be able to circulate in the cities; they will lose their usefulness and enjoyment for the city driver, and without easy movement at the terminals they will not be suitable for touring. To those using congested streets at congested hours in Chicago Mr. Nash's remarks will not occur so much as a prediction as an analysis of the existing situation.

Two level highways in metropolitan centers is the Nash solution. It is not original, but it is important that his views agree with those of the most progressive highway planners today. Within twenty years a predicted fifty million automobiles in the United States will require facilities for movement which cannot be acquired by improvident planning. The separation of traffic in the city with two level motorways, in the country with grade crossing elevations and subways at highway intersections, is a principle upon which roads must be constructed unless the production and progress of the automobile industry is to be restricted and the usefulness of the motor car seriously curtailed.

POVERTIES.

[Baltimore Sun.]

The prince of Wales has been a great traveler. But when has he seen in any of his traveling, in India, Canada, America, or Africa, such things as he saw on Tuesday in the north of his own England?

He saw poverty, a ruinous poverty, laying its blight upon hearts and homes together. The prince saw —"empty grates" . . . "bloodless faces" . . . "feet blue with cold" . . . "children and men shivering in the wintry blast." But did the prince, seeing it, feel too the presence of other poverties, as deep, as real as this? They were there.

There was the poverty of man's resources in a fight against conditions which, willy-nilly, he has brought to be and which have betrayed him. The change in the economic system, the "progress" that has substituted for coal other forms of power. And the war in which the miners, capital soldiers, fought a good fight to make Britain safe. They had a hand in winning a victory and reparations, which are victory's fruit. Germany, paying reparations, wages a new war and undersells the sturdy English miners' product in their old markets. "Progress" is unkind and triumph is cruel, and man caught between them knows his poverty not alone of material things but of freedom and actual mastery of his own life.

And there was the poverty of the prince himself, symbol of state, symbol of England. A great nation does not easily see its people suffer so. What then shall it do beyond providing "relief" and burdening itself with doles that solve nothing? What can it do? The prince says to a girl whose mother is dead, midst fearful want, "Cheer up." What else? The prince does not know. In something like despair, it seems, he can only ask a question himself: "Can't we do something for this poor fellow?" The prince, the state, are really very poor. An there was yet still another kind of poverty brought out on this royal trip.

That was the poverty of England's description of its poverty. The Express "will say" of this trip, so the cable tells us, that the royal tourist wore two overcoats; that it was a bad day, raw and foggy; that it must have been with difficulty "he mustered up his own spirits." All of this seemed important to the Express, in the very midst of a people's multiplied sorrow.

IS THE APPETITE A SAFE GUIDE ON FOOD?

IS appetite a safe guide in choosing food?

This is one of the eight nutrition and growth subjects debated by the pupils of the Harding Junior High school of Oklahoma City. The record does not show which side won. The side which should have won was the negative. Under the living conditions of the day appetite is not a dependable guide in the choosing of food. Our appetites are not natural. Our tastes have been trained to demand excesses of condiments such as sugars, sauces and spices, just as a drunkard finds that water tastes flat. Our lives are artificial and our foods are not natural. Appetite must be guided largely by science and knowledge to become a safe guide for us.

The other seven questions debated were:

Which is more important in choosing foods, quality or quantity?

[If they took a vote of the students on this the hungry voted for quantity and the esthetic for quality.]

Upon what depends the amount of food required?

What is the cost of a lunch in our cafeteria?

Does each meal need to be balanced?

[The answer is no, but the day's diet should be balanced. The day's diet and not the meal is the unit.]

Why eat a lunch?

What is a balanced meal?

What instructions about food are given athletes in training?

This series of debates was staged because of the revelations made by a lunch survey. One day every teacher in the school asked each pupil to write down what he had eaten for lunch, one hour earlier in the day. They also asked what the lunch had cost and where it had been obtained. The inquiry showed:

Six pupils had eaten no lunch.

Ninety-six went home to lunch or brought lunch from home.

Forty-six had eaten lunch, or a substitute, at a nearby drug store.

Seven hundred forty-seven had eaten in the school cafeteria.

Some of the lunches had consisted of such items as soda water, ice cream soda, candy bars, other candies and confections, lime mints, French ice cream [whatever that is], fried peach pie, vanilla cake and hot dog sandwich slathered with mustard. The drug stores have not been the only offenders in supplying quickly eaten lunches. The cafeteria lent a hand. Desire to play or to take a look at a movie had been a prominent reason for the snatch-and-run lunch.

This study led to other investigations. Lunches were classed in six classes running from E [utterly bad] and D minus [quite bad] to A [perfect]. To score A a lunch must have leafy vegetables, fruits, milks and such staples as meat and bread and not more than one sweet. When scored on this basis 339 lunches were rated E, 239 D minus, 30 D, 17C, 4 B, while A struck out.

Then the debate started.

ADVICE FOR SUFFERER.

M. M. M. gives our readers the benefit of her experience as follows: For two and a half years I had blisters, swellings and itching of the skin of my face, neck, arms, hands, eyelids and ears. I turned for relief in many directions. Finally, I consulted a physician who diagnosed poisoning from some plant. I told him I kept primroses. I had kept them for two and a half years. He gave me a salve and directed me to get rid of the primroses. I did so. My eczema disappeared and I have not had it since.

REPLY.

Your experience has many precedents, as you say.

Primrose is a snake in the grass.

WHAT IS ATROPHY?

S. S. writes: Please enlighten me a little on atrophy. What is it? Its cause, symptoms and treatment?

REPLY.

The word atrophy merely means "shrinking or wasting." Your question cannot be answered without information as to what is wasting and why.

AID FOR PEDESTRIANS.

Chicago, Feb. 1.—[Friend of the People.]—Complaints have been referred to the city hall about the condition of the street at the southeast corner of Harrison and Wabash. Is there any way that action can be taken to secure a place for people to walk on the east side of the street? They are now forced to walk down the middle of the street in all kinds of weather.

Contractor erecting building at the southeast corner of Harrison and Wabash has constructed a temporary walk to care for pedestrian travel while building is in course of construction.

JOINT DEBTORS.

Chicago, Jan. 31.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I was in business with a man —a partnership—and a judgment was entered against us. The judgment creditor went to my partner secretly and collected $200, giving him a letter stating that the $200 was in full of all demands against him. I find the total judgment of $850 still stands unreleased on the records against both of us. Can the creditor settle in this way without my knowledge and then ask me to pay the balance of the judgment?

W. C. H.

THE BUILDING OF THE SHIP.

(Mr. Longfellow is brought up to date.)

Thou, too, sail on, O Ship of State!
(Provided, of course, it's not a cruiser),
Sail on, O Union, strong and great!
(For a ship of war is a low, rude bruiser).
Humanity with all its fears,
(So please, no guns, but, oh, make room)—
With all its hopes of future years,
(For flowers, and cookies, and sweet perfume).
Is hanging breathless on thy fate!
(For, girls, in future, no war shall be. I Won't that be darling! Now let's have tea).

It's About Time Now.

Tourists ought to have more fun this year. Russia has put out its own Soviet guide book in the same style as a Baedeker, and cordially invites one and all to come and see what they've got left. Spain is offering a revolution and the customary bull fights. You can stay out in the street and see the revolution free or pay money at the gate and go in and watch the bull fight. We've seen several of the smaller variety of Spanish revolutions and we like a bull fight better. But American tourists seem to find the most excitement nowadays in hunting up a place where there is a bar of the kind that used to be popular in the United States. They like to stand up to the bar and put a foot on the brass rail at the bottom. And if there's sawdust on the floor and they're allowed to call the bartender Charley, they just lay their heads right down on the bar and cry like a child.

What Yuh Otta Do, Oracle, Is to Just Leave It Alone.

RHL: When me and Diggs came to Chicago we gets invited to a little party on what they calls tha near north side where Corinne paints. Once Corinne sold a water color of tha Vermont woods fer thirteen fifty and tha anniversary of said coup de paint found me and Diggs rejoicin at Corinnes studio. There was Corinne and a feller that looks like Adolph Menjou only his name is Hubble. Well there was lotsa other folks of tha colony, too, but they didnt count like Hubble because it was Hubble who introduced us to Corinne and showed us tha rest of tha town. Me and Diggs and Hubble got on fine at tha party outa respect to our hostess bootlegger and about two A M Hubble says he would take me and Diggs to State and Ohio street and put us on tha street car because Chicago was a very large city fer us comparatively two strangers. That was fine. Down tha street we went arm in arm and tighter'n goats and when we comes to State and Ohio two of us gets on tha car. Well, sir, thats tha end of tha story of Corinnes party and I wouldnt say anymore about it if us two that got on tha street car hadnt got to tha lobby of a down town hotel someway—yeah, tha lobby of a hotel—kin you beat it? Well that was allright but when we gets that far what do I find but that Diggs aint with me at all—its Hubble! Well I wouldnt desert Diggs so back we goes to State and Ohio after an hour or so and there, sure enough, was Diggs standing just where we left him. An I went up and talked to him and he was Hubble. "Hello Hubble," I sez, and he sez, "don't you know me, I'm Oracle." "Well then who am I?" cez I an he says "Hello Hubble, where you bin?"

Gray dawn came slinking into the silence
Heavily dew-laden.
The wind, seeming to wake,
Began its chanting anew,
Its chill breath like magic;
Changing the dew to silver.

He sighed as she trembled.
"Creep closer my dryad,
My warm heart will shelter."

She crept not—trembled no more;
The icy fingers had touched her heart.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

FEBRUARY 5, 1864.

PARIS, Ill—An armed force, numbering some fifteen or twenty, came into town and defied the returned soldiers, threatening to drive them from the place. The soldiers rallied at the courthouse and sent out a squad to meet the guerrillas, who fired on them. They returned the fire and the rebels fled in confusion. Since then they have been collecting at Castlefin, twelve miles south, and are rumored to number from 500 to 2,000. Capt. Smith of the 37th Indiana brought 150 soldiers over from Terre Haute to cope with the situation.

CHICAGO.—Capt. W. B. Holbrook, of the 72d Illinois infantry, and Miss Eliza E. Ransom of Chicago were married by the Rev. W. W. Patton.

WASHINGTON.—An advertisement in the Charleston Mercury requires all slave owners in that judicial district of South Carolina to send one-fourth of all their slaves to Charleston to work thirty days on the fortifications which are being reduced by the union bombardment. The Richmond Sentinel says that holders of flour in Richmond have advanced the price to $200 a barrel.

NEW YORK.—The Herald's dispatch on the war in western Virginia says that Gen. Sullivan's forces encountered a large force of rebels in Mechanicsburg Gap, near Romney, and that a fight ensued in which the rebels were routed. It is believed that Gen. Sullivan's and Col. Mulligan's commands have united and are pursuing the rebels.

CHICAGO.—John B. Gough, the eloquent lecturer, at Bryan hall last night, alluded to the astonishing fact that he has delivered lectures on the subject of temperance some 4,800 times.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

FEBRUARY 5, 1899.

MANILA.—The rebels have opened fire on Manila. They attacked the town from the rear yesterday and American outposts were fired upon this morning. When the attack was made Gen. Otis had many of the women and children at once removed to vessels in the harbor. The assault was repelled by the American troops and Gen. Otis has the situation well in hand. The gunboat Callao, the cruiser Charleston, and monitor Monadnock shelled the insurgents.

WASHINGTON.—The startling news that Aguinaldo has at last decided to become hostile is not surprising to administration circles, because of the delay in ratifying the peace treaty. This was taken by the insurgents to mean that the President is not backed by the people of the United States. President McKinley has done everything to avoid a conflict, but now that one has been forced upon him the Filipinos will be made to feel the iron hand of Uncle Sam. Otis and Dewey will undoubtedly wage a war that will bring the insurgents into subjection. Aguinaldo is supposed to have 30,000 men about Manila.

WASHINGTON.—Col James A. Sexton, commander in chief of the G. A. R., former postmaster at Chicago, and member of President McKinley's war investigating committee, died at Garfield hospital, where he had been sick for several days. He was a lifelong resident of Chicago, where he was born on Jan. 5, 1844, at the corner of La Salle avenue and Michigan street.

LONDON. — The Chronicle understands that a meeting of the cabinet was held to consider the labor situation and that as a result the government contemplates taking immediate action the nature of which is not specified. It is feared the whole of the country is in danger of a general strike. This city is in a pretty mess. The underground railways are still closed down by the strike.

PARIS.—President Wilson presided tonight over the commission on the society of nations, which had before it the completed project for constituting the league, discussing it article by article. The peace conference has succeeded in putting a definite end to the fighting between the Poles and Czecho-Slavs. In the official report there was left unexplained the remarkable statement that the Czecho-Slavs had agreed to turn over their munitions of war to the Poles, their former foe.

WAGES AND BANK ACCOUNTS.

Chicago, Feb. 2.—The proposal for universal payment of wages by check might cut down the holdup danger to some extent, but probably not as much as hoped for by its sponsors, unless a much greater proportion of the employés than at present cashed their checks at the banks. Most of those now paid by check are in the habit of cashing them in stores in the neighborhood of their places of employment or of their homes. The storekeepers are forced to keep on hand considerable sums to meet these demands and the result of a considerable shift to the check payment of wages would be a shift in the holdup danger from the employer to the storekeeper. An article published some years ago in daily commerce reports of the department of commerce [by the American consul at Liverpool, I believe] suggested a plan which would avoid both of these dangers and seems to have many other advantages.

This plan at that time was being considered by the largest soap manufacturers in England. It was proposed that, instead of paying by cash or individual check, the employer should deposit the amount of each employé's wages in an account opened by the employé in any bank he might choose. The employé probably would choose the bank nearest his job or nearest his home, and he or some member of his family could later have the deposit entered on his bank book.

The advantages of this plan to the banks and the employers are obvious. The banks would greatly increase their deposits, perhaps double them. The employer would avoid the danger of robbery in paying by cash or the labor of drawing a large number of checks if he were in the habit of paying by that method. The probabilities are that all of the employés of any one concern would open their accounts in no more than five or six different banks. The paymaster would then make lists showing the amount due the employés having accounts in each bank and draw a check for the total, the bank to credit the various amounts as shown on the list to the proper accounts.

A few years ago it would have been impossible to have convinced the employé that any plan that was of advantage to the boss and the banks could be to his advantage, but that notion has been outgrown. The plan would have many advantages for him. He would have the advantage and convenience of a bank account, either savings or checking. He would avoid the necessity of having to carry all of his pay around with him, with the danger of loss or theft. And, most important of all, he would save more of his wages. As it is now the man with one or two dollars left from last week's pay at the end of this week does not think of depositing it in the bank, even if he has an account, which most of them do not, as he probably spends it on something that he does not need. If the small sums were already in the bank he would leave it there.

FOR WIDER EASTERN TIME BELT.

Chicago, Feb. 2.—More power to Ald. Toman in his efforts to start daylight saving time on April 6 instead of April 27. At no other time of the year is the early time of such advantage as it is during the spring and autumn when the hour difference means getting home in daylight instead of in the dark. During the summer we have some light in the evening even with standard time, and in the winter it will be dark even if early time were used. But during the spring and fall the advantage is the greatest.

I wonder if this would not be a good time to make a start toward a permanent solution of the time question. My proposal is to put the entire part of the nation east of the Mississippi in the eastern standard time belt. The confusion incident to the change twice each year would be avoided as well as that due to the difference between city time and railroad time. Eighty-three millions, over 70 per cent of the total population of the nation, would live within the belt and probably over 70 per cent of the nation's business is transacted within its limits. Who will question the advantage of coördinating, from a time standpoint, this tremendous business activity? The adoption of fast time by eastern cities in the summer would leave us at least as well off as we are now during those months, in coördinated time, while during the rest of the year we would be much better off than we are at present.

L. M. A.

OBJECTS TO DAYLIGHT SAVING.

Chicago, Feb. 2.—It looks like we were going to get another dose of daylight saving time. Millions of dollars have been invested elsewhere that would have been invested here were it not for the visitors becoming disgusted with our time.

If the aldermen have power to change the clocks, they have the power to order all shops open one hour earlier in summer. If they can make gardens grow better by daylight saving, they can also make better skating by keeping the clock one hour ahead.

JOSEPH MONROE.

MORE SUNLIGHT IN NOVEMBER.

Blue Island, Ill., Feb. 2.—The suggestion of Ald. Toman is fine with regard to starting daylight saving time on April 6, but why not go a step farther and extend it to the first Sunday in November, as the extra hour would be just as beneficial in the fall as in the spring?

BILL TO PAY 750 MORE POLICEMEN BECOMES A LAW

A. of C. Suggests Changes in Department.

Increase of the police department by 750 men became certain yesterday when the appropriation ordinance providing for their maintenance became a law without the signature of Mayor Thompson. The mayor had until the adjournment of yesterday's council meeting to sign or veto the ordinance which was passed by the council at its previous session.

In connection with the increase in the department, the Chicago Association of Commerce yesterday made public a report based on a survey of the city's police problem by its executive committee. The report recommends the adoption of rigid standards for the selection, training, and promotion of policemen prior to the addition of any large number of new men.

Changes Are Proposed.

Although agreeing with other civic and business groups that the city must have more policemen quickly, the association officials caution Commissioner of Police William F. Russell that care must be taken to choose men of the highest quality who cannot be drawn into an alliance with politicians and criminals. The report also proposes several specific administrative changes in the department, among them the following:

Appointment of commissioner for an indefinite period and removable only for cause after a public hearing.

Small divisional areas.

More extensive use of the automobile patrol.

Suggest School for Police.

With the adoption of these administrative changes together with psychiatric tests in connection with civil service examinations for candidates, a police school with three to six months' instruction, a promotional course for officers, and specialized training for division commanders, the efficiency of the department would increase one hundred per cent, the report states.

Copies of the report, it was said at the offices of the association, are being forwarded to Commissioner Russell and Ald. John S. Clark [30th], chairman of the council finance committee.

Commissioner Russell said that he would give the proposals consideration, although, on the basis of the information he received indirectly, he was of the opinion that they are somewhat vague and general.

Erection of electric signs in front of every police station will be asked of the city council at the next meeting, Commissioner Russell announced yesterday. Many of the stations are in locations and buildings easily overlooked and should be made more conspicuous so that persons can find them without difficulty, he said.

WALES PROVIDES OWN FUND TO AID STRICKEN MINERS

LONDON, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Translating his sympathy for the unemployed coal miners into actual help, the prince of Wales is providing funds through his estate, the duchy of Cornwall, to send two families to the Scilly islands, where they will be trained in bulb and flower growing.

The decision as to whether the prince will tour the South Wales coal fields as he did the northern area a few days ago will be reached later this week. W. MacKinder, Labor member of the house of commons for Shipley, Yorkshire, today said:

"I have been nearer to being proud of the royal family this week than ever in my life. Without questioning what anybody else thinks of it, I think it the finest action done by any member of the royal family in the last hundred years. I hope the prime minister will take more notice of the prince of Wales than he has done of the miners' leaders in the house of commons, who have told him the same things."

KILLED BY I. C. TRAIN.

A colored man believed to be Frank Cureau of St. John's parish, New Orleans, 50 years old, was killed yesterday when he slipped off an Illinois Central freight train in the yards at 185th street in Homewood.

SINUS TROUBLE FOLLOWS THE FLU

Even Common Colds Start Trail of "Focal" Infections in Head

In the immediate trail of influenza comes an attack upon the delicate mucous membranes which line the nose. All the symptoms common to an acute attack of Sinus Trouble follow the "flu", such as a discharge of mucus in the nose, inflammation, and congestion of the nasal cavities. The openings of the sinuses become blocked, and you have that stuffy condition, with headaches and pain over the eyes.

The mucous discharge from the nose finds its way into the throat, and is absorbed into the system. It's the toxins in these vile secretions that cause all the trouble that follows the "flu", LaGrippe and common head-colds. Get rid of these foul secretions as quickly as they accumulate. Wash them away with Sinuseptic. Order a glass nasal douche for a few cents at any drug store, put in about one teaspoonful of Sinuseptic, fill the rest of the glass douche with warm water, and apply it to your nose, and you will keep the nasal cavities clean and clear of the offending secretions that drain from the sinuses.

SWANSON HUNTS GRAFT CLEWS IN DEATH OF WIDOW

Orders Inquiry Into Slot Machine Business.

Investigation of the slot machine business of Mrs. Sanford A. Burnham, who died last week, was ordered yesterday by State's Attorney Swanson as other officials were inquiring into her death and the affairs of her estate, valued at $500,000. The prosecutor wants the names of all Cook county purchasers of slot machines, which were making fortunes for politicians under previous prosecutor and police administrations.

Mrs. Burnham's estate was under the temporary control of Probate Judge Henry Horner and Public Administrator Percy B. Coffin. At the request of Mr. Coffin's attorney, Otto Ulrich, Judge Horner issued an order requiring Edward T. Riley, who claims ownership of 55 per cent of the gum and slot machine business, to appear on Feb. 11 for questioning.

Riley Released on Bond.

Riley had been in police custody since Friday while Mrs. Burnham's death was being investigated by Coroner Herman N. Bundesen and Police Capt. William Stapleton. Yesterday Capt. Stapleton released Riley on a $1,000 bond on the technical charge of disorderly conduct to hold him as a witness when the inquest is resumed.

"I have satisfied myself that Riley is a man of good character," Capt Stapleton explained. "I am not interested in the financial status of the business and it now appears that Mrs. Burnham's death was not the result of any crime."

The administrator's office said Riley would be required to prove that the contract, under which Mrs. Burnham turned over 55 per cent of her business to him, contained the authentic signature of the dead woman and that it was not obtained under duress or while she was not in a sound mental condition.

No Inventory Filed.

Mr. Ulrich said Mrs. Burnham had not filed an inventory of the estate of her husband for which she was administratrix and that there was no record of how it was apportioned. Riley said that he had been informed Mrs. Burnham and her two stepdaughters had reached an amicable agreement in dividing the estate, and that Mrs. Burnham was sole owner of the business in which she made him a partner.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 4.—[U. P.]—The parents of Marilyn Miller, Ziegfeld musical star, will be remarried here Friday as the result of a reconciliation effected by the actress.

Caro G. Miller gave his age as 57, and Ado V. Miller said she was 56 today when they filed a notice of intention to wed.

The Millers were reunited Saturday after an eight year separation. Marilyn was credited with persuading her mother to come west to make up with the father and former husband.

MERCHANT TELLS OF TERROR REIGN IN AFGHANISTAN

PESHAWAR, India, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Twenty British Indian subjects and three Germans were evacuated from Kabul, Afghanistan, yesterday in three royal air force machines. The Germans included Frau Weitz, who was injured by an airplane propeller on Dec. 24.

One of the rescued merchants drew a grewsome picture of the chaotic conditions of life in Kabul, where, he declared, every follower of Bacha Sakao, the water boy king who took the title Hababullah Khan, can loot the population and do everything he pleases. The shops and business quarters of Kabul are open under Bacha Sakao's orders, but have little or no stock, and the population in general is terrorized.

WATSON AIMS AT RADICAL POWER IN THE SENATE

Plans Change in Party Ratio on Committees.

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 4.—[Special.]—Senate radicals will lose much of their power in the new congress under plans of Republican regulars.

Senator James E. Watson [Rep., Ind.], who will succeed Senator Charles Curtis [Rep., Kas.], Vice President Elect, as majority leader, will propose a change in ratios of party membership on standing committees. By this move the regulars will dislodge the radicals from their position of balance of power which they have enjoyed on nearly all the important committees during the past two years. Increased strength of the regulars in the senate makes the committee reorganization possible.

The new program will be submitted to a conference of all Republican senators which is to be called before the end of the present session.

Change in Ratios Proposed.

The situation now prevailing has been due to the fact that on most of the major committees the number of Republicans is only one greater than the number of Democrats. On most committees the ratio is either ten to nine, or nine to eight.

The Republican regulars were unable to organize except with the help of the radicals, and the latter were in a position to demand at least one and in some cases two places on each of the important committees. By lining up with the Democrats, a single radical Republican has been able to block the legislative program of the Republican regulars.

By widening the margin between Republican and Democratic totals on committees as justified by the increased Republican majority it will be possible to insure control by regulars even though the radicals are allowed to retain their present places.

There will be no disciplining of irregulars of the recent campaign. Senator George W. Norris [Rep., Neb.], who actively supported the Democratic presidential candidate, will continue to hold the chairmanship of the judiciary committee. His control over the committee, however, will be broken by the change in party ratios.

Radicals in Committees.

The judiciary committee now is made up of nine Republicans and eight Democrats. Of the nine Republicans, two, Senator Norris and Senator John J. Blaine [Rep., Wis.], are radicals. By joining with the Democrats they are in complete control.

A similar situation exists on practically all the other important committees. Senators Blaine and S. W. Brookhart [Rep., Ia.], hold the balance of power on the committee on military affairs, Senator R. B. Howell [Rep., Neb.], on the naval committee and also on the committee on interstate commerce; Senator G. P. Nye [Rep., N. D.], on the appropriations, immigration and public lands committees. Senators Nye and R. M. La Follette [Rep., Wis.], on the commerce committee; Senator Henrik Shipstead [Farmer-Labor, Minn.], on the foreign relations and privileges and elections committees; Senators La Follette, Brookhart and L. J. Frazier [Rep., N. D.], on the postoffice committee, and Senators Frazier and Brookhart on the banking and currency committee.

ST. GAUDEN'S STATUE OF LINCOLN IN LINCOLN PARK

That bore a nation in its hold.
—E. C. STEDMAN

THE one hundred and twentieth anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln, on February 12, serves to renew interest in the famous statue by Augustus St. Gaudens at the entrance to Lincoln Park.

The restless traffic of modern Chicago sweeps thoughtlessly round this dignified figure of the Emancipator, but the statue here in the park which bears Lincoln's name is a constant reminder that the city in which he was nominated for the presidency and the State in which he lived hold him in loving remembrance.

Likewise, the fact that practically all of those great leaders of thought and action who contributed to the building of the nation are represented in the outdoor art of the city parks is an evidence of the serious patriotism of the people of Chicago.

Occasional visits to the parks for the purpose of studying the statues and memorials, many of which have great artistic value, are well worth while.

The city is replete with objects of beauty and places of interest for those who will seek them.

Insists His New Discovery Opens Up Catarrh Stuffed Nostrils in Three Minutes

Advises All Catarrh Victims to Throw Away Stomach Medicines. End Loathsome Catarrh with Opex and Get Rid of Disgusting Mucous.

Ask Any Walgreen or Economical Store

Catarrh, one of the most loathsome of diseases, is caused by germs—wicked, vicious, persistent pests that multiply rapidly and by digging into and devouring the tender membrane cause soreness, swelling, inflammation and mucous discharges.

30 Days' Free Trial

A few years ago, Catarrh was considered incurable, because no one was clever enough to get together a formula that would spread over the membranes of the nasal tract a purifying substance in which catarrh germs could not exist.

But Opex changed all that and now all you have to do to get rid of catarrh is to spray on Opex and send the germs to eternity.

Just note the picture showing how Opex puts catarrh out of business. See the steam-like smoke going in one nostril and out of the other.

When you use Opex you see the healing, purifying vapor as fine as smoke coming through the nostrils—and it will come through no matter how stuffed up they are.

That's the way to end catarrh and to lessen those annoying, ringing, buzzing noises in the ears. Many people say it is the only way.

The price of a bottle of Opex that will last two months is $1.00—it is easily worth one hundred dollars to any man or woman who wants clean healthy nostrils free from disgusting mucous.

Opex will end the most stubborn case of catarrh in a few days, because it soothes and heals the sore, inflamed membranes, reduces the swelling and purifies the entire nasal tract.

And remember this—the toughest old head colds are knocked out in a few hours with Opex—it's the magic treatment of science, for with this new discovery you can reach the entire respiratory tract—right down to the bottom of the lungs.

Opex is sold by all druggists who keep abreast of the times with the distinct understanding that if you are not satisfied at the end of 30 days your money will be gladly returned. Opex is delightful to use because of its wholesome fragrance. Inhale as you spray if you want to reach the bottom of the lungs—you can also spray that sore throat with purifying Opex.

Keep your nostrils as clean as your teeth

What do the words "A High School Education" mean? They mean a thorough grounding in those essentials of modern knowledge which enables a person to be the most efficient in the everyday activities of his work and of his contact with others. When it is required that a person have a High School Education, it is meant that such a person must be equipped with a substantial background of English, History, General Literature, some Languages, Commercial Subjects (Business and Economics), Mathematics, Science and the Arts. It is expected that such a person will have his intelligence alert and trained to enable him to learn new things readily, to know where to look for facts not already in his possession; in short, to be a man or woman aware of those fundamentals which form the basis of every education and of all culture.

Probably you have often felt the lack of knowledge you really ought to have at your command. Perhaps you did not get the most out of your school days, or possibly you were obliged to leave school before you had completed your education. Or your High School training has slipped into the past, and you are "rusty" on many subjects. Whatever the reason for the lack, you feel that the void is there—and you want to fill in the gaps! This 60-volume HIGH SCHOOL EDUCATIONAL COURSE is just the thing for you—it is comprehensive, easily understandable, thoroughly reliable and authentic, and absolutely up to date.

Whether you wish to study High School Subjects for the first time, or whether you merely wish to review your High School Education, you will find these 60 books exactly what you need. Read the list of titles carefully as listed at the right—and remember, all you pay for all 60 of these splendid books is two dollars and ninety-eight cents!

A word about this astonishing low cost—the price of $2.98 for all 60 of these books is possible, has been possible, because of mass production. These books have been bought by more than 250,000 people. The popularity of these books is irrefutable indication that they are filling a widespread need. Indeed, the price is so low that many people get the set just to have the books handy for reference. At such a price no one can afford to be without these books. In usual library form they would cost perhaps $25; in the new two-volume cloth edition they will cost $10—but you can get the same material, word for word, in 60 pocket-sized volumes, for only $2.98 postpaid! But remember—10,000 sets are all we have. You must not delay a moment! Grab this chance NOW!

Easy to Understand

TEXTBOOKS are often dry and musty. This Educational Course will be found refreshingly different from the usual educational volume. Every book has been written with the reader constantly in mind. Every page is clear and readily understandable by the average person. No attempt is spared to provide books which everyone can use to learn without the aid of an instructor.

Every book in this 60-volume set is self-teaching—that is the plan that underlies them all, to make no instructor necessary. Of course, the books are of no value unless you read them with the determination to learn. There is no royal road to knowledge just by letting your eyes run idly over the printed page! But if you have real ambition, then these are books to help you get ahead—these are books which may be of more genuine benefit to you than all four years of formal high school training.

The simplicity of these books is truly amazing. You will be gratified to find them entirely lucid in every way. No subject is kept difficult—all are presented to you so that you can get the most out of them. Just reading these books is educative to an extent that you cannot realize unless you try the experiment! Furthermore, every volume is interesting. The type is of a size to make reading easy. The authors have been interested in their subjects, and this makes it certain that those subjects are presented in a delightfully fascinating manner.

The Type and Binding

The actual size of the type used in these books (except the reference dictionaries) is 8 point. This is approximately the size type used in your daily newspaper. It is easy to read. Many of the books have illustrations and diagrams to make the text clearer. The books are uniformly bound in stiff covers. They are substantial and neat in appearance. The paper is good white book paper. Each book contains, as a rule, about 15,000 words, or 64 pages. For the price of $2.98 these 60 books are wonderful value.

Variety of Subjects

CONSIDER for a moment the wide scope of these sixty books—think just how comprehensive they are! There are 825,000 words in these sixty volumes. They include a wonderful variety of subjects, from history and economics and literature to mathematics, foreign language and the arts. Even commercial subjects, such as geography and typewriting, are included. You get a substantial foundation in the arts, and an insight into the great world of science. Then there are the handy reference volumes, the alphabetical dictionaries, which give you concise information just when you need it and exactly as you want it.

Four foreign languages—the languages which most English-speaking people desire to learn—are given in this set. These foreign languages are self-teaching in these handy volumes. They may be readily grasped with the aid of these books.

Everything you need is here—this series is compact and complete in itself. This is a course crammed with valuable information and useful knowledge. There are two volumes of questions and answers (quizzes) with which you may test your knowledge from time to time. There is that excellent general treatise on "How to Study"—this work alone is really worth the entire price of the set in the valuable hints it gives and in the manner in which it enables the average person to study in such a way that he will get the most possible good out of his efforts.

You will find it invaluable to have at hand many of these books which you may not use at first. Though some of the subjects may seem to you apart from your present interests, they will sooner or later come in handy. Everyone, today, should have a representative library of reference to which he can turn in search of facts when he requires them. That is what makes this course so thoroughly useful, and that is why sixty volumes were chosen as the ideal number of books for the set.

In our modern civilization, with the miracles of modern printing, knowledge is within everyone's reach. There is no longer any excuse for any individual to remain in ignorance. Lack of knowledge is not tolerated. Today you must be progressively alert—keep abreast of the times—and maintain a standard of education that is on a par with the knowledge of your fellows. This 60-volume EDUCATIONAL COURSE will be a forward step in this direction; these sixty books will be worth far more than $2.98 to you in achieving this much to be desired result. Mail that blank before it is too late!

10 EXTRA VOLUMES

DURING our campaign for self-education, with our 60-volume HIGH SCHOOL EDUCATIONAL COURSE, we are including 10 additional volumes with each set—the set originally contained only 50 volumes—at no extra cost to the public. This is an indication of our intention to give every purchaser of this course full value for the money he invests in these books. Now, 60 volumes make up this complete course, as listed at the extreme right of this advertisement. Notice how thoroughly comprehensive they are and what a surprising variety of subject matter they cover. Yet the price is only $2.98 for all sixty books—surely this is a bargain if there ever was one. Understand this clearly—$2.98 is all you pay; there are no monthly installments, no further payments whatever. When you pay $2.98 this set of books becomes yours, fully paid for. All you have to do is use the blank before our small supply of 10,000 sets is exhausted. We strongly urge you to act at once—otherwise, you may be disappointed. You have no time to lose. Mail the blank today.

Be Your Own Teacher at Five Cents Per Subject!

You get 60 books for $2.98 as long as these 10,000 remaining sets last! This is slightly less than five cents per book—can you imagine any book treating, in a text of 15,000 words the total words in each of these books, on the average), a subject like Grammar or Economics or U. S. History that is not worth FIVE CENTS? This HIGH SCHOOL EDUCATIONAL COURSE, in this 60-volume handy edition, is a bargain of bargains. There is nothing like it anywhere. It is unique in the field of popular education.

Think of all that this course can mean to you! The books are each 3½x5 inches in size. They fit readily into a pocket, handbag or satchel. They take up very little room on a table or in a drawer. Being so compact, yet so comphehensive and readable, these books will be worth more to you than you can guess. You can carry several with you wherever you go, to utilize in your spare time. With a set of these books to choose from, you can make every odd moment count—make your now wasted minutes pay you dividends! The authors of these six educational volumes were especially chosen to prepare these works so that the average person may readily assimilate their contents. In spite of the sensational low cost of these books, they have been written by authorities in their various fields. Some of the writers who have helped to make this HIGH SCHOOL EDUCATIONAL COURSE POSSIBLE are:

PROFESSOR CARROLL LANE FENTON, of the University of Cincinnati; JOHN COWPER POWYS, famous lecturer and critic; JOSEPH McCABE, world famous scholar and author of 180 books; LAWRENCE A. BARRETT, High School Instructor of Mathematics; JOHN S. GAMBS, High School Teacher; MAYNARD SHIPLEY, President of the Science League of America; LLOYD E. SMITH, former college English assistant; HEREWARD CARRINGTON, New York Scientist; J. GEO. FREDERICK, commercial expert; DR. ISAAC GOLDBERG, well-known critic; MURRAY SHEEHAN, educator and novelist; LEO MARKUN, research student; NELSON ANTRIM CRAWFORD, well-known writer; CLARENCE DARROW, famous lawyer, etc., etc.

Thus it is certain that every one of these books is of outstanding excellence. As a reading course this set cannot be surpassed—for the price of $2.98 you get 825,000 words of text—nearly a million words! The general editorship has been under the direction of E. HALDEMAN JULIUS, famous for his campaigns of popular education and for providing good reading at a price within reach of every-one's pocketbook.

Amazing as it sounds, it is quite true that $2.98 is FULL and FINAL PAYMENT for all 60 of the books in this HIGH SCHOOL EDUCATIONAL COURSE. There are no strings attached to this offer—$2.98 is all you pay. Think how expensive a High School education usually is in comparison—here you get 60 books for no more than one average textbook costs in school. And you dispense with the instructor altogether; you become your own teacher, learning as you read.

We pay the postage to your address on this 60-volume set. The price of $2.98 includes all charges except the small C. O. D. fee (exactly seven cents), which goes to the U. S. postoffice. All packing and carriage charges are otherwise fully paid. You can avoid any possible delay or inconvenience (C. O. D. packages sometimes move slower than regular parcel post, and if you are not home when the package is first delivered it may cause you a little inconvenience) by remitting $2.98 with your order. Satisfied customers everywhere guarantee the value of this set of books. You are assured of satisfaction—when you see the books you will be convinced that they are worth the bargain price of $2.98.

FASCIST PAPER TELLS PLAN FOR PAPAL COUNCIL

1,500 Bishops to Meet in Rome This Year.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Copyright: 1929: By The Chicago Tribune.]

ROME, Feb. 4.—Pope Pius XI. will call an ecumenical council of all bishops of the Catholic world during the course of the present year to discuss great church problems, the newspaper Giornale d'Italia, which is the semi-official mouthpiece of the Italian foreign office, says tonight. The Vatican paper, Osservatore Romano, makes no comment on the subject.

The Giornale d'Italia remarks that Pope Pius in proclaiming 1929 a holy year said he expected to resume the last ecumenical conference which was broken off in 1870 by the Franco-Prussian war and the recall of the troops of Napoleon III. from Rome. It is indicated that the proposed council will be a mere continuation of the one suspended sixty years ago, because Italian troops occupied Rome after the French left and ended the temporal power of the popes.

1,500 Bishops Expected.

Giornale d'Italia adds that preparations for such a council require a long time and that they have been going on continuously during the last year. Pope Pius desires to have the council take place this year for the purpose of making it coincide with his jubilee year.

All the bishops of the Catholic world will be present except those sick. Catholic bishops in the world number about 1,500, and each will be accompanied to Rome by a secretary, so there will be a gathering of 3,000 visitors for the sacred conclave. These will be housed in various institutions and congregations in Rome. For the purpose of the meeting one transept of St. Peter's cathedral will be screened off as was done in 1870.

Although the Italian press has been scrupulously silent, Rome and Italy has been seething for two months with rumors that the Roman question was about to be settled between the Italian state and the Vatican. Responsible authorities are intriguingly silent about this, but floods of detailed information about the precise terms of such a "settlement" have been available in Rome for months from "informers" who even announce that the date of settlement is March 21. The precise details are readily and willingly offered, especially to foreign journalists.

Groups of seminary students of all nationalities and races discuss the possibilities on their evening walks through the Pincio. The lower clergy, lunching in Roman trattorias, are agog over the subject. Meanwhile responsible officials, especially of the Vatican, have nothing to say, and the Italian press is gagged on the subject except once in a while when such papers as the Farinacci's Regime Fascista attack the Vatican organ, Osservatore Romano, for its anti-Fascism.

Report Second Protocol Signed.

ROME, Feb. 4.—[U.P.]—A second protocol between Italy and the holy see, preliminary to formal settlement of their long dispute, was signed Jan. 14, it was learned today. The protocol amplified that signed on Dec. 6. The pope received Cardinal Dubois and other members of the sacred college in audience today and it was reported that international guarantees were suggested to insure fulfillment of the agreement, in view of the possibility of a political change in Italy.

The Italian royal family may attend the pope's celebration of the anniversary of his coronation on Feb. 12, completing in spectacular fashion the reconciliation between the Vatican and Italy, it was reported.

VATICAN ASKS HELP TO STOP MENACE OF ROME PROTESTANTS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, Feb. 4.—Rome, the center of Catholicism and seat of the holy see, and all Italy are menaced with the ever increasing Protestant peril which is one of the most painful preoccupations of the pope, declares the official Vatican organ, Osservatore Romano, tonight in an appeal for more copious aid to the papal foundation called "Preservazione della Fide."

All the popes from Leo XIII. till the present Pope Pius XI. have ceaselessly warned the Roman Catholics to be on their guard against "the open and the subtle moves of the heretics," says the paper. It goes on to say that efforts are required not only to propagate the faith abroad by missionary work but also to preserve the faith at home. "It would be sad to see Roman Catholicism giving its attention to foreign lands and allowing an insidious spiritual malady to infect the heart of Catholicism itself—namely, Rome and Italy," it adds. "For the work of evangelizing the world depends on the purity, integrity, and compactness of religion at Rome.

"We believe and will prove later on that Protestantism is making its supreme effort now. It is attacking us all along the line and is taking advantage of two needs accentuated by the great war: namely, the need of a more intense faith and the economic needs of the masses. While the means at the disposal of Protestantism in Italy are immense, how many times has the foundation for the preservation of the faith had to abandon its plans because the means were lacking?"

DOCTORS AGAIN GIVE KING GEORGE NEW TREATMENT

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 4.—The treatment for King George has again been changed. It was announced today that luminous rays, which are the nearest approach to natural sunlight, were replacing the ultra-violet rays.

Following a conference of his physicians this morning, which included Drs. Frank D. Howitt and Robert Stanton Woods, the two ray therapy specialists, the following bulletin, the first since Wednesday, was issued:

"The king continues to gain strength slowly and was able to sit up Saturday and Sunday for a short time.

Test King's Ambulance.

"The question of ray therapy was further considered. The period of administration of the ultra-violet rays has terminated, and will now be possible to supplement this treatment by the addition of luminous rays. [Signed] Sir Stanley Hewett, Sir Hugh M. Rigby, Lord Dawson of Penn, Dr. Robert Stanton Woods, Dr. Frank H. Howitt."

The de luxe ambulance which is expected to convey the king to Bognor on the seacost in Sussex was given a further inspection by physicians and nurses in the palace courtyard today. Later it carried a crew on a trial run to Bognor, where the brilliant sunshine was a striking contrast to the London pea soup fog. The final decision on the ambulance will be made on its return.

Prince Receives Visitors.

The prince of Wales, acting as the king's proxy, is receiving a number of official visitors at York house and St. James palace tomorrow. Officials and public servants relinquishing or taking up appointments will be received by him exactly the same as if by the king.

The prince of Wales will again represent his father at the privy council meeting held by the counselors of state on Wednesday, as well as at the levee at St. James palace on Feb. 26.

HAVE FAITH IN CHICAGO

A chip off the old block

"Where is the younger generation going?" they ask. It may be encouraging to know that—in this city at any rate—many a member of the next generation is following right in the steady foot-steps of his industrious father.

The Western Electric Hawthorne Works offers many such instances to renew the faith of Chicagoans in their city: Sons entering the same organization as their fathers, according to old-time traditions. Men and women organizing to improve their education by study at night. Workers forming an association to finance the buying of their own homes.

Making the nation's telephones, yes.

But also making surer that Chicagoans may "Have faith in Chicago".

ARREST FORMER ANGOLA SHERIFF AS BANDIT SLAYER

Killed Because He Knew Too Much, State Says.

Angola, Ind., Feb. 4.—[Special.]—Deciding to heed widespread reports that he had been indicted for first degree murder by the county grand jury Saturday in the investigation of alleged wholesale crime here under official protection, Charles Zimmerman, whose term as sheriff expired Jan. 1, surrendered today. A few hours later he was released in $25,000 bond on a writ of habeas corpus.

Ten persons were named in the eight indictments returned by the grand jury, but thus far only Zimmerman, charged with murder, and George Potter and Ed Keister, charged with liquor law violations, are under arrest.

Prodded by Newspapers.

The inquiry was taken up Jan. 8 by county authorities only after numerous proddings by newspapers and state government officials. Prosecuting Attorney Milo Thompson was barred from the grand jury inquiry and Attorney Theodore Redmond appointed special prosecutor.

Because of rumors that he might be indicted Thompson offered to resign Saturday. Today, however, it was revealed that he approved the indictment against Zimmerman, who is charged with the murder of Thomas Burke, alleged rum runner and bank bandit, who is supposed to have "known too much" about the $110,000 robbery last May of the First National bank of Angola.

This robbery, it repeatedly has been rumored, was a frameup. Burke's body was found in a burning barn near here last August.

The indictment charges Zimmerman with placing Burke's body in the barn, which he is accused of setting on fire with the intention of destroying the body.

Blood Stained Auto.

A bloodstained automobile was found in the county jail garage the same day Burke's body was discovered. The garage was locked. A revolver, said to have belonged to Zimmerman, was in the automobile. Witnesses named in the indictments were Frank Humphreys, coroner; Emory Powers, Nelson Sweiger, Nellie Colman, Ruth Albright, Cleo Gibson, Paul Jackson, Bernice Dando, and Clifford Van Aman.

Among witnesses who testified before the grand jury was Miss Nellie Colman, Zimmerman's former secretary. Following Burke's death Zimmerman asserted he had been in Colon, Mich., with Miss Colman at the time of the murder. Miss Colman corroborated this story. Miss Colman and a friend, Miss Bernice Dando, were found at South Bend several weeks ago by state police and brought to Angola to testify before the grand jury.

Zimmerman asked that he be permitted to appear before the grand jury, but he was not called, although his deputy, Russell Eckert, was a witness.

GIRL ASKS CHANGE OF VENUE IN SUIT AGAINST FORMER JUDGE CRAIG

Galesburg, Ill., Feb. 4.—[Special.]—Miss Fern Yates, Chicago, won the first legal skirmish in her $150,000 damage suit against Charles C. Craig, former Illinois Supreme court justice and wealthy Knox county banker, in Circuit court here today when a motion by the defense attorneys that the case be dismissed was denied by Judge George C. Hillyer. Miss Yates charges Craig is the father of her son, Richard.

Attorneys for Mr. Craig filed the motion on the technical ground that the girl had failed to provide a cost bond. Her attorney, Ed Chayes of Chicago, indicated his willingness to provide the bond and the motion of the defense was denied.

Chayes' motion for change of venue was set for argument Feb. 18. Miss Yates requested a hearing within a few days, but attorneys for Mr. Craig asked a longer time to prepare an answer because of pressing legal business. Chayes charged that the defense was attempting to delay trial of the case. "We want to go on trial here this term if we don't obtain a change of venue," he told the court.

Miss Yates, who formerly was Mr. Craig's secretary while he was judge, alleges that after her son was born Mr. Craig agreed to pay her $130,000 for the boy's support and education. She alleges that she received $22,500 but that when the payments stopped she filed suit against Craig.

Miss Yates, in her plea for change of venue, declares she cannot obtain a fair trial here because of the political prominence of Craig and the fact that he is president of a bank here and a number of others in Knox county.

SLAYER OF GIRL, HAUNTED BY DEED, GIVES SELF UP

Tells of Death Pact in Which He Reniged.

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Refreshed by what he said was his first good sleep in the four years that have followed the slaying of his swetheart Aug. 14, 1924, Harvey Lee Selhaver, 36, related his story of the deed in jail here today.

Selhaver surrendered to police late last night and confessed that he had killed 16 year old Sarrah Elizabeth Johnson of Aqueduct, N. J., in a suicide pact.

"In the spring of 1924," Selhaver told police, "I was traveling through Princeton, N. J., and I met a girl and boy who said their father wanted a farm hand. I went to work for this man [Joseph A. Johnson] and after I had been there about a month the girl stopped me on the stairs and asked me, 'Harvey, do you love me?'

"I told her I liked her and we had many secret meetings. This went on for some time, and one day I found her crying and she would not answer me when I asked the cause. Finally she said 'Harvey, there is only one way out of this, and that is to kill ourselves.' I said, 'Elizabeth, give me time to think this over tonight.'

He Buys the Gun.

"It was then agreed between us I would quit on the fifth of August and go to New York to buy a gun with which to commit the deed. I met her on the twelfth of August and told her we would meet that night at 10 o'clock.

"We did and went to a lonely spot in the woods about a mile from the farm, and there we stayed the night of the twelfth and all day the thirteenth. She finally said, 'Harvey, the time has come when we must do something.'

"I said, 'Elizabeth, let's wait until morning.' At 6 o'clock on the morning of the fourteenth she again insisted on the deed and I raised the gun and said, 'Elizabeth, I can't do this. Let's drown ourselves.'

"She asked me if I would agree to this, and I had to admit I couldn't drown myself. I told her I would again try to shoot her and I raised the gun and then I heard the report.

Finds Suicide Too Difficult.

"'Elizabeth,' I shouted, 'speak to me.' It was too late, for she died in the next couple of minutes. I made several attempts to raise the gun and kill myself but I could not do it.

"I stayed by her side until the eighteenth day of August in which time I could see that I could not carry out my share of our suicide bargain."

Most of the second hand automobiles and junk littering sidewalks, streets and alleys in the vicinity of 19th and State streets had been removed yesterday following a cleanup campaign by Capt. John Prendergast. The few remaining offenders will be haled into court every time they allow stripped automobiles in the street, Capt. Prendergast said, until the entire district is cleared.

Complaints had been made to the police that the old automobiles impeded traffic and were dangerous in case of fire. Most of the complaints were directed at the I. W. Warshawsky junk yard, owned by a son-in-law of Boss Morris Eller of the Twentieth ward. Other offenders were the Eller Auto Parts company and the State Auto Parts company.

Capt. Prendergast arrested the junk dealers and Judge Peter H. Schwaba informed them that if they discontinued the practice of using the streets for storage space the charges against them would be dropped when the cases come up for hearing Feb. 9.

IT'S SILLY TO PAY RACKETS, JUDGE TELLS DEALERS

Frees Two with Regrets in Bombing Case.

Chief Justice John J. Sullivan of the Criminal court said from the bench yesterday that Chicago tradesmen should quit giving money to rackets operating in the guise of trade organizations. He called it silly for business men to let such outfits mulct them.

Judge Sullivan was forced to discharge Samuel Ginsberg, 20 South Hamlin avenue, known as a racketeer, and Abe Bregar, who said he was Ginsberg's chauffeur, because of lack of evidence that they bombed the home of Mandel Rudman, 2216 West Division street, a partner in the Northwestern Paper company, 1801 North Leavitt street. Ginsberg was the organizer of the Northwest Junk Dealers' association.

Victim Tells of Threat.

Rudman dropped his membership in Ginsberg's outfit and his home was bombed. He testified that Ginsberg and Bregar told him just before the bombing that if he did not pay dues it would "be just too bad for him."

A few weeks ago the junk yard of Rudman and his partner, Fred Doppelt, 1832 Humboldt boulevard, was bombed. Just before this second bombing Al Green, a labor business agent, visited them and said: "You better drop that bombing case or you will get in more trouble," the partners told the judge. They said they were afraid even while in court.

Ginsberg took the witness stand and, under examination of his attorney, Frank McDonnell, said he knew nothing of the bomb.

Judge Takes a Hand.

Then the judge asked some questions. "How much a month was collected by your organization from the 32 members?" he asked.

"I collected $650 in January," replied the witness.

Q. What did you do with it? A.—I kept it for salary and expenses. The collections belonged to me.

Q. What did you do for these junk dealers in return for the monthly dues? A.—I watched over them to see that one yard did not stay open longer than another.

Q.—In other words then all you did for $650 a month was to be a watchman. A.—Yes, that is about what it amounted to.

"I cannot understand how men smart enough to make a success in business allow themselves to be driven into associations like this," said the judge. "I will have to discharge these defendants for lack of evidence. But perhaps some good will come of this case by at least exploding one racket. They should be put out of business."

DROPS DEAD DURING VISIT.

While visiting Mrs. Mary Voltenis at her home, 1300 South Kedzie avenue, yesterday, Charles Marulis, 56 years old, 1256 South Troy street, collapsed and died, apparently of heart disease.

Hygienic Care Of The Mind And Body

Measures for improving health and thereby preventing illness and postponing death constitute what is called hygiene. There are two main branches of hygiene, public hygiene and personal hygiene.

Public hygiene is protection by the State against disease by providing clean streets, pure water, pure food, quarantine, and the like. Personal hygiene consists in the practice of healthful living habits by the individual himself.

Importance of Hygiene

Public hygiene is of chief importance in preventing the acute or infectious diseases like scarlet fever, typhoid fever, measles, diphtheria and smallpox.

Personal hygiene is of chief importance in preventing the chronic or degenerative diseases, such as diseases of the heart and circulation, tuberculosis, cancer, apoplexy, kidney disease, diabetes, nervous prostration and insanity —in short, diseases of nutrition and of the circulation.

Neglect of Hygiene

The Life Extension Institute in its book "How to Live" has grouped the important rules of correct personal hygiene under the headings of air hygiene, food hygiene, activity hygiene and rest hygiene. It is neglect of one or more of these important rules of health that is literally responsible for most of the ills the body is heir to.

Tuberculosis, for example, is a house disease, due to disregarding the fact that man is an outdoor animal—that is, to the neglect of the rules of air hygiene. Chronic diseases of the heart, circulation and kidneys are largely due to neglect of activity hygiene, food hygiene and rest hygiene. Neurasthenia, nervous prostration, melancholia, even insanity may be caused by work or monotony—that is, by neglect of rest hygiene or of activity hygiene.

How to Avoid Disease

The Life Extension Institute was organized in 1913 with the co-operation of a large group of nationally known scientists, physicians and professors of medicine who believed in the idea of a self-supporting, semi-philanthropic institution of national scope, organized to provide yearly health examinations at a moderate cost together with the best scientific information on healthful living.

Chicago Headquarters

The Western Headquarters of the Institute are located in the Tower Building, 6 North Michigan Boulevard, Chicago. Here the Institute has established a physical examination unit similar to that which it has at its office in New York City, containing the most modern examination equipment and every scientific facility necessary to the making of these critical and thorough health examinations. Since the Institute was organized more than 600,000 men and women have had the benefits of its examination and scientific guidance.

For those desiring a most complete examination, the Institute has arranged a service which is called the "Unlimited Examination." This includes a critical physical examination and the application of any needed special test or specialized method of examination at the command of the Institute.

This Unlimited Examination should appeal to intelligent men and women because, for a relatively small fixed charge, a most comprehensive and searching examination can be had under one roof. There is no uncertainty as to the ultimate cost, and, as no treatment is given, there is no apprehension that the Institute will impose any expensive follow-up. An impartial report is rendered and the subscriber then knows his needs and can make his own decision as to seeking treatment from proper sources of his own choice.

For those who do not desire such an extensive examination, the Institute has arranged a service known as the "Standard Examination." This includes a critical physical examination of the whole body, detailed reports, periodic urine tests, mid-year review, guidance as to needed medical treatment, keep-well leaflets, monthly health journals, and other privileges.

Free Reprints on Health

Only registered and ethically accredited physicians, especially trained and experienced in this work, are selected by the Institute to examine its members. The Institute renders no treatment, performs no operations, but makes a scientific survey of your whole life and body to determine the need for medical treatment, for correction of defects, or better regulation of the ways of living. Every one should be examined at least once a year, either by the family physician, through the Life Extension Institute, or by any other accredited scientific agency, where the work can be competently done. GRIFFITH STOPS BILLY FREAS IN 7TH ROUND

BOX OFFICE MEN SING OLD SONG: BABE'S SLIPPING

Ruth's Contract's Up This Season.

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, N. Y., Feb. 4.—By a strange coincidence, both Col. Jake Ruppert, the employer of Babe Ruth, and E. Generous Barrow, business manager of the firm, have begun to discover serious flaws in their portly prodigy just at the start of the last year of his present contract, which calls for $70,000 a year. This presumes that those concerned have told the truth, as sometimes they do not.

COL. RUPPERT.

Col. Ruppert believes the Babe's career is drawing to a close and Mr. Barrow ranks him merely as a near great in one of those off season selections of the greatest baseball players of all time. Incidentally, these rankings, even when uttered by men who have played baseball, represent a high degree of futility and unimportance, but, when conceived by business managers whose interest has always been localized at the turnstiles, they compare with a moving picture magnate's selection of the best authors of the world.

Ruth Ended in Good Shape.

But to be quite fair about it, the winter must be recognized as the proprietor's time and the business manager's time to issue counter propaganda to offset the publicity which their employés command during the playing season. When Mr. Ruth canned the baseball out of bounds for three home runs in the final game of the world series, he seemed to be in fairly good shape and a useful baseball player whether you looked at him through the loophole in the business office up behind the stands, or from a customer's seat down in front.

The work of that lively afternoon, in St. Louis made Ruth a person of some temporary importance and it would have been poor policy for either his proprietor or his proprietors—yea Bo—to follow him into the papers the next day with a glum observation that the fat man was slipping or that he never was one, two or three among the greatest of all time.

The athletes are on the defensive in the winter. They maintain no steam heated offices with leather chairs to which the press may turn for that type of naive mystery making about so-called holdouts, idle conversation and propaganda which passes for baseball news between the close of the football season and the departure of the teams for their training and ballyhoo quarters in the south, in February.

That McGraw-Terry Case.

Sometimes the propaganda becomes pretty brazen as in the case of Mr. John McGraw's business dispute with his man, Bill Terry, the first baseman. One winter recently Mr. Terry rejected the salary proposal by Mr. McGraw as he had a right to do and Mr. McGraw used the newspapers and press associations to intimidate his employe and save a matter of a few thousand dollars. Bill Terry was not a good first baseman, anyway, Mr. McGraw said and Mr. Terry, at his home in Memphis, had no squad of baseball writers dropping around at his home to while away the winter afternoons and therefore was not heard in rebuttal.

Having carried his point, Mr. McGraw has been using Mr. Terry for his first base work ever since that time, leaving the baseball writers to suspect that he spoke from the bankroll and not from the heart when he said Mr. Terry was not his notion of a major league athlete.

There's a Flaw Somewhere.

Not to impugn the motives of Col. Ruppert and his thrifty yea-bo one may still wonder how they chanced to arrive at their rather low opinion of the Babe at the start of his last season under his existing contract in view of the fact that the last ball game he played was beyond question the greatest ball game he ever did play.

It seems curious also that, feeling thus about Mr. Ruth, they should say so in this frank manner because it is not the habit of the magnate to minimize the gifts of his own athletes. On the contrary, when a magnate does learn that one of his men has pulled up with a lame elbow, his instinctive policy is to say nothing about it and trade him to some other magnate, representing him to be sound of wind and limb.

The matter of gratitude is being mentioned in connection with Col. Ruppert's startling observations, but the obligation doesn't seem very strong. If the Babe has done much for his boss, the boss has done much for him, too. The boss, in association or connivance with other magnates, and without public announcement or admission of the fact, gave the Babe a baseball to hit which went leaping long distance at his hearty nudge, whereas the hitters in the years before him were compelled to work with a sodden quinsle.

PING PONG! PING PONG!

DEAR HARVEY: This guy Helper "Ambie" and his Winnetka friends can't claim any ping pong championship until he has played me and my partner. We have taken everything north of Cicero and are awaiting our next victims.

Furthermore, we are not dining room table pongists. No, sir! We have a regular ping pong salon with bar in connection. Our equipment consists of a regulation 5x9 tournament table properly striped and an assortment of racquets ranging from the leather and sand paper to the ordinary plywood type.

Suppose you use your influence to have THE TRIBUNE donate a sterling silver ping pong ball, actual size, to the ping pong player of greatest value to his team, and, with that as a nucleus, arrange a tournament.

Our location is Edgewood lane, Hubbard Woods, street number or telephone number furnished on application to aspiring challengers.

Bud and Edna.

Friend Harvey: They are way behind in Winnetka. Out here on the banks of the Papa-of-Waters we already have held the semi-finals in the Mississippi Valley Ping Pong tournament.

Some time when the Winnetka enthusiasts wish to continue their education will be right glad to take an evening off and show them the finer points of the game. No foolin', Harvey, it's a good bit of dissipation.

Davenport Dan.

Wake: I wonder if the Winnetka Ping Pongers would like a little outside competition from Park Ridge.

At the Radio.

Last night as I sat in my good arm chair,
Figuring how it would seem
To be in the southland's sunny clime,
I awoke as from a dream.
The radio was by my side;
I heard an oldtime tune,
Till a far-off voice from off the air
Said, "In Florida it's June.
They're playing golf, there's racing, too,
And every day a swim, there's fishing
And there's sailing," but with this
My eyes grew dim.
So I tuned another station
And waited for the call.
"A foot of snow and three below."
Well—I brought in Montreal.

HOCKEY OWNERS CONSIDER PLANS FOR 'OPEN' GAME

Want More Scoring; Title Rules Formulated.

New York, Feb. 4.—(AP)—The rules of hockey as applied to the National league will remain unchanged this season, the directors of the circuit decided at their annual meeting today.

The question of how to increase scoring was passed on to the board of governors, who will take it up at their meeting in May. Any changes decided on then probably will go into effect next season. The New York Rangers put forth two of the favored proposals. They were to allow forward passes in the attacking zone and to permit kicking the puck inside the blue line as well as back of it. The only offside left would be when the attacker kicked the rubber into the net.

Wants Penalty Shot.

A more radical suggestion was to add a penalty shot from 35 feet away from the goal to the regular penalty when a foul is committed by the defending side to save a certain goal. Another would force wingmen to start their back checking in center ice instead of retiring to their own defense zone as soon as the opposing team gets the puck by providing a penalty if they stand nearer their own goal than the center until the puck has passed that point.

May Play on March 17.

Plans for the playoff series for the Stanley cup, emblematic of the world's championship, occupied the greater part of the session. The plan decided on at the end of last season whereby the preliminary series are between the two groups rather than in them, was confirmed and further provisions were made in case of a tie for first, second or third place in either division.

The greatest number of victories, and hence the fewest ties, will decide all such deadlocks. In case these are the same the percentage of goals for and against each team will be the deciding factor.

The leaders in each division are to open the firing with a best three out of five series to determine the league champion. In case the two New York teams finish at the top this series will begin March 17. Otherwise dates will be set at the next meeting, March 4.

Horemans Is Beaten in First 18.2 Match

New York, Feb. 4.—[Special.]—Kinrey Matsuyama, national junior 18.2 balk line billiard champion, contributed an astounding surprise tonight in the opening game of the world's 18.2 balk line championship tournament by defeating Edouard Horemans of Belgium, defending title holder, by the score of 400 to 292.

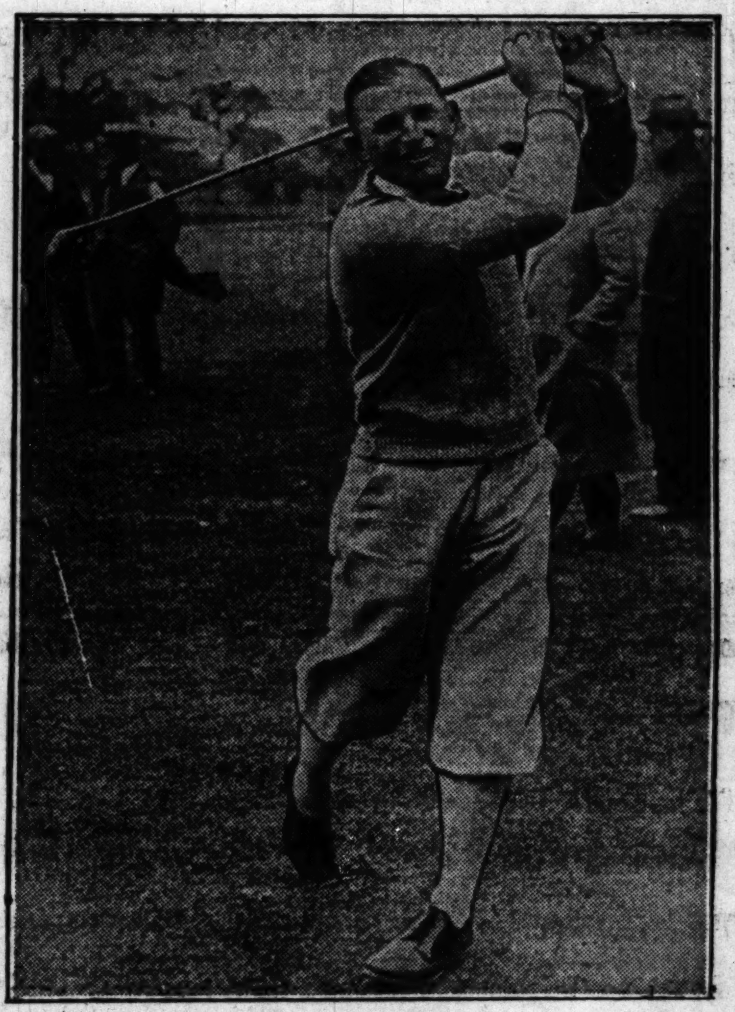
The Japanese, whose previous showings never warranted an outside chance of his crashing through to the top in major billiard warfare, scored an impressive triumph that caused his stock to soar considerably.

Matsuyama showed to great advantage, gaining the lead in the second inning and holding it relentlessly until the sixteenth, when he clinched the victory with a run of 30. Horemans, whose good showing in his first two innings stamped him as an almost certain winner, faltered suddenly in the third, and never regained his original adeptness until his rival was too far ahead of him.

The best run of the match was one of 89, garnered by Matsuyama in the tenth. He backed this performance with lesser clusters of 74 to 67, and gave an average performance of 25 per inning. The champion's high run was 59, in the 12th inning, followed by 58 in the 15th and 44 in the 16th.

Displaying no diffidence against the world's champion, the boy like Japanese went out for points early and at the end of the tenth session was leading by 322 to 53.

SHATTERS PAR



Wild Bill Mehlhorn, famed for his sporadic outbursts of brilliant golf, shattered par again yesterday to defeat Horton Smith and Bobby Cruickshank in the playoff for the south central open championship at Hot Springs, Ark.

Miss Killilea to Be President of Milwaukee Club

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 4.—(AP)—To interest more women in baseball and to win a pennant, those are the two ambitions of Florence Killilea, the youngest feminine owner of a baseball club in the country.

FLORENCE KILLILEA.

The pretty 26 year old heir of the Killilea interests in the Milwaukee Brewers of the American association made these revelations as she sat in the office of her attorneys today and announced that she would accept the presidency of the club.

"I don't know just when the stockholders' meeting will be held, but it will be some time soon and I will accept the presidency," she said with a smile, "until I prove I can make a go of it, or until I fail.

"Maybe I'll fail, but I want to take a whack at running the club. I think that's what dad would have wanted me to do. And I'm going after a pennant, too. That was my father's oft expressed desire."

Sonnenberg Returns to Mat; Whips Cantonwine

LEWIS BEATS M'MILLEN.

Bill Mehlhorn Breaks Par to Win 3d Title

Hot Springs, Ark., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Wild Bill Mehlhorn, who has dazzled the golf world for the last fortnight, added new luster to his record today by winning the South Central open, his third successive major winter tournament.

After tying Bobby Cruickshank, veteran Scot, and Horton Smith, young Joplin [Mo.] professional, with a 72 hole card of 290 yesterday, Mehlhorn came back to repulse them at every turn today in an 18 hole playoff for the title. With 36—34—70, two below par, he was two strokes ahead of Smith and six better than Cruickshank.

Clips Two from Par.

Mehlhorn's card compared with par:

Par—Out	543	454	344—36
Mehlhorn—Out	544	444	344—36
Par—In	344	553	444—36		36—72
Mehlhorn—In	344	443	444—34		36—70

Since the first of the year, Mehlhorn's achievements include a record 271 for competitive golf to win the El Paso open, a 277 record card for the Texas open at San Antonio, and a 290 here with a par slashing round in the playoff.

His work today was nearly perfect. His putting touch was deadly and his iron and wood shots true to the pin.

Smith Falters at 12th.

Cruickshank broke in the outgoing nine. Playing even through the sixth, he took a four on the short seventh when his putting went awry. At No. 9 he was again one over when he had a sliced tee shot and a hard approach. From then on he was never really a serious threat. Smith's chances faded after the 12th hole. Some 2,000 formed the gallery.

Keep Strib on Ground

Joey Sangor and Tony Canzoneri are ready for the fight of their careers when they meet at the Coliseum tomorrow night.

Both fighters finished training yesterday. Sangor boxed two rounds with Solly Schuman, local bantamweight, but guarded against injury to his hands. He did not try to land a solid punch.

Canzoneri, a glutton for work, boxed five rounds. He tore into Jackie Stewart of Louisville for two rounds and then traded punches with Harry Dublinsky for three sessions. Both Sangor and Canzoneri are under the required weight.

Lou Sangor, who directs his brother, yesterday wagered $500 against $650 that Joey wins. The prevailing odds are 6 and 7 to 5.

Promoter Mullen yesterday declared he has taken precautions to keep seats out of the hands of scalpers. The boxes and first 15 rows of seats have been sold to regular customers, according to the promoter. The public sale was exhausted last Thursday.

Schmeling to Fight for N. Y. Group.

New York, Feb. 4.—[Special.]—Max Schmeling, German heavyweight, will fight exclusively for the Madison Square Garden corporation for the next two years. This was announced today by Col. John S. Hammond, acting head of the Garden. The young German, who knocked out Johnny Risko last Friday night, signed the contract on Saturday.

The contract also stipulates that in the event that Schmeling should win the world's heavyweight title his first defense of his crown will be made under the direction of the Garden.

Schmeling, incidentally, is not likely to do any more fighting in this country until after his triumphant visit to the homeland. He plans to leave about Feb. 15. In other words, his scheduled bout with Con O'Kelly in Boston on Feb. 15 probably is off. This situation was ironed out today by Col. Hammond and Huntington Hardwick, chairman of the Boston Madison Square Garden.

The final details of cancelling this contract have not yet been completed, but there isn't any doubt Schmeling will be permitted to withdraw from the bout.

Dempsey Seeks Court Order Against Planes.

Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 4.—[U. P.]—Jack Dempsey today instructed his attorneys to start action seeking an injunction to keep Young Bill Stribling safely on the ground before the Sharkey-Stribling fight Feb. 27.

Dempsey has forbidden Stribling to fly, but without effect. The former heavyweight champion learned today that the Georgian has been spending an average of an hour a day in the air.

In the injunction Dempsey also will ask that Stribling be forbidden to ride motorcycles. The Georgia heavyweight has evolved a hobby of stealing mounts from Miami Beach cops and going for fast rides.

CLEVELAND WINS TITLE; TROUNCES FT. WAYNE, 19-17

Fort Wayne, Ind., Feb. 4.—(AP)—By a margin of two points, in a thrilling finish the Cleveland Rosenblums won the first half championship of the American league basketball race here tonight, defeating Fort Wayne Hoosiers, 19 to 17.

Cleveland gained the victory by coming from behind in the last five minutes after Chadwick and Saunders, two main cogs of the local team, were ousted on personal fouls. Free throws decided the issue.

In the closing stages of the game the Cleveland players made six points from the foul line to overcome the Fort Wayne lead. Lineup:

TUFFY GRIFFITH.

Appearance of Griffith, who will meet Leo Lomski in Detroit on Feb. 15, attracted a crowd of 3,300 fans. The receipts were about $7,200.

Griffith was master in every round. In the first his left hooks and right crosses sent Freas against the ropes several times. Tuffy kept up his relentless attack in the second round and Billy was in a bad way at the bell. At the close of the third, Griffith staggered Freas with a right cross.

Freas Goes Down.

When the fourth round opened, Tuffy tore in and planted a right cross on Freas' jaw. Billy went down and took a nine count. He hung on for the remainder of the round. In the fifth and sixth rounds Freas held on and it was apparent he was trying to stay the limit. Early in the seventh, Griffith crossed a solid right to the jaw. The blow sent the Grand Rapids fighter staggering around the ring and Referee Joe McNamara stopped the fight after the round was fifty-six seconds old. Griffith weighed 177½ and Freas, 183½.

Panek Beats Cherry.

Johnny Panek, lightweight, was given the decision over Bernie Cherry in the four round opener. King Levinsky, middleweight, won by a technical knockout from Billy O'Brien in the third round of the second fight. In the other fights, Danny Delmont, lightweight, won all the way from Jimmy Harris and Pete Westort, heavyweight, was given the six round decision over Bud Doran.

Sammy Ford was the other referee and the judges were Capt. William R. O'Connor, R. H. Bell and Jack Nisberg.

Illinois Falls Before Butler Five, 33-28

Champaign, Ill., Feb. 4.—[Special.]—The University of Illinois basketball team found the Butler quintet a bit too strong here tonight and went down to a 33 to 28 defeat before a crowd of approximately 6,000.

The Illinois five, minus "Chuck" Harper, who was lost in the recent shuffle of semester examinations, played the Indianapolis boys on even terms during the first half, which ended in a 14 to 14 deadlock.

A string of seven straight foul throws scored by Chandler put Butler far out in front early in the second half. Then, with the Hoosier quintet holding a ten point lead, Illinois, led by How and Capt. Dorn, started a rally that tied the score.

Bugg, husky Hoosier center, put his team in the lead almost immediately, and the Illinois rally went for naught as the two teams finished the last few minutes on even terms.

Edwards, who replaced the ineligible Harper, played a great floor game. Mills, Dorn and How were the usual strong cogs in the Illinois offensive. Bugg, Christopher and Chandler were big factors in the Butler victory. Lineup:

MAIDEN'S CHOICE, AT 7 TO 1, WINS FEATURE AT N. O.

Beats Buttered Toast by Fast Stretch Run.

New Orleans, La., Feb. 4.—[Special.]—Maiden's Choice, the chestnut 3 year old by Sporting Blood and out of Leap Year that Bud Fisher bred, won the Churchill Downs purse, feature at the Fair Grounds race track here today. The victory was hard earned and was the colt's second triumph of the meeting, the previous win being over the highly favored Calf Roper.

Jockey J. McCoy was in the saddle and rode a see saw race with Maiden's Choice but as he landed him in the winning notch, there was no fault to be found with his effort. Breaking the colt in front McCoy kept him in the lead to the quarter pole, where he allowed him to drop back as the others swept around the turn.

In the stretch Maiden's Choice came with a new challenge and gradually worked his way into the lead. He was an outsider in the betting paying more than 7 to 1 to his backers.

SNOWY EASY WINNER

Miami, Fla., Feb. 4.—[Special.]—The Tryster 2 year old filly Snowy that Walter J. Salmon brought out at this meeting scored her second victory today, when she was an easy winner of the Florida East Coast purse at 3 furlongs. Ten came out for the test which was run over a fast track and Regular Broom, another filly, was the favorite largely on the strength of a decisive victory in her previous start.

Delicate Braised Sweetbreads with Fresh Mushrooms

This week on the BROADWAY LIMITED

"I hate a man who swallows it, affecting not to know what he is eating. I suspect his taste in higher matters"...

So wrote Charles Lamb of a dish far less prized by epicures than this Pennsylvania specialty. For in this, two royal flavors blend—the mellow richness of mushrooms—the delicacy of sweetbreads with tart but subtle undertones of bayleaf, butter, onion, carrot, and celery.

It's a feast for the eye as well!—when it is set before you—sprinkled with finely chopped fresh parsley—on crisp toast—piping hot—with gravy.

Delicate and tender—melting in your mouth—it is yet so rich and flavorful that it furnishes the most satisfying of meals and leaves the most pleasant of memories.

All this week on Pennsylvania dining cars, epicures will enjoy the rarity. Ask for it—Braised Sweetbreads with Fresh Mushrooms.

I'll Whip Any Beard

With This Shaving Discovery

YOU men with beards like wire. You black whiskered fellows who find twice-a-day shaving often little enough. Here's good news. Kolax will tame any beard. Science has found the way to really soften any beard. Just wet the face. Spread Kolax thinly over the beard. And shave.

No soap. No brush. No lather. Lotions are now needless. The whole operation takes but five minutes or less. Thus you cut the time for shaving half.

Every man with a wiry beard or a tender face knows that soap, whether cake, powder or cream is a makeshift. Soap irritates. Lather is a bother. And it can do nothing more than hold the stubble erect.

Kolax acts directly upon the hair. At its touch each separate hair swells one-fifth. It becomes soft—spongy. The razor cuts smoothly; coolly; in long; even strokes. No scraping. No pulling. And it smoothes and soothes the skin. With every shave the skin is bettered. Takes on new life. You will feel the difference the first day.

Make this Test Free

Kolax is now made in two forms. Except in one particular they are the same. One is Kolax as now used by thousands. The other is Kolax with menthol added. Some prefer it for the added pleasing tingle to the skin. I ask your help in deciding which is most delightful and refreshing. I invite you to test this new discovery in brushless shaving—quicker—infinitely more pleasant. Mail the coupon below. The test outfit containing two 10-cent tubes (one with—one without menthol) will be sent you Free and Post Paid. Make this test at once.

BOSSES OF ELDER LEAGUE ADOPT SCHEDULE TODAY

Hold Solemn Conclave in New York.

New York, Feb. 4.—[Special.]—Baseball's closing gesture of the waning off-season will be enacted tomorrow when the owners of the National league hold their annual spring schedule meeting here.

It promises to be even more void of excitement than any of the other major league meetings this winter, for about the only business to be transacted will be the ratification of the schedule which was drafted several weeks ago.

All this, however, will not interfere with the National leaguers' conducting the event with all the solemnity the occasion demands.

Last Meeting at Waldorf.

In fact, the meeting promises to be more solemn than ever, for it will mark the last meeting of any sort the National leaguers ever will hold in the historic Waldorf hotel, which is to be demolished before another off-season comes around. To commemorate the event a farewell jubilee dinner will be held directly after the meeting, and doubtless more than one tear will be shed as the owners swap tales of another day when the halls of the Waldorf rang to the toasts and the clinking glasses as the magnates gathered around the famous Waldorf bar.

Adoption of the schedule tomorrow is not expected to take more than a few moments. Several weeks ago, while there still was some doubt about Boston getting Sunday baseball, two schedules were drawn. Tomorrow the one which provides for Sunday games in the Hub will be adopted with fitting ceremony and a round of cheers for Boston.

About the only other business on the calendar calls for action on certain amendments to the league's constitution, pertaining to the procedure in clubs asking for waivers.

REBUKE BRAVES' OWNERS

Boston, Mass., Feb. 4.—[Special.]—The city council today voted to table the Braves' application for a Sunday baseball license for one week and adopted a resolution for a public hearing before the executive committee next Friday afternoon to hear representatives of the Braves on questions of policy.

President Emil Fuchs and Vice President Adams of the Braves were bitterly assailed by Councilmen Lynch and Dowd in one of the stormiest executive sessions the council ever has witnessed. The Braves' executives were called "delibate liars" and those councilmen favoring the granting of license were accused of "shaking in their boots."

Ask for Ruling.

The motion to table the Braves' application for a license was made by Councilman Frederick E. Dowling executive session on the grounds that an opinion on that part of the Sunday baseball act relating to the distance between a place of worship and a ball park should be asked from the corporation counsel and a ruling from the park department regarding the taking up of collections by amateur baseball teams be obtained.

St. Augustine, Fla., Feb. 4.—[Special.]—Johnny Farrell, American open golf champion, who is located here during the winter months as professional, played his first round today with the new ball over St. Augustine links. This ball, which is under consideration by the executive committee of the United States Golf association as becoming the standard ball, is slightly larger and somewhat lighter than the present ball.

Farrell is rather enthusiastic about the new ball. He scored practically as well in a wind today with the new ball as he has with the old one.

Fenger Beats Morgan Park to Hold Lead

Fenger heavies tightened their grip on first place in the south section of the City High school basketball league yesterday by defeating Morgan Park, 30 to 19, on the loser's floor. It was Fenger's fifth victory in six league contests. Raschwal was the mainspring in the winner's attack with five baskets and six free throws.

In the lightweight game, Morgan Park took a 25 to 22 battle. The defeat gave Fenger lights a record of three victories and three defeats, the same as Morgan Park. They now share third place. Heavyweight lineup:

Sleep Vanishes as Geese Stage Revel Under Moon

BY BOB BECKER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Grand Chenier, La., Feb. 4.—If you ever visit this interesting section of birdland at a time when moonlight nights are on the calendar, don't camp anywhere near the roosting place of the blue and snow geese if you wish to get any sleep after sundown. We can assure you that sleep is out of the question on a moonlight night if you unwisely bivouac close to five or ten thousand of these beautiful honkers, because they make more whoopee, do more unnecessary honking and keep the worst hours we know of in birdland.

A moonlight night is nothing less than bedlam. It sounds as if every male goose were trying to outhonk his rival, while the ladies keep up a continual chattering with the result that one of these goose revels can be heard for miles.

Canada Goose Absent.

We haven't seen a Canada goose in the Rockefeller wild refuge since we have been here, although there are large flocks wintering to the east of here. Perhaps it is just as well, for if the deep voiced Canadian honkers were to join in these night celebrations most of the other birds would have to move in order to get a little rest.

We watched some of the blues and the snows come into their roost tonight along toward sunset. They were several thousand strong and presented a striking picture flying over the marsh, each bird tuning up his voice for the all night gabbing contest. Mixed among the white headed blue geese were just enough all white snow geese to make the whole flock a lovely sight in the late afternoon sun.

Circle Over Camp Site.

When the first birds in the flock reached the pasture where they were going to spend the night they started to circle. Then we could detect a change in their honking. It may have been a note of joy or pleasure. Possibly it was worry. We do not know. Anyway, within a few minutes the entire flock was formed in a big circle high in the heavens. Gradually the honkers, still gabbing and talking, dropped lower, making a big funnel. Then, as the first birds alighted in safety, others literally poured out of the sky until all were down.

Looking across the open pasture we could see a regular field of "snowy white." And they were safe for the night. There is no shooting on the refuge. Here is a winter haven which, with the other refuges along the coast, augurs well for the future of the blue and the snow geese. After breeding on the eastern shores of Hudson bay, making the long flight over Canada and down the Mississippi, these beautiful geese find rest, food, and safety from guns in the Louisiana wild life refuges.

Mandell Hurts Shoulder, but Outpoints Davis

Peoria, Ill., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Sammy Mandell, lightweight champion, coasted to an easy referee's decision over Don Davis of Chicago in ten rounds tonight. Mandell wrenched his left shoulder in the ninth round, but the injury is not believed to be serious enough to necessitate more than an ordinary rest.

Mandell's title was not at stake. He won almost as he pleased, outclassing Davis from the start.

Notes from Cue Halls

Allan Hall defeated Augie Kieckhefer 50 to 46 in 53 innings yesterday afternoon at Kieckhefer's billiard parlor. Kieckhefer won the night game by the score of 54 to 48. These were the first two blocks of a 400 point match.

In a Chicago Billiard league match at the Sheridan Recreation Parlors Joe Wright beat Ed Peters, 20 to 5 in 16 ninings in the first game. Peters won the second, 23 to 18 in 38 innings.

In another match at the Madison-Kedzie Parlors, Charles Le Gros defeated Lewis Thompson, 25 to 18 in the first game of 50 innings, and lost in the second, 20 to 22, in 33 innings.

Wildcats Face Indiana Five; Walter's Out

Northwestern university's basketball athletes left last night for Bloomington, where tonight they will resume their conference campaign against Indiana in the Hoosiers' new fieldhouse.

Both teams, together with Illinois, are in a triple tie for sixth position in the Big Ten standing, each having won two out of five games. A victory tonight means the undisputed leadership of the second division to either.

Russell Walter, the Purple's convalescent star, was included in the squad that entrained southward last night, but Coach Lonborg said it was a practical certainty that he would not get in the game.

Four Chicago Women Qualify in Miami Golf

Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 4.—[Special.] — Four Chicago women today were among the 60 qualifiers for the annual Miami Beach women's golf championship which gets under way with match play tomorrow over the Bayshore course. Mrs. John Arends of Kildeer slipped under the first flight barrier with 94; Mrs. H. W. Tupper of Olympia Fields had 103, and Mrs. R. B. Rogers 105 to qualify in the second flight. Mrs. Peter Schmidt turned in 116 to get in the third sixteen.

Medalist honors were won by Mrs. H. D. Sterritt of Hutchinson, Kas., who toured the course in 83. Mrs. P. S. Hill of Kansas City, the defending champion, is not competing.

[Copyright: 1929: By The Chicago Tribune.]

CAPE TOWN, Union of South Africa, Feb. 4.—Capt. Malcolm Campbell with his Blue Bird automobile, an airplane, and motorcycles, arrived in Cape Town today. He hopes to beat the automobile speed record at Verneuk Pan within the next ten days.

He announced that the racing at Daytona Beach, Fla., left much to be desired and therefore the Verneuk Pan attempt was the most interesting experiment he had ever made.

"If I succeed," he said, "no one will wish to race on the treacherous Daytona Beach sands again, and Verneuk Pan will be the center of the high speed motor racing world."

Capt. Campbell was received by the earl of Athlone, governor general of the Union of South Africa, this morning.

TO TRY AGAIN.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 4.—(AP)—The American Automobile association announced today that J. M. White of Philadelphia would again send his Triplex automobile speedster to Daytona Beach, Fla., this spring in an attempt to break the mile straightaway record it now holds. The association also said that Ralph De Palma, veteran driver, who first set the Daytona Beach mark at 149.875 miles an hour in 1919, may succeed Ray Keech at the wheel of the Triplex. The announcement was made almost on the eve of the arrival of Maj. H. O. D. Segrave, former record holder, from England with his mysterious Golden Arrow for an attempt to regain the speed mark.

The present mark of 207.552 miles an hour was set last April by Ray Keech in White's Triplex.

Canada, U. S. to Open Play for Davis Cup

PARIS, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Tennis players of the United States will meet Canada in the first round of the Davis cup play in the American zone, the draw at Elysees palace decreed today. The winner will play Japan in the second round and the victor in this match will oppose the winner of the Cuba-Mexico match in the finals.

Only one of the four favored European zone teams will play in the first round. Czecho-Slovakia meets Austria in the opener. Germany and Spain are scheduled to clash in one of the second round ties, while Italy has drawn a comparatively soft opponent in Ireland. The South American entry, Chile, will play Denmark in a first round match.

The complete European zone draw:

FIRST ROUND — Austria vs. Czecho-Slovakia; Belgium vs. Roumania; Denmark vs. Chile; Greece vs. Jugo-Slavia; Norway vs. Hungary; Monaco vs. Switzerland; Finland vs. Egypt; Holland vs. Portugal.

SECOND ROUND—Germany vs. Spain; Ireland vs. Italy; Sweden vs. South Africa; Great Britain vs. Poland.

The draw is arranged in that order with the winners of the first round ties following those who drew byes in the second round brackets.

SAINTS TRADE PITCHER.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Pitcher Herb McQuaid has been traded by the St. Paul club of the American Association to the Mission club of the Pacific Coast league for Pitcher Bill Hughes.

FOUR CHICAGO U. TEAMS IN ACTION THIS WEEK-END

Four University of Chicago teams will go into action this week-end. In addition, the annual Cook county swimming interscholastic will be held in Bartlett gymnasium Friday and Saturday.

Ned Merriam's track team, conqueror of Minnesota by a 54-26 margin in its opening meet last Saturday, journeys to Purdue for a duel with the Boilermakers. Purdue has not been in competition this season, so little is known of its strength.

Martin Leads Purdue.

However, Orval Martin, Boilermaker middle distance runner, will be a hard man to beat. Capt. Williams will face him in the half mile and Coach Merriam expects to send Dale Letts, sophomore ace, against Martin in the mile run.

The Maroon basketball team will enter the second lap of the conference race Saturday night against Illinois at Bartlett. The Illini scored a three point victory at Champaign, but Chicago expects to even the count on its home floor.

Wrestling After Cage Game.

Immediately following the basketball game, the Maroon wrestling team will meet Wisconsin.

Dan Hofer's gymnasium team, apparently well on the way to another conference title, will journey to Milwaukee Saturday for a return meet with the Y. M. C. A. team of that city. Chicago won the engagement in Bartlett gymnasium two weeks ago.

½ ton Reo Junior Speed Wagon used by Mr. Fred E. Evans of New York

The Most Profitable Advertising He Ever Did

High-Class Delivery—The Cheapest Advertising You Can Buy

"WHEN I was in the market for a delivery car, I bought the Reo Speed Wagon for its advertising value as well as for useful delivery and I wish to write a note of appreciation of the wonderful possibilities that the Reo Junior Speed Wagon which I purchased a year ago has brought forth.

"In the first place, I wanted a light delivery car principally to advertise flowers delivered by telegraph. With this in mind I had printed all over my Speed Wagon this special service which we render.

"Then I immediately stopped all my direct-by-mail advertisements while using the Speed Wagon for delivery. The fact that my 'flowers delivered by telegraph' business has increased this year, shows that people are quick to notice smart-looking delivery. My direct-by-mail advertising is now a very small factor in my business.

"I am very proud of my Reo Speed Wagon and more than pleased with the way it operates.

"Yours for Flower Service."

PLAN TWIN FLAT BUILDINGS AT CYRIL-71ST PL.

Reported Cost to Be One Million Dollars.

BY AL CHASE.

Plans have been drawn for twin apartment buildings at the southwest corner of Cyril avenue and East 71st place, in the Bryn Mawr district, which will cost a reported $1,000,000. Each will have fifty-one furnished apartments of one, two and three rooms. The buildings will occupy a site 115@110. One will be christened the Bedford and the twin will be known as the Bedford Villa apartments.

Work is scheduled to start within three or four weeks. The architect is Paul Frederick Olsen. The project is being financed by the Provident State Securities company, which has underwritten two $310,000 ten year six per cent loans. These two buildings are on what was once known as the Seipp farm. It is claimed that $3,500,000 worth of buildings have been erected on nearby lots, also formerly part of the farm, during the last two years. Maurice Frank was broker in the purchase of the site for the two new buildings.

Sell 19 Flat Building.

John and Rose Verzal have sold the nineteen apartments at 4341-43 North Ashland avenue, lot 50x160, to John Epp for an undisclosed consideration, subject to $80,000. The six flats at 4426 North Racine avenue were given in part payment. Arthur Kruggel & Co. were brokers.

Morris Schnee of New York bought the 50x125 at 3341 West Roosevelt road from the Foreman Trust & Savings bank, trustee, and will start work May 1 on a two story brick building to be occupied by the W. T. Grant company under a thirty year lease which calls for a net term rental of $570,000. The lessee operates a chain of nickel to dollar stores. Rosenberg & Lurie and the C. F. Noyes National Realty company were brokers.

Down Town Lease.

Holsman & Co., wholesale jewelers, for twenty-five years on Madison, west of Clark, have leased the entire third floor Wabash avenue frontage of the Mallers building through Bernard E. Green of Hooker & Slosson.

The Chicago Cadillac-La Salle company has leased for ten years a stone front sales and service agency to be erected on the south side of 71st street, just east of Jeffery avenue, by Henry Hedberg and Adolph Lindstrom. McKey & Poague were brokers.

The Consumers Hat Factory, Inc., operating a chain of millinery stores, have leased the following stores: 6009 Irving Park boulevard, 7909½ Cottage Grove avenue, 7135 West Grand avenue, 4035 Milwaukee avenue, and 11 North Prospect street, Park Ridge. The Bloch Realty company was broker.

MERCHANTS HOLD REGULAR TRADE MEETING HERE

The fifteenth semi-annual convention of the Interstate Merchants council will open today in the Hotel Sherman to continue until Thursday, according to an announcement yesterday from council headquarters.

The Chicago Association of Commerce will entertain members of the I. N. C. at a luncheon in the hotel at noon. Frank F. Winans, president of the association of commerce, will deliver the address of welcome, while the main speaker at the banquet will be William Nelson Taft, editor of the Retail Ledger of Philadelphia, who will talk on "What is Necessary to Retail Business in 1929." Numerous talks on matters of mercantile interest will be given on the two following days.

A theater party for delegates is planned for Wednesday night, while a dinner dance at the hotel will close the convention Thursday evening. Over four thousand delegates are expected to attend the convention.

An infants' and children's style show, one of the first to be held in Chicago, was part of the program at the banquet of the Chicago Infants' and Children's Wear association last night at the Palmer house. A moving picture showing a two day trip through the Chicago market was also shown. Dr. W. A. Evans, health expert for THE TRIBUNE, addressed the afternoon meeting of the association on the relation of clothing to health.

White Eagle Oil and Refining.

H. H. S.—Better results in the second and third quarters of 1928 than in the corresponding periods of 1927 make it possible for White Eagle Oil and Refining company to report profits of $3.03 a share on its 490,000 no par shares, against $1.75 a share the year before.

The recent reduction in crude oil prices should tend to help the company, as it buys most of the crude it refines.

It reported net sales totaling $18,129,838 for 1928, as compared with $16,356,295 for 1927.

Net income for 1928 was $1,485,324, which compares with $872,724 for 1927.

On the balance sheet as of Dec. 31, 1928, the item "capital and surplus" is carried at $13,736,140, as against $13,578,023 on Dec. 31, 1927.

The dividend was increased last fall from a $1 annual basis to the present rate of $2 a share.

The stock deserves a fair rating.

In addition, plans are under way for the construction of five 70 foot steel horse cars, twenty-four new steel suburban coaches, four steel suburban combination baggage and smokers, one steel café car, five steel combination passenger and baggage cars.

SPECULATION IS NATIONAL GAME; BORROW TO PLAY

Stock Market Loans Rise in January.

BY O. A. MATHER.

It is taking more and more money to play the stock market these days. Speculation has become the great national game and the players are constantly increasing the stakes. They borrowed a few additional hundred million dollars last month to increase their play.

The members of the New York stock exchange alone on Jan. 21 were borrowing $6,735,164,242 to lend to their customers, according to the monthly report issued by the stock exchange last night. This is the highest amount ever reached and marked an increase of $295,423,731 over Dec. 31, 1928. It also marks an increase of $2,314,811,701, or more than 50 per cent, over a year ago.

Current Expansion.

The current expansion coincides with the sharp recovery of stock prices following the December break, which held the increase in loans in that month down to $48,000,000 following an upturn of nearly $512,000,000 in November. In January last year loans declined more than $10,000,000.

The increase in loans this month was about what had been expected, as the weekly reports issued by the federal reserve board on loans to brokers and dealers by the New York reserve member banks had indicated. These reports showed an expansion of about $229,000,000 between Jan. 2 and Jan. 30. The stock exchange figures are always larger, both as to total and changes, than those of the reserve board.

The present increase in loans, however, dispelled hopes of relatively easy money rates, as did also the weekly report on the condition of reporting reserve member banks, issued yesterday by the reserve board. In the final week of January these banks increased their loans on securities by $100,000,000 and the total on Jan. 30 stood at $7,444,000,000. At the same time they increased their borrowings at the reserve banks by $26,000,000 and reduced their own investments in securities by $18,000,000.

Sears-Roebuck Expands.

Further expansion into the chain store field was announced yesterday by Sears, Roebuck & Co., Chicago's big mail order house. President R. E. Wood told the regional executives that this year's program will involve establishing twenty retail department stores in the larger cities of the United States and 150 smaller retail stores in less populous cities. At the beginning of this year the company had ten mail order plants, 37 large department stores, and 155 smaller retail stores. Five years ago there were only four mail order plants.

"The successful business of today does not attempt to secure low operating costs by low wages," he added. "The greatest phenomenon of American business during the last ten years has been the spectacle of continually decreasing costs and yet steadily rising wages. I want our employés to be as well or better paid for work of a similar character than anywhere in the United States."

Financing of six new stores to be leased by the company has been arranged by the Foreman Trust and Savings bank. This financing is not being done directly by Sears-Roebuck, but is merely on property to be leased. The stores will be located in Rochester, Syracuse, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Louisville, and Houston, and will be opened during this year.

Says 6 of Largest Concerns Will Not Make Call Loans

New York, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Six of the nation's largest corporations have refrained from lending money on call, the National City bank says in a current review of the money and banking situation. They are United States Steel, American Telephone and Telegraph, General Electric, General Motors, American Radiator and National Biscuit.

Martin Insull Has Reply for Utility Charge

BY SCRUTATOR.

Gifford Pinchot's charges concerning the existence of a great power monopoly in the United States are regarded as merely mildly annoying by Chicago utility men.

Among other things Mr. Pinchot asserted that six groups linked together by common interest dominate 63 per cent of electrical power production, that they have three billions of water in their total capitalization of eight billions and that they take 210 millions of dollars a year from the people in excessive rates.

The Insull interests, according to the former Pennsylvania governor, are one of the Big Six. Here's what Martin Insull, president of the Middle West Utilities company, had to say yesterday about watered stock:

No Water Here.

"It is easy to make general statements. I have no complete knowledge about companies other than ours. But I'd like to find some one who could locate much water in our stocks. Under present conditions it would be impossible to get a rate based on inflated capitalization.

"Before we can sell a security we must have the approval of the commissions. We have to show them what we are going to do with the money.

"There may have been water once in utility stocks. There was water in the early railroads, too. But it has all been squeezed out. There had to be large profits in view for the pioneer promoters to make their large risks attractive. But with the coming of strict regulation that ended.

"I have seen figures compiled by magazine writers to show that the actual value of utility properties in the country is more than the total capitalization."

Would Satisfy All.

The management of the companies he represents, Mr. Insull added, was interested in getting lower rates, in satisfying the consumer of power as well as the stockholder of the company.

Other men in the utility field were inclined to smile rather broadly over the charge that "the central banking group, which is the central power group," dominated the sales of securities and permitted or refused to permit the public to invest in certain stocks. They declared the companies had to satisfy the bankers just as any other industry would and that the banks thoroughly regulated the amount of funded debt in relationship to stocks.

One observer, who wouldn't be quoted on the subject, held that the joint committee of public utilities named by Mr. Pinchot as one of the tying in factors was just about as much a source of annoyance to utilities as Mr. Pinchot.

PHONE CALLS RING UP LARGEST PROFITS IN ILL. BELL HISTORY

The Illinois Bell Telephone company, which serves Chicago and is a subsidiary of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, earned the greatest amount in its history last year. Telephone operating revenues totaled $80,860,610, an increase of $8,067,766 over 1927. Net income was $11,789,604, equivalent to $10.71 a share on its $110,000,000 capital stock. Net income for 1927 was $9,206,893, or $8.36 a share.

The company last year paid $8,800,000, or 8 per cent, in dividends, practically all of which went to the American Telephone and Telegraph company, which holds more than 99 per cent of the stock. Then it added $2,986,649 to surplus, which now stands at $16,150,653. On July 1 next the company will issue an additional $40,000,000 of stock at par, practically all of which will go to American Telephone.

The sum of $34,589,016 was expended on new construction. A total of 76,738 subscribers' stations was added, bringing total stations up to 1,755,268. The daily average number of local telephone calls was 6,159,500, of which 4,070,000 occurred in Chicago. Toll calls averaged 232,800 calls a day.

Chain Store Co. Sales Rise Over 12% Last Month

National Bellas Hess Company, Inc., chain store operator, reports net receipts of $2,816,533 in January, against $2,501,112 in January, 1928, an increase of 12.61 per cent.

REDUCE COST OF TIRES AS CRUDE RUBBER RISES

Battle for Business Grows Intense.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Feb. 4.—A general reduction in the price of rubber tires which lowers the rates by from 2½ to 10 per cent has been carried out by leading manufacturers with the B. F. Goodrich company in the lead. This marks the second wholesale reduction in prices since last October.

The revised schedules brought 2½ to 5 per cent reductions on standard balloon sizes used on Ford and Chevrolet models, and also on tires for larger cars. The reductions were as much as 10 per cent in the case of certain sizes of cord tires. One tire style was advanced in price.

Officials of the companies deny that the reduction followed the recently announced cuts by mail order houses. In the latter part of December the catalogues of Sears, Roebuck & Co. and Montgomery Ward & Co. carried downward revisions of 7 to 20 per cent.

The revision came on the heels of an upward movement in crude rubber, which is quoted around 22 cents against 18¾ cents a pound at the time of the October reductions.

"The battle among manufacturers for the larger tire merchants, more particularly those who are diversifying their dealers' stores, either buying tense daily," says Cram's Automotive Reports, Inc. "Several major manufacturers are taking over many of their dealer's stores, either buying them outright or controlling them on a 51-49 basis, with the former owners employed as managers."

Price of Copper Advances; So Do Wages of Miners

Butte, Mont., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Miners and others employed on a daily basis by the larger copper producing companies in the Butte district today received a wage increase of 25c a day. The increase will be paid as long as the retail price of copper remains at 17c or more a pound. An increase of 50c a day was granted last October based on 15c copper.

Continued steady foreign demand for copper and reluctance of producers to sell caused market observers to predict today that the price of the metal would be advanced another quarter of a cent a pound before the end of the week, to 17½c, domestic.

Stock Values Gain Nearly Three Billions in January

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Feb. 4.—An appreciation of about two and three-quarter billions of dollars in 225 stocks listed on the "big board" is noted in a Wall street compilation for January. The exact increase in the market value of the issues selected was $2,738,945,569.

This figure compares with but $219,026,227 increase in December. It was, as a matter of fact, the largest gain by the stocks in this particular list since last March, with the sole exception of November, when the record breaking rise of $4,451,379,811 took place in these stocks.

Largest Group Gain.

All of the twenty-four groups into which the list has been divided appreciated in value last month excepting two. Those two were the oils and the rubber shares. The largest group gain was by the utilities. The twenty stocks in that division appreciated $927,996,301.

The great rise in the group was due largely to a gain of $345,154,929 in American Telephone & Telegraph. The next most important advance in values was registered by the chemical stocks, which appreciated $629,934,290 in value. In that case, too, the rise in one stock, Du Pont de Nemours, accounted for much of the gain. That stock appreciated $463,823,250 in value during the month.

Well Distributed.

Railroad shares made the third largest group gain with an aggregate appreciation of $257,321,978, but in their case the advance was not due to any outstanding issue but to a well distributed rise in the 25 stocks in the group. Individually, the four leading issues were, in order of their gain in value: Du Pont, American Telephone & Telegraph, General Motors and United States Steel common.

FIRST NATIONAL GIVES 48 MILLION IN STOCK SPLIT

The stockholders of the First National bank yesterday cut a $48,000,000 melon. They voted to increase the capital stock from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000 and to distribute the additional $5,000,000 on the basis of one new share for each three shares held.

This is the first stock dividend in the 65 year history of the First National bank. It is in preparation for consolidation with the Union Trust company. The stockholders will vote formally on the merger next Monday. Then the First National bank's capital again will be increased to $24,000,000 and the additional stock will be given to Union Trust stockholders in a share for share exchange.

The actual merger of the two big downtown banks is scheduled to take place next Tuesday, a holiday, when approximately $100,000,000 of assets of the Union Trust company will be moved from its building at Madison and Dearborn streets to the First National building at Dearborn and Monroe streets. Elaborate preparations for safeguarding the transfer of this great amount of cash and securities are being made.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Feb. 4. — Unforeseen kinks in the credit situation mussed up the big bull parade to some extent on the stock market again today.

Any number of recent speculative favorites, including dividend paying rails which were so well liked in the earlier stages of the "demonstration" last week, were knocked about for a time. The oils were thrown overboard as a group, the coppers fell into disfavor and the rubber and tire shares were driven downward.

Motor stocks were listless and inclined to weakness.

Public utilities as a class maintained their recent gains well and various issues of the divison went on ahead.

Trading again reached a new record range, a total of 837 separate issues being dealt in, as compared with the previous record total of 827, established on Jan. 28 last. A number of stocks which have been inactive for some time were brought into the line anew. The turnover amounted to 4,041,600 shares.

Best Gains.

The best gains were made by such independent issues as Radio, Remington-Rand, Coca Cola, Shattuck, American Express, United States Realty, Wright Aero, Devoe and the low priced rails with merger possibilities.

Taken as a whole the market probably showed a slight predominance of gains, with the widest changes being on the upside, but the list presented a decided irregular appearance throughout.

The chief factor of the upset was provided by an unexpected firmness in money, with the rate for call loans

Broad outside demand yesterday elevated hog prices 10@20c, while cattle and lambs declined. Extreme top hogs at $10.15 equaled the highest since Oct. 17, being 45c above the low day last week and $1.65 above the lowest day the middle of December. Shippers bought 23,000 hogs, and with 13,300 of the day's supply billed to packers, only about 19,000 remained for local buyers.

Trading in hogs came almost to a standstill after urgent shipping orders were filled and part of the first gain was lost, medium and weighty butchers showing most weakness. General average price moved up 15c at $9.90, the highest average since Oct. 15. Large local packers remained practically out of the market, leaving about 7,000 at the close.

Cattle prices yesterday dropped to the lowest level for Monday since last June, the best available stopping at $15.00. A load of choice 1,440 lb steers reached $15.00, with only a few loads above $13.75. Bulk of beef steers sold at $10.50@13.50, compared to $10.50@14.25 the previous Monday. Prices on bulk of yesterday's offerings were $1.50@2.50 below the corresponding day in 1928. Calves declined 50c. Butcher stock was slow and ruled weak to lower. Stockers and feeders showed little activity, with a tendency weak to lower.

Larger supplies at leading eastern points curtailed shipping orders and prices declined 15@25c after an erratic start yesterday. Fancy light lambs on speculative account soared to $17.75 early, with best to shippers stopping at $17.40 and to city butchers at $17.25.

Large local packers refused to pass $17.00, taking bulk of the supply at $16.25@16.75. Choice Colorados sold upwards to $17.25. Aged and yearling sheep were weak to 25c lower, good Texas yearlings selling at $14.25. Country buyers took all available shearing lambs at $15.50@16.00, offering up to $16.25 for fancy kinds.

The following information has been summarized by Mr. Henry Ittleson, President of Commercial Investment Trust Corporation, from his letter dated February 4, 1929, copies of which may be obtained upon request, and is subject to the more complete information contained therein:

BUSINESS

Commercial Investment Trust Corporation, a holding company, is one of the largest and most successful organizations offering financing service to facilitate the distribution of manufactured products on credit. Operations, conducted through the medium of subsidiary companies, are widely diversified, one of the major functions being the extension of credit in connection with instalment payment sales. Such financing is an important factor in the sale of such products as automobiles, machinery, farm implements, hotel, office and factory equipment, electrical appliances, musical instruments and furniture. The corporation now assists in the distribution of more than 70 different types of manufactured products, carefully selected on the basis of usefulness, durability and marketability. A number of leading automobile manufacturers have availed themselves of the service of the corporation in assisting distributors and dealers to finance purchases and sales of cars, and contracts have been made with the manufacturers of the following automobiles: Chandler, Essex, Graham-Paige, Hudson, Hupmobile, Nash and Reo. A few of the other manufacturers served are the American Piano Company, The Brunswick-Balke-Collender Company, The Hoover Company, Radio Corporation of America, United States Radiator Corporation and Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Company.

The corporation acquired during 1928 all of the capital stock of Peierls, Buhler & Co., Inc., one of the oldest and most representative institutions engaged in factoring service to the textile trade, and in January, 1929, contracted to acquire Fredk. Vietor & Achelis, Inc., a leader in the same field for nearly one hundred years. It is planned to merge these two concerns.

The business of Commercial Investment Trust Corporation was started in 1908 by the present management with a paid-in capital of $100,000. The consolidated balance sheet as at December 31, 1928 shows total capital stock and surplus of $41,697,531. Total obligations acquired during 1928 (adjusted to include those of Peierls, Buhler & Co., Inc. for the full year) amounted to $302,543,829. The volume of business of Fredk. Vietor & Achelis, Inc., and certain other companies, arrangements for the acquisition of which are nearing completion (payment to be made in cash and Common Stock), should increase substantially the total business in 1929.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE

The proceeds from the sale of these debentures are to be used to provide additional working capital for the increasing volume of business and are to be applied, in the first instance, to the reduction of bank loans of subsidiary companies, thereby substituting long-term funds for short-term borrowings, and, based on the present cost of bank loans effecting a saving of interest.

EARNINGS

Since inception of the business in 1908, substantial net earnings have been shown in every year. Consolidated earnings of the corporation and subsidiaries for the five years ended December 31, 1928 (adjusted to include earnings of Peierls, Buhler & Co., Inc. for the entire period), as certified by Messrs. Touche, Niven & Co., have been as follows:

Year	Net earnings before all interest and U. S. Federal income taxes	Net earnings available for dividends on the corporation's Common Stock
1924	$4,571,118	$2,298,800
1925	6,129,217	3,099,059
1926	7,817,291	2,927,607
1927	7,143,727	2,567,962
1928	10,381,508	4,669,812

Interest and preferred dividends paid by subsidiary companies during 1928, adjusted to give effect to the reduction of bank loans with the proceeds of these debentures and the proceeds of 127,429 shares of Common Stock sold in December, 1928, amounted to $720,342. After deducting such interest and preferred dividends of subsidiaries from the $10,381,508 of earnings shown above for the year 1928, there remains $9,661,166 available for interest on indebtedness of Commercial Investment Trust Corporation and U. S. Federal income taxes. The annual interest requirement on total funded debt of the corporation to be outstanding upon issuance of these debentures amounts to $2,998,960. The corporation has no bank loans, all bank borrowings having been by subsidiary companies.

CAPITALIZATION

Capitalization of Commercial Investment Trust Corporation outstanding on December 31, 1928, but adjusted to give effect to the issuance of these debentures and the cancellation of $375,000 of 6% Convertible Debentures through operation of the purchase fund, follows:

5½% Convertible Debentures, due 1949 (this issue)	$35,000,000
6% Convertible Debentures, due 1948 (convertible into 6½% First Preferred Stock)	14,566,000
5% Serial Gold Notes, due 1929-1930	4,000,000
6½% First Preferred Stock, $100 par value	6,659,000
7% First Preferred Stock, $100 par value	4,920,000
Common Stock, (including 4,675 shares issued as stock dividend on January 1, 1929), without par value	600,307 shares

As at December 31, 1928, none of the subsidiaries had any funded debt or capital stock outstanding in the hands of the public except $1,000,000 of 7% Cumulative Preferred Stock. As at the same date, there were outstanding purchase warrants entitling holders to subscribe for 41,937 shares of additional Common Stock of Commercial Investment Trust Corporation at $90 per share prior to January 1, 1930, and thereafter at $100 per share prior to January 1, 1931.

EQUITY

Based on current quotations on the New York Stock Exchange, the indicated market value of the corporation's outstanding preferred stock and Common Stock is approximately $125,000,000.

We offer these debentures for delivery if, when and as issued and accepted by us, subject to the approval of legal proceedings by counsel. It is expected that delivery will be made on or about February 21, 1929, in the form of temporary debentures, or interim receipts of Dillon, Read & Co.

History and Business: Geo. W. Brady & Co. was organized under the laws of the State of Illinois, November, 1928, succeeding a partnership established in 1913. The growth of the business was financed wholly from earnings. Over 7,000 customers' accounts in almost every civilized country have been placed on the books, and there is a world-wide field for the business, which consists of the manufacture and distribution of X-RAY equipment and accessories, appliances, supplies, and various Electro-Medical and Physio-Therapy apparatus, etc.

The X-RAY supply business is a large industry; diversified and improved scientific equipments in this line are becoming more urgent and necessary every day in the diagnosis and treatment of diseases. A great expansion in sales during the next few years is expected, based on present estimated annual gross turnover in excess of $20,000,000 in the X-RAY industry.

Earnings: Net earnings of the business for the periods indicated below, after all charges, except Federal Taxes, adjusted to give effect to non-recurring items, as certified by Lawrence Scudder & Co., Certified Public Accountants, were as follows:

Year ended Dec. 31, 1928 (Nov. and Dec. estimated)	35,152.95	7.03	1.25

Amount required for Class "A" dividends $2.00 per share

Estimated Future Earnings: After a careful survey of the industry, it is estimated the earnings for the years 1929 to 1931 inclusive will average $12.83 per share on Class "A" stock.

Assets: A balance sheet of the Company as at November 20, 1928, shows Current Assets $84,849.58, including $25,000 in cash, and no Current Liabilities. Total Assets amounted to $225,000.00.

Dividends: The Board of Directors has indicated its intention to declare a dividend of $2.00 per share on the Class "A" stock, payable 50 cents quarterly, on the 20th day of February, May, August and November, 1929.

ADVERTISE IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

CHICAGO STOCKS HESITATE, THEN SPURT UPWARD

Zenith Radio at New High, Closes 4 5-8 Higher.

BY GEORGE HAMMOND.

Stocks on the Chicago exchange seesawed around a bit for position yesterday and active shares finally spurted upward despite an increase in the call money rate from 7 to 8 per cent. About twenty issues established net gains ranging from one to nearly five points and a number sold at new highs for the year.

With the exception of Pines Winterfront, the automotive list was mostly lower. Pines Winterfront shot up 2½ points on the statement of James F. Raleigh, president, that the company will manufacture 20,000 units of automobile radiator shutters in February and that March and April will probably be the biggest production months in the company's history.

Merger Reports.

Zenith Radio featured the radio group by selling at a new high of 60 for the present capitalization and closed a fraction under for a net gain of 4⅝. The movement was attributed to reports that the company will soon announce a merger with Brunswick-Balke-Collender, which has been rumored for several weeks.

Erla Radio was active, but closed unchanged. Burton Greene, president, announced that notices will be received by stockholders through the mail today asking them to attend a special meeting on Feb. 16 to approve plans for the acquisition of certain properties. No details were given, but it is understood that the directors will proceed with the merger of another producer as well as a big retail radio chain store.

Sonatron Tube sold at a high of 44½ for the present stock and closed at 43½, up a point on the day. January earnings figures to be issued in a few days are understood to be equal to those for December, when net after charges was $204,337.

Extra Payment.

American Colortype was unchanged although the directors increased the annual dividend rate by 40 cents a share with the declaration of 60 cents quarterly. They also voted an extra disbursement of 60 cents a share. G. W. Reynolds, president, stated that preliminary earnings figures show that more than $4.80 a share was earned during 1928.

Coleman Lamp was a feature of the general list with a 5¾ point advance on light trading. Hormell Packing, Q. R. S. and Art Metal Works sold from 4 to 4½ points higher. Godchaux Sugars reflected the issuance of the annual report with a 2 point gain. The company reported net earnings before interest on bonds or funded debt of $1,541,000, compared with $475,698 in 1927.

Associates Investment advanced 1½ to a new top of 60. The company, which deals in automobile paper, reported that January business was 50 per cent greater than during the same month last year.

New Record.

Yellow Cab was also up a fraction in response to a statement by K. L. Ames Jr., president, that the company established a new record during January, the volume of business in number of trips being the largest in the company's twelve years of operation. He added that January profits exceeded those of the same month last year.

Universal Theaters Concessions was unchanged at 15½. The company will ask stockholders on Feb. 19 to change the name of the company to the General Candy corporation and to increase class A stock to 150,000 shares from 40,000 shares, and to reduce class B stock to 5,000 shares from 40,000, both to remain $5 par. The annual report to be issued soon will show a net profit of approximately $64,000 after all charges and writeoffs, equal to $1.60 a share on 40,000 class A shares now outstanding.

Chicago Curb Exchange Volume Sets Record

Fifty-two stocks, a gain of 18 over the previous record, and a sales volume of 15,364 shares made yesterday's trading the best this year on the Chicago curb. Continental Steel reached 61 in an advance of over four points. Its voting trust certificates climbed almost three to 49, also a new high. Minneapolis Steel kept up its recent advances by a one point rise to 66, a new high. Canal Construction went above 17 for a new peak. Ludlow Typograph, long inactive, advanced two. Standard of Indiana did a point to a point and a half better on the local exchange than on the New York curb as transfers, to be available for the Stewart-Rockefeller fight for control, close today.

GOLDMAN SACHS STARS ON CURB; EXPECT MERGER

New York, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Negotiations are under way for a merger of the Goldman Sachs Trading corporation and the Financial and Industrial Securities corporation, two of the largest investment trusts, it was learned today. The two companies have a market valuation of more than $400,000,000.

Reports of the negotiations were circulated over the week end and caused a flurry in Goldman Sachs stock on the curb market where it held the center of interest. At the opening an order for 20,000 shares, with no stock offered, was received. It was not until after 12 o'clock that an opening sale of 16,000 shares was arranged at $175 a share, a jump of $38.50 from Saturday's close. The stock later rose as high as $181 and closed at $178.

Goldman Sachs Trading was organized only about a month ago, when the stock was offered at $104 a share. The company started business with about $100,000,000 in cash, to deal in the securities of industrial corporations.

Financial and Industrial was incorporated in 1925 to buy and sell the securities of financial institutions such as banks and insurance companies.

WHEAT PRICES FAIRLY STEADY; CORN IS LOWER

Oats Trade Narrow; Rye Market Firm.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Wheat prices yesterday held within a range of 1⅛ cents, with closing of spreads between the local and outside markets having considerable influence. Fluctuations were erratic, but the breaks brought in good buying and the finish was about the top with net gains of ¼@½c, with March $1.25⅛@1.25¼, May $1.28@1.28½, and July $1.30⅝.

Corn showed a rather heavy undertone and closed ⅛@¼c lower, with March 99¼c and May 99⅜@99½c. Oats were unchanged to ⅛c lower, March closing at 52⅝c and May 53@53⅛c, while rye was unchanged to ⅜c higher, March being $1.11 and May $1.10⅝.

Local sentiment was rather bearish on wheat, as Liverpool closed ⅝@⅞d lower, and temperatures over the west and southwest were higher. Houses with southwestern connections were on the selling side early. There was buying here against sales at Winnipeg, and the latter closed ⅛c higher to ⅛c lower, with millers and exporters on the buying side early in the day. It is said that 300,000 bu cash wheat have been bought to come here from outside markets in the last week.

Fear Damage in Europe.

Press cables telling of extremely cold weather in Europe with severe storms attracted some attention from the local element, and cables told of damage to the new Indian crop which is now in the filling stage. There were further reports of ice over the winter wheat area in the west and southwest, with the forecast for unsettled weather and somewhat lower temperatures. World's shipments for the week of 22,872,000 bu set a new record, but supplies on ocean passage increased only 1,744,000 bu and are now 64,768,000 bu, falling under the total of a year ago for the first time this season. Exports to non-European countries from Aug. 1 to date aggregate 109,282,000 bu.

Domestic visible supply decreased 2,411,000 bu for the week, and are 126,670,000 bu, against 76,604,000 bu last year. No export business of consequence was reported at the seaboard, although there were more bids in the market than of late. The Buenos Aires market closed unchanged.

Light Trade in Corn.

Trade in corn was largely of a local character with support in evidence around 99c for May on resting orders and local bulls also gave support. Strength in wheat also had some effect. Commission houses and several local operators were on the selling side. Nothing was heard regarding export business at the seaboard. General rains were reported in Argentina, but cables claimed that they came too late to be of material benefit, and the Buenos Aires and Rosario markets closed unchanged for the day. Country offerings to arrive were light, with the local spot basis ¼c higher to ⅜c lower.

Oats held within narrow limits, with commission houses fair buyers on the decline. It is expected that reports of delayed seeding will be received from the southwest in the immediate future unless there is a marked change in weather conditions. Rye showed a firm undertone in sympathy with wheat.

EGG PRICES ADVANCE

More interest was taken in the egg market on the Chicago Mercantile exchange, with anxiety regarding prospective supplies causing an advance of ½c in fresh gathered February to 27⅝c, while April storage firsts were up ¼c at 27¼c, and November refrigerators gained ¼c, closing at 30c. Sales were 45 cars and receipts 5,898 cases.

First sale of the season in June standard butter was made at 40⅝c, and in December storage standards at 43c. February finished unchanged at 46⅞c, while March was ⅛c lower at 46⅜c. Spot market showed little change. Sales were 48 cars, with receipts 10,155 tubs.

CASH·GRAIN NEWS

Export demand for wheat at the seaboard showed some improvement, but sales of only 250,000 bu were reported in all positions. Chicago handlers sold 8,000 bu wheat, 39,000 bu corn, and 44,000 bu oats to the domestic trade.

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

The grain trade is in a position where drastic bullish news is regarded as necessary to stimulate new buying from the outside. Wheat crop news is too uncertain to make short sellers confident of their position when there is any showing of strength and those who believe in crop damage are nervous over weather conditions and prefer to buy mainly on breaks and take profits on bulges.

Corn traders reported good buying of May at around 99½c while the local traders were sellers on all bulges. Weakness in the cash market with offerings from outside markets and purchases of grain there to come to this market make a nervous situation

Message from Winnipeg said "Mills and exporters taking our May, offerings light. Would advise purchase our May against sale of yours. This market will respond quick to anything bullish and won't decline as fast as yours."

A Sound Convertible Bond

yielding 6.35%—offering good profit possibilities and the opportunity to participate in the increasing earnings of a rapidly expanding Public Utility.

UNION POWER CORPORATION
6% Secured Convertible Gold Bonds

Each $1000 bond is convertible at any time prior to maturity into forty shares of Class A Participating Common Stock. Current net earnings, in the event of the conversion of the entire bond issue, are equivalent to $2.48 per share. At present levels, therefore, this represents a cost of only $24 per share.

With the continued rapid expansion of the Company, the corresponding growth in earnings should be reflected in higher prices for the Class A stock and, naturally, an enhancement in the price of the bonds. Within a year, net earnings of the Union Power Corporation have increased from $145,246 to $605,053. During the same period, with the additional properties acquired, the property valuation has increased from $1,998,000 in sixteen communities to $7,500,000 in one hundred communities.

This bond combines, in an unusual degree, the three highly desirable qualities of an attractive investment—a wide margin of security, a liberal fixed income and the opportunity to participate in the stock profits without assuming the usual risks.

We recommend the purchase of these bonds at the current price of 96½ and interest to yield 6.35%. Descriptive circular upon request.

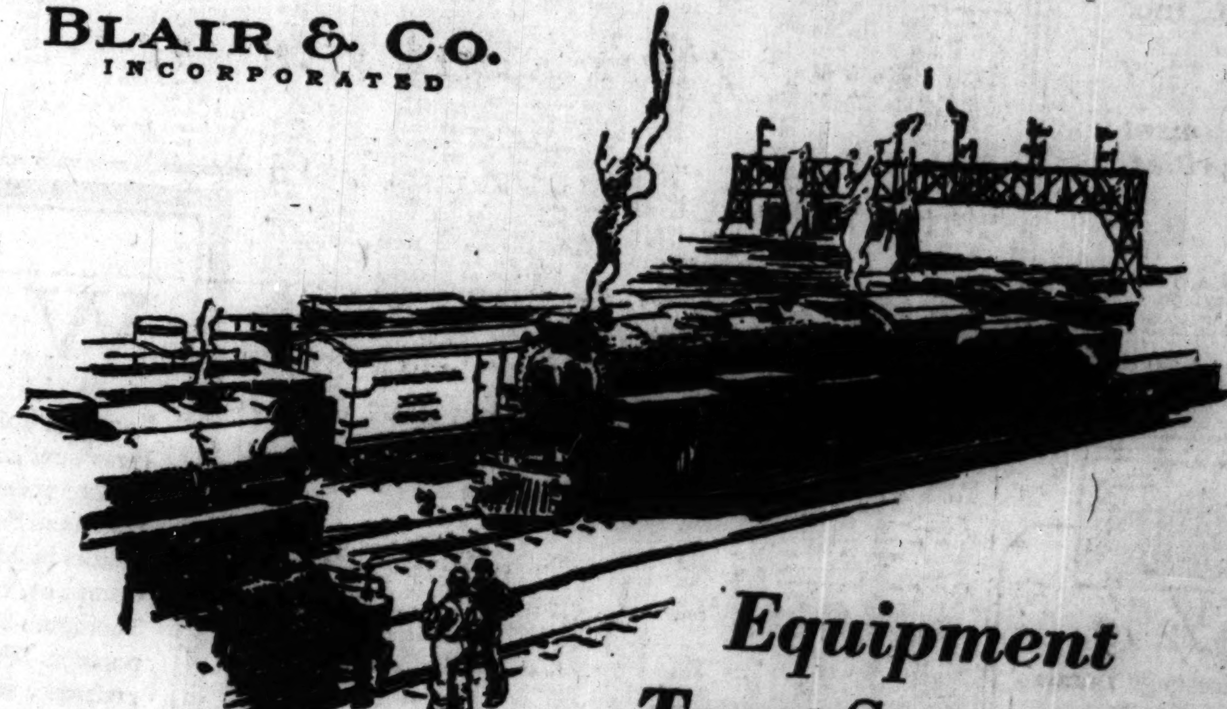
BLAIR & Co.
INCORPORATED



Equipment Trust Securities
were first adequately safeguarded in 1898

Prior to the 90's, the railroads of the United States were obliged to obtain the greater part of their capital by borrowing in European markets. They experienced difficulties particularly in financing the purchase of rolling stock.

In 1898 Blair and Company developed the so-called Blair Plan, incorporating new safeguards in an equipment trust issue for The Terre Haute and Indianapolis Railroad—now a part of the Pennsylvania System. This was among the first American roads to issue equipment trust securities designed to meet the requirements of American investors.

The original Blair Plan is regarded as the basis from which equipment trust securities are now issued under two plans—the "Philadelphia Plan," under which Certificates are issued and the "New York Plan" of issuing Notes. Both include the employment of an independent trustee for the protection of the investor. Both plans owe their conception to the original Terre Haute and Indianapolis financing which was done in 1898.

This pioneer work laid down the accepted standard for the issuance of equipment trust securities—followed to this day. It is interesting that, through the efforts of this house, laws regulating the issuance of these securities were amended by nineteen states.

The accumulated experience of the Blair organization extends for generations and encompasses practically all types of standard investment securities . . . government and municipal bonds, railroad, utility and industrial bonds . . . domestic and foreign.

known as builders of the Woolworth, Equitable, Paramount and other great buildings in New York, the Continental National Bank building, the Palmer House and Field Museum in Chicago and the General Motors building in Detroit, the Thompson-Starrett Company, of New York, has been succeeded by Thompson-Starrett Company, Inc., a Delaware corporation. We offer $3.50 cumulative dividend, no par preference stock of the new company at a price to yield about 6⅛ per cent. ¶Each share carries a nondetachable warrant entitling the holder to receive without cost after January 1, 1930, or earlier at the option of the bankers, one share of common stock. For three years earnings of the old company have averaged $1,639,106 yearly. Preference stock dividends call for $560,000 annually. ¶The company's financial position shows that current assets (cash and money on call, $3,686,364) are more than twice current liabilities. The directorate of the new company shows unusual strength; the operating personnel has not been changed. Circular with full information on request.

going to 8 per cent as banks proceeded to withdraw about $20,000,000 from the loan table. This was not the sole cause of the speculative community's worry, however.

Some disturbing forecasts of the exchange's report on brokers' loans for January due after the close of business were afloat and there were those who professed to have their misgivings, even at this early date in the week, over the discount rate—a worry usually reserved for Friday or Thursday at the earliest.

General Impression.

It had been the general impression in the street that the credit situation had passed its monthly "crisis" with the month end increase of the demand rate last week, and the sudden run up of the figure today caused a lot of jaws to sag in the customers' rooms and elsewhere. Some temporary easing of the money market is expected from gold imports in prospect during the next week or two. In addition to the Canadian movement to New York, which presumably is still under way, about four millions in free gold will be offered in London tomorrow, and the probabilities are that New York will buy most of it.

Lindbergh's Flight.

An unusual reason advanced for the persistent demand in one corner of the market—the airplane section — was Lindbergh's pioneering mail plane flight from Miami to Central America. Possibly there were other and stronger reasons for the buying, but at any rate it was instrumental in boosting the issues to substantially higher ground, Wright to 279, a gain of 6 points, and Curtiss to 166¾, up 9¾. Those who follow the market will never forget the tremendous impetus to the airplane shares given by the Lone Eagle's flight from New York to Paris.

PRINTS DEMANDED IN FINISHED DRY GOODS

New York, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Cotton goods were easy today in gray cloth divisions following a further cotton decline at the opening of the week's markets. On finished goods demand for prints was paramount. Other lines were bought moderately. Raw silk figures for January showed the largest deliveries to mills ever recorded in a single month, approximately 58,500 bales. Printed silks were active. Buyers purchased wool goods for fall steadily. More business was reported on worsted dress fabrics.

TELEPHONE CO. INCOME.

If your business is ready for a greater program of expansion

A CONDITION that often confronts successful, well established manufacturers and business concerns is this: Their business requires a large expansion program but the financial arrangements of the company are a handicap to the program. Hitherto expansion has been carried on out of profits, but now a broader gauged financial structure is advisable.

Under such conditions, Mitchell, Hutchins has often been of assistance in determining the type of financing necessary and in providing capital for expansion.

If your problem is similar to this, the experience of Mitchell, Hutchins and the ability of this firm to underwrite large issues and to distribute them promptly over the Middle West may be a valuable aid to you. Consultation with our officers entails no obligation.

FINANCIAL NOTES

East Coast Utilities corporation will be in the market shortly for funds to finance extensions and additions and to reimburse its treasury for capital outlays already made. P. W. Chapman & Co., Inc., will handle the financing in the form of short term notes.

The Harris Trust and Savings bank, Federal Securities corporation, H. M. Byllesby & Co., and West & Co. are offering $25,000,000 Central Public Service corporation 5½ per cent convertible debentures, due 1949, with stock purchase warrants. The debentures are due Feb. 1, 1949, and are being offered at 96½ and interest, yielding about 5.80 per cent.

Chicago's scientific instrument manufacturing industry, which has been almost a total stranger to public finance, because it is mostly a small unit business often conducted by a founding personality, enters the La Salle street market with a small offering of 5,000 shares of class A stock, par value $25, of George W. Brady & Co. The offering house is Pence & Co. The Brady company manufactures X-ray and other apparatus.

An offering of 500,000 shares of common stock of the Alleghany corporation is being recorded over the names of the Guaranty Company of New York, Lee, Higginson & Co., Dillon, Read & Co., The National City company, the Harris Forbes corporation, The Union Trust company, Cleveland, the Union Trust Company of Pittsburgh, Hayden, Miller & Co., and Wood, Gundy & Co., with the statement that the shares have all been sold.

It is said to have been assumed by some that the collateral securing the bonds, which is listed in the bond circular, is the complete list of stockholdings of the Alleghany corporation. This is stated not to be the fact. The stock, which is being acquired at a cost to the corporation of approximately $84,068,000, has an indicated market value in excess of that amount. Shares costing approximately $57,000,000 are presently to be pledged as collateral to secure $35,000,000 fifteen year collateral trust convertible 5 per cent bonds.

Stockholders of the Detroit Edison company have approved an increase in authorized capital stock to $150,000,000 from $120,000,000.

Directors of the Tennessee Copper & Chemical corporation, New York and Millbrook, N. Y., have authorized issuance of up to $5,000,000 6 per cent convertible bonds. Stockholders of record Feb. 8 will have right to subscribe in ratio of $400 of bonds for each 25 shares held. Outstanding series A bonds totaling $941,000 will be called for retirement Oct. 1.

Taylor, Ewart & Co., Inc., will offer shortly a large block of preferred and common stock of the Jonas & Naumburg corporation, since 1890 engaged in the production and sale of hatters' fur, used in making fur felt hats of every description.

In 1928

For the Third Consecutive Year The Sun Published More Advertising Than Any Other New York Evening Newspaper

While we're analyzing the wonderful prospects for 1929—let's not forget the accomplishments of 1928.

In 1928 The Sun published more news and more advertising than in any other year in its long history of ninety-six years.

In 1928 The Sun published—for the third consecutive year—a LARGER VOLUME OF ADVERTISING than any other New York evening newspaper. It led the second evening newspaper last year by over two and one-half million lines—a larger margin of leadership than in any previous year. And it made a larger gain than any other New York evening newspaper.

The Sun led all New York evening newspapers not only in TOTAL ADVERTISING but also in NATIONAL Advertising, in LOCAL DISPLAY Advertising and in DEPARTMENT STORE Advertising.

What better evidence can you have of the value of The Sun to advertisers—of its ability to produce results? What better reason can you have for placing your advertisement in The Sun?

THE BUFFER

By ALICE HEGAN RICE

SYNOPSIS.

Hickory Hill has been the homestead of the Freers for generations. Cynthia Freer, chained to it by family obligations and a promise to her mother never to leave her, strains at her bonds and longs to be free of the place and all it entails.

Dolly Freer, Cynthia's mother, meets the new assistant rector of St. Timothy's church in town and invites him to Hickory Hill to meet her family. Aunt Lizzy Freer, Dolly's sister-in-law, has been an invalid for twenty-five years, but she runs the family and its finances from her bed.

Barney, Dolly's oldest son, is delighted at Claire's arrival and the cousins spend a great deal of time together. Barney's a wild youth, but the most popular of the Freer clan.

Curtis Benson is invited to stay with the Herbert Freers in town for a few weeks, and Mrs. Herbert Freer gives a tea for him to which most of the parishioners are invited. Dorothy Freer goes home early and Curtis Benson offers to drive Cynthia home in his little car. On the way they come upon two wrecked cars and are horrified to see Barney sitting by the roadside in a dazed condition. On coming to, he tells Cynthia that Claire, who was with him, was rushed to a hospital along with the occupant of the other car. Cynthia sees Iser McGurk, Uncle Herbert's chauffeur, who had been her childhood playmate, lying unconscious near the car.

When Iser recovers he is arrested as the driver of the speeding car. He is unable to remember just what preceded the accident. Claire dies in the hospital that night and Barney is put to bed, broken in spirit and very ill from exposure. Cynthia is haunted by the suspicion that it was Barney and not Iser who drove the car at the time of the smash. She tells Benson of her suspicion.

INSTALLMENT XXXII.

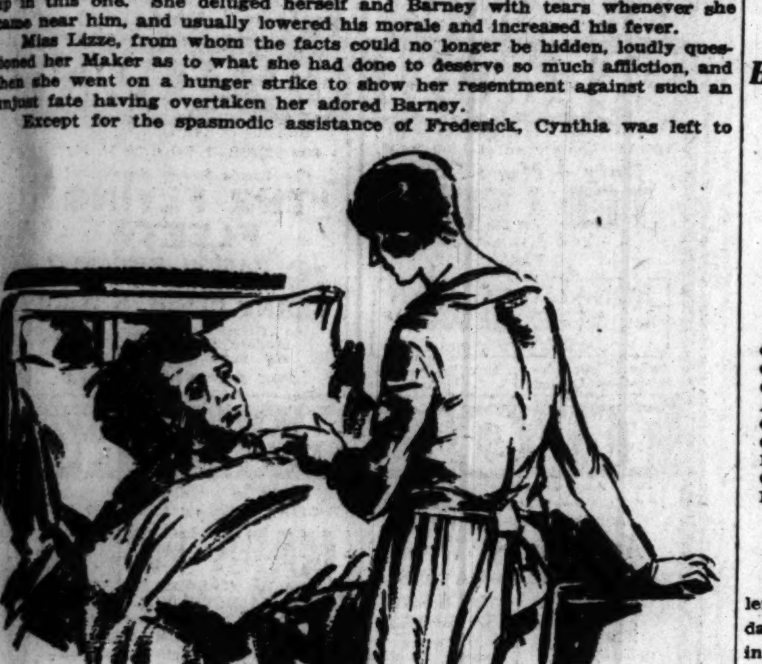
THE SCANDAL.

Once again Iser McGurk's trial had to be postponed on account of the continued illness of the chief witness. The tuberculosis which Barney had been fighting since childhod was no longer a possibility but a dread certainty. He had begun life with a weak constitution and his passage from boyhood into manhood had been a ruinous adventure. Now that he was face to face with the inevitable he had no reserve strength or courage with which to meet it. Unreasonable, sullen, resentful, he could only resist it, as he had resisted all punishment in the past.

Old Dr. Rawlins, whose methods of treatment were as antiquated as the buggy in which he rode, held out no hope. Tuberculosis was something to be nursed, not cured, and the only prospect he could offer Barney was that of permanent invalidism.

When the verdict was pronounced, each member of the family took it differently. Dorothy Freer, whose innumerable anxieties had always culminated in this one, lost her head completely. She was still agonizing over Ethel's marrige to Bob Dillon, but that catastrophe was completely swallowed up in this one. She deluged herself and Barney with tears whenever she came near him, and usually lowered his morale and increased his fever.

Miss Lizze, from whom the facts could no longer be hidden, loudly questioned her Maker as to what she had done to deserve so much affliction, and then she went on a hunger strike to show her resentment against such an unjust fate having overtaken her adored Barney.



"Well, you won't take his medicine."

Except for the spasmodic assistance of Frederick, Cynthia was left to run the farm single handed. She was up at dawn and frequently still going at midnight. To be sure, she had Mammy with her rheumatism, and old Jinny with the phthisis that necessitated frequent absences. She had a practical nurse for Barney, who had to be waited on, and who used more linen in one day than the family used in a week.

It was an unusually severe winter, and everything that could freeze on the farm took advantage of the occasion. When pipes were not bursting, chimneys were smoking, and the problem of keeping the grates and stoves supplied with coal was never solved. All the humble tasks which Iser McGurk had once looked after seemed to go undone.

But Cynthia minded the turmoil of the day, with its endless demands and its constant visitation of the family, less than when she lay sleepless, facing her problem. She had moved her bed over into the nursery, as both the twins were subject to the croup, and she alone could comfort them.

It was when she lay awake at night that life seemed to be closing in upon her. The approaching trial, her promise to Barney, his apparently hopeless condition, Iser's impending fate, her own unwitting interference in her mother's love affair, and the prospect of losing the twins—all presented insurmountable walls of unhappiness. Where were the serene places of earth where artists escaped to dream their dreams, freed from the perplexity of other people's tangled existence? Year after year she had hoped to go on with her writing. She had told herself with each problem solved that now she could take up her own life again. But the burden was no sooner pushed laboriously to the top of the hill than it came rolling down again. Was there no end to it all? She was getting old. And so serious! Where was the old care-free Cynthia who used to find the world so funny? Who was this strange, unhappy person whose loyalties were all in conflict, whose duties were at variance? What did life amount to? Nothing! What did it promise? Nothing! She was like a water insect, she told herself, skating madly on the surface of life, getting nowhere, accomplishing nothing.

An old adage often came back to her, "At wit's end lies God." She was at wit's end, but where was God? She could not accept Aunt Lizzy's Deity who sent sickness and affliction on His children and regarded martyrdom the highest achievement of a Christian. She hated her mother's anthropomorphic conception of a fearsome old man with a vindictive nature, whom it was wise to propitiate by attending all church services, and to refrain from annoying by not attracting his attention. As for Mr. Benson's sultanic theory, she could not for a moment believe that such a Deity would stop controlling the traffic of the milky way long enough to concern himself in her small affairs!

So she fell back upon "the still small voice" within, and tried to be quiet enough to hear what it counseled. Gradually out of the turmoil of her soul one certainty emerged. The truth must be told, whatever the cost, and Barney must be the one to tell it.

Having arrived at this decision she concentrated upon achieving her purpose with all the force of her nature. She went about her tasks in absorbed preoccupation, she grew white and thin, but a light shone in her eyes that had never been there before. To Barney she became even more gentle and tender than before, but in her eyes, when they met his, was a silent appeal more eloquent than words.

One night as she sat with him when he could not sleep for coughing, he put up his hand and touched her cheek. "You've been a brick, Sis," was all he said, but she saw him wink back the tears. At other times he was cross and impatient, and thought only of himself.

"Well, you won't take his medicine," Cynthia reminded him.

"Neither would you! Gosh, if I took all his stuff I'd be a walking drug store. Why don't they ship me out west or down south or somewhere? I don't want to check out of the world when I've just arrived!"

Cynthia's hand closed tightly on his. "Of course you don't. Just as soon as the trial is over——"

His face hardened and he snatched his hand away. "What's the use in risking a fellow's life to get a little worthless testimony out of him? I'm going to see if Mr. Benson can't get them to send me right away."

Cynthia did not reply. She knew that the struggle was no longer between herself and Barney, but between Barney and his conscience. All she could do was to wait and pray, in a way she had never prayed before.

Barney's forlorn hope of persuading Curtis Benson to get him away before the trial was forestalled by a new complication. The business venture in which Barney had been interested at the time of the accident turned out to be a fuse connected with a bomb, the explosion of which at the present time had far-reaching results.

The most prominent casualty was Curtis Benson, whose hopes of a permanent living at St. Timothy's were blown to fragments. The appearance of his name as a director in so doubtful a concern as "The Claire Realty Co." was in itself damaging, but when the business went into bankruptcy and paid only a few cents on the dollar the newspapers seized upon the sensational feature of the story and printed it under the heading:

"The Rev. Curtis Benson, Prospective Rector of St. Timothy's, Involved in Real Estate Scandal."

St. Timothy was rocked to its foundations. Nobody doubted that Mr. Benson was the victim of an unscrupulous speculator, but the conservative element, while willing to exonerate him as an individual, was quite unwilling to permit him to step into the ecclesiastical shoes so soon to be vacated by the aged and sanctified Dr. Keene.

To Cynthia this last disaster seemed the final twist of the screw of misfortune. That Curtis Benson, who had been lavish in his gifts of friendship to the whole family, should be involved in Barney's downfall seemed an injustice not to be borne. But she dared not champion his cause too warmly. The slightest unbending on her part threatened to disturb the equilibrium that she had struggled so valiantly to establish.

Good morning!

Now is the time for ardent McLaglen fans to give three cheers. The daughty Victor is all to the berries in "Captain Lash." All there—sinews, socks, and the nice, flashing smile that holds its own with any male grin we know. Including Brooke Johns'!

The boy who did so much for "What Price Glory" isn't a real captain this trip. He's a boss stoker. Works on a boat that plies between Singapore and what ports have you. But he's so GOOD in his chosen line that—well—everybody from the real captain down to the fellows under him just naturally hand him the title—that's all.

He's a devil with the women, this Captain Lash. Every port holds one or more subjugated damsels to whom the big fellow is sun, moon and stars. In Singapore waits Babe, who has sent clear to Chicago for a mail order outfit that shall put her hero's eyes out.

Poor Babe! How is she to know that the next time Captain Lash rolls around he will have met "an angel from heaven" (only she isn't, girls, she's just an ordinary little thief!) and will have decided from that time on to be "an officer and a gentleman" and leave just plain skirts alone?

Well—Captain Lash learns about "angels" from Cora Nevins, who is portrayed with a light, sure touch by Claire Windsor, looking extremely lovely the while. He comes down to earth with a bang and there are Babe and his adoring crony, Cocky—sympathetically played by Clyde Cook, waiting for him.

You have in this film a seafaring comedy with a number of laughs, some grand fights, a soupcon of suspense, and considerable able acting. Direction and photography are good It is not too long and there's seldom a minute when Mr. McLaglen is out of sight.

"THE MILLION DOLLAR COLLAR."

Directed by Ross Lederman.
Presented at the Orpheum Theater.

THE CAST.

Rinty	Rin-Tin-Tin
Bill Holmes	Matty Kemp
Joe	Philo McCullough
His Sister	Evelyn French
Ed Mack	Tommy Dugan
The Chief	Allan Cavin
The Scar	Grover Liggon

QUALITY: Fair.

PHOTOGRAPHY: Excellent.

DIRECTION: Fair.

SCENERY: Beautiful.

ACTING: As usual, Mr. Rin-Tin-Tin does himself proud. Finished player that he is, he is always in character, alert to take his cues. The fact that he hasn't much of a vehicle doesn't bother him. He is entirely occupied seeing that Rinty does as Rinty should, and the result is one classy performance. The humans supporting him play up well.

STORY: Ordinary and not very interesting yarn of crooks and a necklace they steal and hide in Rinty's collar. Which is what makes it a million dollar collar.

REMARKS: There are several talking sequences, and, could he be heard better, Tommy Dugan's remarks would qualify as pretty funny. Mr. Rin-Tin-Tin barks several times realistically. On the whole, though, the film would do quite as well without sound.

See you tomorrow.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send name and address with your question to "Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune. For today's question Ted Tallacksen, 1638 North Richmond street, was awarded $5.

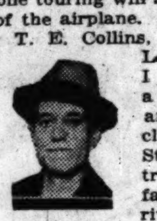
The Question.

Would you like to have an airplane of your own?

The Answers.

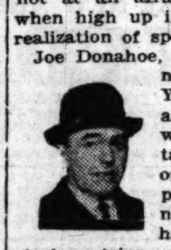
Miss Estelle Zmarzly, 4438 North Robey street, stenographer.—I don't know, because I have never had a flight in one. But I imagine it would afford a lot of fun, thrills and adventures. I expect that in twenty years airplanes will be about all we will be using. Automobile touring will soon be passé in favor of the airplane.

T. E. Collins, 812 Olive street, St. Louis, Mo., salesman.—I could use one. I am a traveling salesman, and my territory includes all of the United States, with occasional trips in Canada. The fact that one had arrived in a city via airplane would create a favorable impression on prospective customers.



Miss Laurette O'Gara, 7424 Kenwood avenue, school teacher.—I am interested in flying. I like to drive, and I like speed, so I know I would like to own an airplane. I have had three airplane trips. One of these was to Moline, Ill., and return. It's a wonderful, marvelous experience. I was not at all afraid. The only thing, when high up in the air one has no realization of speed.

Joe Donahoe, 2738 Pine Grove avenue, stock broker.—Yes, but I would want a cabin plane so that when I wished I could take along two or three of my friends. Airplane travel is not a new thing with me. I have had several short airplane trips.



Alexander Shapiro, 1807 Clifton park avenue, newsboy—Sure I would. And wouldn't I have fun with it, O boy. I have never been up, but whenever I see a plane I wish I were in it. Some one would have to run it for me until I got next to it. It must take some practicing to drive an airplane.

Dresses for Moods as Well as Modes Displayed by Models

Madame and mademoiselle may begin their spring wardrobe budgeting today, for last night fashions for the future season were dictated at the opening of the annual spring fashion show held at the Drake hotel.

More than 50 models tripped back and forth down the avenue of palms in the main dining room wearing the frocks and accessories contributed by forty manufacturers from all over the country.

The psychological trend of the feminine mind seems to have been understood by the designers. For they show black and white combinations which are certain to lure by their freshness and simplicity. Then, at the moment of reaction against the severity of black and white milady finds a host of soft and dainty colors as well as materials from which to make her choice.

Sports clothes will keep the straight, simple lines and short skirts. Otherwise women will appear in softly flowing frocks of indefinite length. Whereas the front of the skirt of an afternoon tea dress or formal evening gown may reach scarcely below the knees, dips and flares, panels and girdles, usually manage to bring the sides or back nearly to the floor.

The ensemble already is a stated fact. Whether a tailored suit, sport outfit, formal frock or dress for tea, there is as inevitably as the occasion where the garment will be worn, a coat or jacket to be worn with it. And matching the ensemble, there are shoes, gloves, bag, hat, and costume jewelry.

BEG YOUR PARDON

On February 2 THE TRIBUNE printed a dispatch from the Associated Press pertaining to the ecumenical council of the Catholic church reading: "The council of 1870 proclaimed such important dogma as the immaculate conception." E. H. Young corrects this statement saying: "The dogma of the immaculate conception was defined by Pope Piux IX. in his Bull, 'Ineffablis Deus,' issued Dec. 8, 1854."

Afghan Women Wild at Plans for Tame Men

Their Jibes Help to Upset King's Throne.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 4.—If the Afghan were not forbidden wine by the Koran, he might start that famous British toast, "The Ladies," but he would be doubtful as to how to conclude it. For though, to foreign eyes, native wives appear to be only flitting shadows, there are stories, told in the bazaars of Peshwar, that many an Afghan wife refused to acknowledge her husband when he returned from the Jirga at Paghman clad in top hat and oxford trousers. It was her jibe that he was no longer an Afghan but a feringhee [foreigner] and so had lost his home. Even Mohammed, the prophet, had troubles with his wives, but not to that extent.

As for the Afghan tribesman himself, an English officer who served on the northwestern frontier during the Afghan invasion of India, offers the following description of Bacha-i-Sakao, the rebel chief who has forced King Amanullah to abandon his throne:

"I first came across Bacha-i-Sakao seven years ago, when he was attached to the Afghan mission, which was carrying on negotiations with Sir Henry Dobbs at the hill station of Mussoorie. Even then he had a remarkable personality, though holding a very minor post under the Afghan sirdar.

"Bacha is tall—about six feet one inch in height—and differed from the other Afghan members of the mission in that he was lighter colored than most of them. He might easily have been taken for a Turk but for his dress, which was like that of an ordinary tribal chief. I was told even then that Bacha was a great fanatic who claimed to have had visions in which he saw Mohammed leading a triumphant army of Moslems against the infidels of the world. His fame as an indomitable fighter, an excellent shot, and a born leader was even then very great."

As for the hardy, lean, bronze men who have overthrown Amanullah, they are half-Semitic, half classical Greek in type. Alexander the Great passed through with his army in the fourth century B. C. The proudest tribe calls itself Beni-Israel.

"THE ROYAL FAMILY":

Comedy, in three acts, by George S. Kaufman and Edna Ferber: made known in Chicago (by Jed Harris) February 4, 1929, in the Harris Theatar, with this cast:

Fanny Cavendish	Haidée Wright
Julia Cavendish	Ann Andrews
Anthony Cavendish	Otto Kruger
Dean, Fanny's brother	Clyde Fillmore
Kitty, his wife	Marjorie Wood
Gwen	Penelope Hubbard
Perry Stewart	Gerald Kent
Gilbert Marshall	Joseph King

Miss Peake	Blanchard Bartlett

MR. MANTLE and I have at various times in the last thirteen months had something to say about "The Royal Family"; and the essence of what we have said is that it is among the most delectable and effective topical comedies that have so far found their way into performance in any land. Mr. Mantle has confirmed his original judgment of the piece by including it in his list of the ten best plays made known last season in New-York; and it is my belief that "The Royal Family" would have been in his list of the five best. For this "comedy of actors at home" is immense fun in the facile, shrewd stagecraft with which it takes up, slightly exaggerates, and then highlights the actor-temperament in its offstage manifestations.

When asked, as I have frequently been by laymen since the comedy was definitely bulletined for Chicago, if this be "the play about the Barrymores," I reply that it is: not because it necessarily is, but because I fear to bore the questioners by explaining wherein it isn't and wherein it might be. The authors have categorically denied that they had the Barrymores (and the Drews) in mind when they designed the play, although the denial has not assuaged Miss Barrymore. I, like Mr. Mantle, "think it is reasonable to assume that, if there had been no Barrymores associated with the American theater, there is little likelihood that 'The Royal Family' ever would have been written"; and I'm still in alignment with him when he adds: "Let us say, then, that 'The Royal Family' tells an entirely-imaginary story of an American stage-family that might easily have been the Barrymores had the Barrymores been exactly that kind of a stage-family."

Of course, the question of biographical ancestry has really nothing to do with the play as a play: this is just what the authors call it—"a comedy of actors at home." I know of no other piece with which to compare it save "Trelawny of the Wells"; and it is a better comedy by far than Pinero's, which was written by a man who had been an actor with a wistful, kindly tenderness that put a detached view of his subjects out of the range of easy likelihood. Here, in "The Royal Family," you have actors of quality as they believably are; and through the play runs insistently the theory that, when acting is in the blood, it is there despite all else that might oppose it. Fanny, at seventy-two, is making ready for another tour when death takes her. She keynotes the Cavendish family. "I played," she boasts, "fifty-three years without missing a performance except when Tony was born!"

And all of them go their erratic, ungoverned, thoughtless, impulsive way through the comedy like so many privileged lunatics: they think in entrance-speeches and in exit-cues: to them, there is always an audience to be remembered.

This rich fun is perfectly performed by the players listed above, with special cheers for Miss Wright, Miss Andrews, and Mr. Kruger. Mr. Harris, as a "producer," has done nothing better than in casting this uncommon play.

The ensemble which keeps the tradition alive in the Shakspere Memorial Theater at Stratford-upon-Avon entered last night on its fortnight of répertoire in the Studebaker, giving "The Taming of the Shrew" as the first of seven plays. The audience was large in numbers and generous in laughter and applause in reaction to a performance of the farce that was marked by a measured surety rather than by any outstanding exhibition of talent. Wilfrid Bailey acted Petruchio with an abundance of traditional style and not much color or communicable gusto; and Miss Dorothy Massingham was a Kate who was sullen and resentful rather than volcanic and terrifying: this Shrew suggested that she could be more easily tamed by neglect than by brawling abuse. The setting was a common-sense variation of the unit-plan; and this permitted of running off the five acts speedily, with but two formal intermissions.

"Hamlet" will be acted tonight.

Denies Methodist Church Maintains Lobby.

The Methodist plan is to teach peace to its children from the cradle up, not to have a powerful lobby at Washington, according to Dr. A. C. Goddard of the Maine conference, secretary of the world peace commission of the Methodist Episcopal church. He spoke yesterday to the social service committee of the Rock River conference at the Y. W. C. A.

"A great many people," he said, "think we have a lobby, distribute much propaganda and interfere seriously with the government. That is not our plan at all. It was generally agreed at the general conference that our plan be primarily a program to educate our Methodist folks with peace lessons in our study courses, that the world peace situation is not entirely without hope.

"Frances Willard taught prohibition in the same age that Nietzsche in Germany taught his philosophy that 'might makes right' and superman would therefore rule the world. Both plans seemed harmless enough, but the boys in Frances Willard's land grew up to vote America dry, and the foundation of Germany's entrance into the world war was laid in the schoolroom among average boys instead of the war lords. What we want to do is lay a foundation of peace which will result in peace."

The Methodists, Dr. Goddard asserted, plan to accomplish that end by text books in their Sunday schools, study groups and classes which will be "an inductive study of the new scientific age which is so different from the world of our fathers; a study of the forces of peace and good will; a study of the things operating for international good will.

Simultaneously a group of dignitaries of the Methodist church—bishops, educators, publishers, manufacturers were meeting at the Morrison hotel in the recently formed commission on men's work which is making an effort to interest the layman in the tasks of lay evangelism, lay speaking and community service, and to stimulate among laymen the reading of religious books.

Dr. H. P. Almon Abbott, rector of St. Chrysostom's Episcopal church and bishop elect of Lexington, Ky., spoke last night at the Hotel La Salle just before the opening meeting of the 92d annual convention of the Chicago diocese. There were 700 Episcopalians from northern Illinois.

"There is a widespread revolt in the churches today," Dr. Abbott said, "a revolt against all organized forms of religion, because they have allowed themselves to become associated with an industrial system which seems, to the awakened conscience of the masses of men, to be an insult to personality and a violation of the fundamental spirit of brotherhood and equality of opportunity. That revolt is in the main wholly good.

"The task of the church today is to go back to first principles, to understand itself again as the way of life. The church must restore to men's minds the sense of purity and self control over passions, appetites and lust which is the necessary condition of real freedom."

The business sessions will begin at 10:30 this morning at St. James' cathedral, Cass and Huron streets.

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Henry Ford says that the great problem in the home is too much drudgery.

"I wish it were," a young matron said. "I'm through my work by 9:30 every morning. Beds made, dishes washed, vegetables prepared for dinner. Dessert ready by 10. I don't have to start in again until 5, since we have dinner at 7. Cleaning day I may be occupied until noon. But everything is so new and shiny, cleaning it is not drudgery. The laundry goes out and when it comes back all the drudgery attending it is to put it in the linen closet in tidy array."

The young matron had no children. Her apartment was a three-room one. And her problem was how to get a little drudgery into her life to keep her from dreaming to the point of discontent over that six room flat with the river view her friend Belle was telling her she ought to take.

The small apartment, however, is not the household problem of every woman in America. In the large cities it is. And somehow the idea of drudgery does not associate itself with the quick and easy methods of doing housework in one of these. With garbage disposed of promptly, hot water for dishes and cleaning always in readiness, the nicely finished floors that landlords must supply their tenants, and not many beds to make up, the preparing of the meals becomes the only possible reflection of a drudgery claim with the average apartment housewife.

If a woman has no taste for preparing meals, one day at it may make the street cleaner's job a perfect haven of delight. Some women never can be trained to like cooking. Others take a joy in menu planning and meal getting that any other good artist takes in his form of creative work.

Drudgery applied to the home creates the picture of a large house with many occupants; a house in which all the old fashioned methods of operation are still in force; where the basement laundry is still favored; where the home-made jellies and jams are still manufactured; where the Monday-washing, Tuesday-for-ironing, and so on program is adhered to.

But do you know many homes today in which the word drudge would aptly describe the women supervising them?

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 4.—[Special.]—The President had at luncheon with him today Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Draper of Hopedale, Mass., while Mrs. Coolidge was the luncheon guest of the Woman's Congressional club.

President and Mrs. Coolidge have as their guests at the White House Mr. and Mrs. Harry Williams of Brockton, Mass., who will be joined in a few days by Mrs. R. B. Hills of Northampton, Mass., Mrs. Coolidge's old and intimate friend. Mr. and Mrs. Williams accompanied President and Mrs. Coolidge on their recent trip to Florida.

The Vice President and Mrs. Dawes were given a dinner tonight by former Senator and Mrs. Rice W. Means of Colorado, in the Chinese room of the Mayflower. Among those invited were Justice and Mrs. Harlan Fiske Stone, Senator and Mrs. Peter Norbeck, Senator and Mrs. Porter H. Dale, Senator and Mrs. C. S. Deneen, Senator and Mrs. Tasker Oddie, Senator and Mrs. J. H. Metcalf, Senator and Mrs. James E. Watson, Senator and Mrs. Arthur Robinson, Senator and Mrs. W. H. McMaster, Representative Guy U. Bright Sayings of the Children

The Tribune will pay $5 for each childish saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unavailable contributions. Write on one side of the paper. Address bright sayings to Aunty Bee, The Tribune, Chicago.

So many children in our neighborhood were sick with the flu that we scarcely saw a child pass for a couple of weeks. While Danny was convalescing he saw a small boy go up the street whistling.

"Well, there's one little boy the flu isn't sick with," he said with envy.

M. B.

Meeting little Jack, my nephew, poking along to school I said, "Hurry up, Jack, aren't you afraid you will be late?"

"Nope," he replied indifferently, "I'se got a 'cuse on paper in my pocket."

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

Guest Was Forgotten.

Mrs. K. in her most gracious manner had requested my presence at a duck dinner to take place at her home on the following Tuesday.

I enthusiastically accepted the invitation and with equal enthusiasm appeared on the scene on the date and hour specified.

Imagine my embarrassment when, upon entering the house, I found my host in the midst of doing the dishes. The family had partaken of dinner and forgotten entirely about me.

It's Wiser Not to Encourage Them to Argue a Point

Mrs. Bevans has prepared two booklets, one on "Prayers and Graces for Children" and another called "Books to be Read to the Children or by Them," which will be sent free on receipt of stamped, self-addressed envelopes.

Mrs. Gladys Huntington Bevans

Once upon a time there was a husband. And he had a really awfully nice wife.

But he wasn't very nice to her. He was inconsiderate and stingy, and he hurt her unnecessarily—though he was, as they say, crazy about her, too. Love is strange, isn't it?

Well, to go on. When he wasn't nice at all to her, she would sometimes mention it, either quietly or tempestuously, depending upon the occasion. He would, of course, reply and she would answer his rebuttal. If they talked long enough, he could always work the argument around to the point where he could make his wife seem entirely in the wrong. He always succeeded in putting her on the defensive.

At last, in her utter exasperation, she realized that he could only do this if she kept talking, too. If she simply said once what she wanted to and then refrained from arguing or pursuing the subject at all, he was utterly helpless. If he couldn't argue, then he couldn't justify himself. If he couldn't justify himself he had no control of the situation.

Now, there are children who have been allowed to develop this "argifying" habit, and if not checked it will grow upon them. They have good reasoning power and they will try to argue themselves out of the wrong into the right. Or they will keep on discussing and discussing a matter as long as their mother or father will answer them in kind.

Of course, I'm not talking now about general discussions. But where there is a point involved—of conduct, or obedience, or blame—they will talk indefinitely about it. And I have even seen them end by putting their parents on the defensive.

It is a mistake to allow this. Such conversations are usually quite futile in the end and seldom increase the good feeling between parents and children. Where it is a question of a child obeying—always provided the mother is wise and kind—the obedience should be obtained without any unnecessary discussion. I don't believe in unquestioning obedience, but neither do I believe in the endless discussing of every point. It certainly weakens authority, and a mother or father must be vested in authority if he or she is to order the life of a child.

So, when a situation gets "talky," just you stop talking, but in a perfectly good natured way. "I won't talk about it any more," you may sometimes have to say. And then, if you suit your action to the words.

Chicago Artists' Yearly Show Opens Thursday at the Art Institute

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

An eagerly anticipated event of the late winter is the annual exhibit of work by Chicago artists, an exhibition that this year will open Thursday, Feb. 7, in the east wing galleries of the Art institute.

Wednesday night a dinner has been arranged at the Art institute to which all artists who have had work accepted for the forthcoming exhibit are invited. The dinner will be held in the clubroom on the ground floor at 6:30. The winners of the twenty-two prizes will be announced. Dr. Allen B. Albert, assistant to Rufus Dawes, president of the Chicago World's Fair for 1933, will speak to the guests on various aspects of the exposition.

Meanwhile, in the print rooms on the first floor of the museum, the annual exhibit of etchings that is sponsored by the Chicago Society of Etchers has just opened. There are fewer etchings on the wall than in previous exhibits, but this is because those shown are of larger size. Out of about a thousand entries, 293 were selected and hung. Many foreign countries are again represented and there are prints from England, France, Germany, Italy, Holland, Belgium, Czecho-Slovakia, Hawaii, Japan, China and India.

Among the Chicago etchers we find represented Lee Sturgis, Ralph Fletcher Seymour, Thomas T. Tallmadge, Robert Lee Eskridge, Charles V. Dahlgreen, Bertha E. Jacques, Beatrice Levy, Rose Crossman, Allen Philbrick, Charles Morgan, Elizabeth Telling and Eugenie Glamen.

Three prizes are to be awarded in this exhibit. They are the three Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Logan prizes of $100, $75 and $50.

Society Gives Party at Theater Helping the Allendale Home

"The Royal Family" was given a royal welcome at its opening last evening at the Harris theater. Another of society's charities was enriched by some hundreds of dollars. The boxes, main floor and most of the balcony were taken over by the men and women interested in the Allendale Home for Boys at Lake Villa, putting most of the traditional first-nighters in the background.

One hundred seats were purchased for the older boys of the home and during the first intermission a troop of sturdy young citizens marched onto the stage to a riot of applause and stood at attention while H. Duncan Clarke told the audience something about Allendale, its aims and accomplishments.

Among those who entertained at dinner and brought guests to the performance were Mrs. Leverett Thompson, who was chairman of the ticket committee, Mrs. George A. Ranney, Mrs. Charles H. Schweppe, Mrs. Kersey Coates Reed, Mrs. James M. Hopkins, and Mrs. I. Newton Perry.

Lewis E. Myers, chairman of the association, had a large group of guests whom he afterwards took to a supper party at the Blackstone for members of the cast including Miss Marjorie Wood, Miss Penelope Hubbard, Gerald Kent, Jefferson De Angelis, Otto Kruger and Joseph King.

Among others observed in the audience were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Linn, Mrs. Barrett Wendell, Mrs. Waller Borden, Mr. and Mrs. William McCormick Blair, Mr. and Mrs. Donald M. Ryerson, Mrs. John Root, Mrs. Petit Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph G. Coleman, Mrs. Francis Johnson, Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, Edwin D. Krenn, Col. and Mrs. George T. Langhorne, Mrs. Thomas Cowles, Miss Catherine Noyes, Mrs. Laird Bell, Miss Marion Dixon and her fiancé, Stanley Zaring, Mr. and Mrs. Graham Aldis, Mrs. Charles Garfield King, Mrs. James Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Loesch and Arthur Aldis.

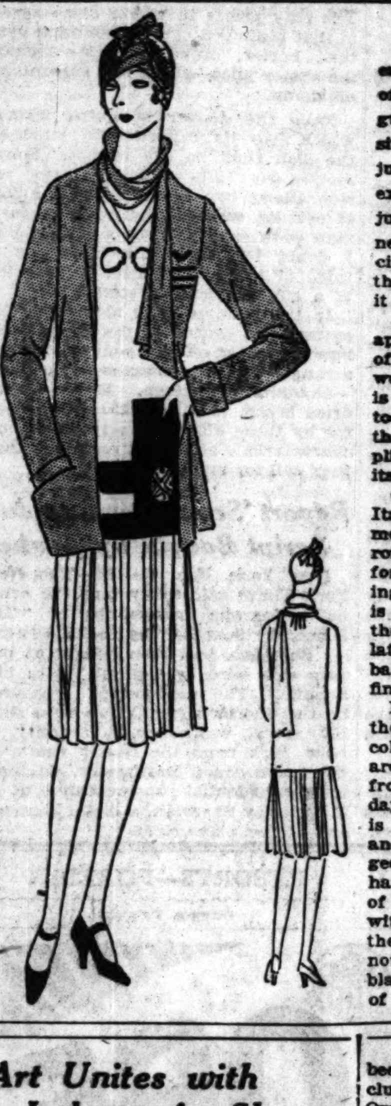
Piano Concert Wins Critic's Praise for Andreina Materassi

Andreina Materassi, a talented, trained, and by no means aged pianist, was the attraction of the 174th artist recital given under the auspices of the Musicians' Club of Women at the Studebaker theater yesterday afternoon. Her program was a pleasing blend of new and old; her performance of it was always good and sometimes exquisite. She began with some ancient works, two by Scarlatti and one by Respighi, the "Siciliana," which in reality is not Respighi's but his arrangement of an old air for the lute.

From there she pased to Chopin, from Chopin to Debussy, Mangiagalli, and Ravel, ending with Brahms and Liszt. Her playing is always neat; she excels in delicate traceries, which need suppleness and exactness of aim. Interpretively she is always feminine. She prefers pleasant, restrained lines of melody to making thunderous assaults on the sense of hearing. She has evidently studied much and thought much about her music, and if there would seem to be overemployment of the famous Chopin rubato, this manner of playing responded well in works like Debussy's "Soirée dans Granade" and Mangiagalli's "Dance d'Olaf." Also she makes a decorative figure on the stage, and this has never been known to injure the impression made by any professional pianist on earth. E. M.

New Straws Are of Natural Shadings



BY LOLITA.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—If you wish to speak of some of the new millinery fabrics get a guitar. Yes, for you really ought to sing them. It sounds too profane to just speak those liquid syllables. For example, there's luciole. Can't you just hear some Latin serenader beneath your window chanting, "O, luciole"—pronouncing each vowel in that nice way the Italians have? Why, it sounds just like a love song!

And not much behind it in romantic appeal is escolene, that new ribbon of about an inch in width which is woven of visca and wool and which is often used for entire hats. Surely, too, one mustn't forget morio cloth, that all-over fabric, transparent and pliable, which is being employed all by itself and in conjunction with felt.

Of course, the predominance of Italian products in the new millinery mode is responsible for all these nice romantic sounds. But we must not forget that other lands are also sending us products. For example, there is China which gives us Bangkok and the popular bakou. Regarding this latter, do not forget the variation of bakou called bakou soie, that new finer-weaved relative of bakou.

Have you noticed that many of these new straws affect the natural color? Yes, and what is more, they are being allied sometimes with frocks of natural colored weave. Today's sketch of a resort sports frock is eloquent of this fact, for the skirt and jumper are made of natural pongee, a material which, by the way, is having quite a vogue, and the turban of natural colored bangkok is trimmed with the same brilliant red crêpe of the jacket. The jumper repeats the note of red crêpe allied with heavy black crêpe and finishes with a design of gold embroidery on the black.

Art Unites with Industry for Show of New Ceramics

Works of art as well as commercial exhibits are displayed at the Stevens hotel by the American Ceramics association. For the term "ceramic" is interpreted by that organization as including all articles molded from clay and its allied products.

So there are on display gayly or delicately colored glaze on tiles or terra cotta, as well as varied sorts of bricks, cement blocks, laboratory apparatus, spark plugs, delicate china and glassware, hand molded and painted pottery, and enameled finishes on such things as pots and pans, stoves, tables, refrigerators, and washing machines.

There are educational demonstrations of how clay is excavated from the pit. Pottery is made by the ancient and still most perfect method on the potter's kick wheel, a device that has been responsible for much poetry, including some of the best known of Omar Khayyam, called the "Tent Maker."

Articles of historical interest are displayed in vivid contrast to the modern ceramics. Beside fragile tableware that costs $12,000 for a dozen plates is the ancestral china of George Washington. Next to a brilliantly white kitchen stove is the stove at which Mary Todd Lincoln cooked.

The exposition was opened to the public at 7 o'clock last night and will continue daily from noon to 10 p. m. through Feb. 9.

Boy Scout officials met with 350 business leaders at a luncheon in the La Salle hotel yesterday to discuss ways and means of raising $25,000 for the 1929 Boy Scout budget. B. H. Bells spoke. He recounted the work done by the Boy Scout organization, appealing to Chicago's business men for aid. Among those at the speakers' table were Walter A. Strong, general campaign chairman; E. Goodman, scout executive; J. B. Dorjan Jr., chairman of the finance committee,

Sugarless cereal means a fight

A little sweetening does away with an awful lot of trouble

CHILDREN's meals should not be something to be dreaded. One of the most important of all dieting problems is to get children to eat enough bone-building, health-promoting foods. Ranking among the highest of foods for children are cereals, and yet, as an eminent food authority recently stated it, "Sugarless cereal means a fight."

He went on to advise mothers to make these necessary foods welcome and even looked forward to by the children through intelligent and judicious sweetening. Sugar in itself is the most perfect fuel to furnish energy for active children, and best of all it makes other necessary foods so easily and gladly eaten.

Children should not dread their meals. The wise mother or nurse, by an intelligent use of sugar, can enable children to enjoy all kinds of healthful cereals, fruits, vegetables and milk. Properly sweetened cereals also encourage the child to eat more milk. Sugar is Nature's ideal flavor. The Sugar Institute.

NORWEGIAN "TREK KAFFE"—Use a heaping tablespoon of Maxwell House Coffee for each cup and one extra "for the pot." Place in a cheese-cloth bag, drop in the pot and pour over it as many cups of freshly boiling water as there are people to be served. Pour out a cup and pour back over the coffee three or four times; then serve.
"Good to the last drop"
Richness . . . blended from many choice coffees
A GENTLEMAN of the Old South spent months of patient, skillful labor combining, testing, rejecting, re-combining the "winy" coffees of Arabia, the "mild" of Java, the "syrupy" pungent coffees of Brazil.
At last his persistence was rewarded with an entirely new coffee flavor—a blend, smooth, rich, mellow, full-bodied, yet full of life and sparkle.
This delicious blend got its first fame—and its name—from the celebrated old Maxwell House in Nashville, Tennessee, whose guests pronounced the coffee "good to the last drop."
Today Maxwell House Coffee is pleasing more people than any other coffee ever offered for sale. It will please you. Your grocer has it, sealed in tin to protect all its fine flavor.

A Cleansing Cream Doesn't Take Place of Soap and Water

by Antoinette Donnelly

The question about the kind of cleansing cream a correspondent should use is frequently put. "Is so-and-so" [naming some trade make of cream] "good for my skin?" being the usual form of query.

I make no recommendation of nor pass judgment upon any special brand of cleanser. That you must work out to your own satisfaction, which, in my opinion, isn't a complex matter to wrestle with. There are many good cleansing creams on the market, put out by reputable concerns, which latter endorsement is about all you have to guide your purchase. But the purpose of a cleansing cream is to cleanse and if you hit upon one that does that to your entire satisfaction you may be reasonably sure that it is a good cleansing cream for your face.

Except in instances of unusually tender, unusually dry skins the cleansing cream may be thought of in terms of a prologue to the nightly washing. I believe strongly in creams for cleansing, but for the average skin I believe as strongly that the cream cleansing should be followed by a good soap and water scrub.

The cream applied first and left to remain on a minute or two, until it liquifies from the heat of the skin, has a penetrating cleansing virtue. It does soften the skin, and where pores are enlarged and subject to obstruction that eventually takes blackhead form, the cleansing cream makes easier the removal of the imprisoned particles of dust, or grime, or fat, as the case may be. But particularly where there is this tendency, after the face has been cream cleansed it should be treated to a warm water, soap and soft complexion brush bath, finishing off with a cold water rinse.

Any number of women use their cleansing creams as lubricants for slightly dry skin; they use it for a powder base, also for massage work. And if it is good quality cream they may continue doing so. Other cosmetic creams on skins of a quality calling for especial consideration might be used to better advantage as lubricants and powder bases and skin foods. But, ordinarily, your cleansing cream bottle is a concise and handy little friend.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA NOW 21 YEARS OLD AS LAND OF MOVIES

Feb. 4, 1908, the Selig Polyscope company of Chicago started work on "Across the Divide," a western thriller which ran one reel.

At this time a 10 reel super-feature million dollar epic is "shot" on a 26 acre studio plant with scarcely more ado than was made over "Across the Divide."

Several studios stopped all work for a two minute period today at 11 a. m.

"A delicate subject —but these girls must be told"

—a dean of women says in discussing this phase of modern feminine hygiene

Unfortunately this delicate subject is seldom discussed. Now, a new patented process deodorizes this scientific sanitary pad, which excels in comfort and ease of disposability

EVEN among girls who are very frank with each other, there is a question of daintiness, of fastidious personal care, that is unfortunately seldom mentioned. Yet many women are unconsciously guilty. At certain times they are seriously offensive to others. With realization comes constant worry.

*Kotex now completely deodorizes

Kotex has brought a new idea of feminine hygiene to women all over the world. In the past ten years they have learned new comfort, new ease of mind through this scientifically designed sanitary protection.

Now, after years of work, a process has been perfected that completely ends all odors. In Kotex laboratories the one remaining problem in connection with sanitary pads is solved.

Shaped to fit, too

Because corners of the pad are rounded and tapered, it may be worn without evidence under the most clinging gown. There is none of that conspicuous bulkiness so often associated with old-fashioned methods. You can adjust the filler. Cellucotton absorbent wadding takes up 16 times its weight in moisture, 5 times more absorbent than cotton itself. It is easily disposed of, no laundering is necessary. A new process makes it softer than ever before.

Buy a box today... 45c for a box of twelve. On sale at all drug, dry goods and department stores; also through vending cabinets in rest-rooms by West Disinfecting Co.

Use Super-size Kotex
Formerly 90c—Now 65c

Super-size Kotex differs from Regular Kotex only in giving the extra protection of additional layers of Cellucotton absorbent wadding. The advantages in using it in connection with the Regular are thus obvious. Disposable the same way. Doctors and nurses consider it indispensable where extra protection is needed. At the new low price, you can easily afford to buy one box of Super-size to every three of Kotex Regular. Its extra layers of filler mean much in added comfort and security.

Tribune Cook Book

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Scalloped Oysters.

Someone signing himself "An Old Timer" who has, I think, addressed this column more than once before in a considerably less than out and out signature, now wants us, among other things, to print a recipe for "the old-fashioned escalloped oysters." By the way, the old books I have consulted, write it "scalloped" every time, and this is one point in which they seem to agree and in few others. The reason for this title was that the oysters were frequently baked in a large scallop shell, which perhaps started the idea that scalloped oysters were an elegant dish for grand occasions, just as elegant as the French coquilles.

But I have had experience, and scoldings, and I no longer give recipes for scalloped oysters unless I quote them, and relieve myself of responsibility, for no recipe I have ever seen is what people roughly call "fool proof." The reason for this is that one of the ingredients is crumbs, and another water, and crumbs take up the water, which also evaporates with the heat so the dish is almost always too dry. No one who writes a recipe can determine positively how much heat the one who uses it will use, nor how much judgment that one will have in combining a liquid, and something that will drink it up.

I wish Old Timer could look at the ten recipes I have spread out before me, in ten different books, none less than fifty years old and one a hundred. The only points in which these agree is that scalloped oysters contains oysters, butter, crumbs, liquid—usually the oyster juice—and a few seasonings or many.

Take the matter of butter alone, which has its influence in whether the dish shall be dry or not. Some recipes say "bits of butter." One recipe allows two spoonfuls to a quart of oysters, whereas a certain modern man cook says he uses a pound, but I doubt it. Mrs. Lincoln allows a third of a cup of butter to a third of a cup of "solid oysters."

In the hundred year old recipe the oysters are heated in the shell, their liquor strained off and poured over the arranged layers of crumbs and oysters—amounts not given. Fresh bread, dried bread, toast, crackers are called for by these different recipes and one characteristic of the old recipes is that they call for mace.

Report 'School for Scandal' Script Bought by Yankee

New York, Feb. 4.—(AP)—The New York Times said today that the original autograph manuscript of "The School for Scandal," by Richard Brinsley Sheridan, had been bought at private sale here by Gabriel Wells, bibliophile. The manuscript, treasured by the Sheridan family for more than 150 years, was brought secretly to New York from the family estate at Frampton court, Dorchester, England, by a confidential representative of A. T. Brinsley Sheridan, a direct descendant of the playwright.

"Trees to Tribunes" Called Lesson for Safeguarding Forests

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 4.—[Special.]—"Publication of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE of its page 'Trees to Tribunes' followed by the radio talk on the making of THE TRIBUNE, is one of the greatest educational forces behind forestry ever devised," said Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the American Tree association, today.

"This feature, reaching, as it does, millions," continued Mr. Pack, "places before millions the part forests play in the economic life of the nation. The American Tree association is campaigning to educate the American people to the absolute economic need of putting our millions of idle acres to work growing trees. Under forest management, had it been inaugurated in time, Wisconsin, Michigan, Minnesota, right at the pressroom door of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, would now be producing the trees for pulpwood today.

"As the situation stands today, THE TRIBUNE and other great industries are making long hauls and paying high freight rates on forest products to keep these industries going. Wood is the corner stone of every industry. The cost of forest products is figured in every article of commerce.

"The people of this country must become forestry minded. We must put idle land to work growing trees."

EAT YEAST IN THIS MODERN FORM

IF YOU ARE RUN DOWN, FAGGED OUT AND CONSTIPATED

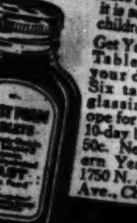
Here's yeast, pure yeast, in a form you'll like. Little tablets with a rich nut-like taste, so delightfully different from the ordinary baking yeast. Swallow the tablets whole or, as most people prefer, chew them like candy.

Take Yeast Foam Tablets for constipation, indigestion, skin disorders, and run-down conditions. There is nothing like them.

Special Notice

For years this yeast has been used and recognized as the standard for vitamin studies by the leading universities of the nation and by the U. S. Government. Its potency is uniform, controlled and guaranteed. This yeast does not ferment or cause gas. Hence it is safe for the children.

Get Yeast Foam Tablets from your druggist. Six tablets in glassine envelope for 5c or the 10-day bottle for 50c. Northwestern Yeast Co., 1750 N. Ashland Ave., Chicago.



A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to direction. Ask your druggist. (Adv.)

SAMUEL WATKINS, FIELD SECRETARY OF M.V.L., IS DEAD

Aldermen Mourn Passing of City Hall Veteran.

Chicago's city council mourned the death yesterday of Samuel R. Watkins as "a square dealing reformer." Mr. Watkins was for more than twenty years the field secretary of the Municipal Voters' league. He died yesterday morning at his home, 3611 Pine Grove avenue, of heart disease, growing out of an attack of influenza in December.

The funeral is to be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock and interment will be in Calvary cemetery. The city council, by rising vote, yesterday adopted resolutions of regret and condolence, and the aldermen will be represented at the obsequies.

Was Research Worker.

"Si" Watkins, as they all called him at the hall, was the research man of the M. V. L., and his observations on the votes and records of the aldermen formed the basis on which the league's reports were based. For thirty years he missed few council meetings and was in close contact with civic and municipal affairs.

Born in Racine, Wis., the son of a Congregational minister, Mr. Watkins was a graduate of the University of Iowa. He came to Chicago in 1899, and in a short time became city hall reporter for the City Press association. The city hall was his field of endeavor from that time on. He left the news bureau in 1905 to join the staff of the Chicago Post, and afterwards became identified with the M. V. L.

As old timers in the council talked over his death, they spoke of "Si" as having the spirit of a crusader with a fine vein of humor and human kindness and a great sense of balance.

Held Universal Respect.

"Everybody knew 'Si' was a square dealer," said Ald. Guy Guernsey [Sixth], "and even those criticized by the league held him in respect. He's the only man I ever knew who could walk up to an alderman denounced by the league, get a greeting of profanity and expletive, and after an hour's talk, cool the alderman down and leave him perhaps acknowledging that the league was right."

At one time Carter H. Harrison, when mayor, offered "Si" a position of responsibility with perhaps twice the salary he was getting from the league, but "Si" turned the offer down. He said to accept it would look as if he were using the municipal reform movement to his own personal advantage.

Ten years ago, during one of the campaigns made by the league to improve aldermanic calibre, the council denied Mr. Watkins the floor of the chamber, and ever since he had occupied the same seat in the front row of the gallery.

Loss "Well Nigh Irreparable."

The M. V. L. sent out resolutions last night saying:

"In the death of Samuel R. Watkins the city has lost a valued public servant, and the Municipal Voters' league has sustained a well-nigh irreparable loss. As its executive secretary for the last twenty years, he has attended every meeting of the city council and of its important committees, closely observing the actions and attitude of the aldermen and keeping scrupulously accurate records."

Mr. Watkins was 54 years old. He leaves a widow, Mrs. Theresa Kennedy Watkins, a sister, and a brother.

Elmer Hears Mr. Selinger's Violin Recital

Likes Both the Program and the Playing.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

Now and then we hear a recital in which the selections are quite as interesting in themselves as is the artist's playing and interpretation of them. The violin recital by Henry Selinger, W-G-N, 9:30 to 10, was such a program. The following numbers were included:

[1.] Slow movement from Beethoven's Sonata appassionata, as transcribed by Godfrey Ludlow. Mr. Selinger's lovely playing of this work was restful to the ear and charming to the mind. [2.] A lively sewing machine shuttle action, "Rigaudon" by Rameau—an early period piece. [3.] "Larghetto" by Handel. [4.] Choral from Bach's "Christmas" oratorio as transcribed by Albert Spaulding—a difficult work, with double stopping, and very attractive. [5.] "Alabama," one of Albert Spalding's important contributions to violin literature—a Negro melody in plantation style. [6.] Two numbers by Cecil Burleigh, an American composer: "Hills" being a short number in modern tonality and treatment, and "Faeries" a short, rapid, virtuoso piece. [7.] Kreisler's "Old Refrain."

Otherwise, Chicago broadcasts were generally of a light, popular nature.

But from WEAF, New York, 10 to 11, through several outside Chicago stations, came "Algalala," a grand opera with an American Indian theme, presented by the National Grand Opera company. As an opera of the heavy type, it was absorbing and impressive. However, as attractive as this opera sounded on first hearing, it left me with the feeling that, as has often been contended by musical students, American Indian music is not the stuff from which lasting works on large scale can be made.

HERBERT S. MILLS WILL BE BURIED HERE THURSDAY

The body of Herbert S. Mills, 58 years old, millionaire inventor of slot machines and president of the Mills Novelty company, 4410 Fullerton avenue, was en route here last night from Miami, where he died on Sunday after being stricken with paralysis aboard his yacht. Funeral services will be held on Thursday at St. Edmund's church, Oak Park. Interment will be in Calvary cemetery. Mr. Mills' home was at Pleasant and Home avenues, Oak Park.

In youth, Mr. Mills was a newsboy. He possessed an inventive talent, however, and perfected a vending machine which amassed him a fortune. In 1907 he was sentenced to serve a year in the house of correction for misuse of the mails and emerged from jail a year later having spent $6,000 for the welfare of prisoners and having won the title of "the Bridewell's best prisoner." Mills is survived by his widow, four sons, who are associated in the Mills Novelty company, and four daughters.

LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE

Why sales slumped after the banquet

There had been "pep talks" and humor, music and statistics, a seven-course dinner and the announcement of increased commissions. Every man went home feeling genial, promising himself and the company officials that he would double his sales before the week was out.

Yet the very next day, sales slid down to a new low mark for the year—as any medical authority could well have predicted.

One of the prime causes of Monday colds, of the epidemic of colds which follow any holiday, is the lowered resistance, decreased vitality, and acidity, due to over-eating. The slightest exposure serves to bring on grip or flu.

Hence the obvious wisdom of taking GROVE'S BROMO QUININE promptly after any unusually heavy meal. These tiny tablets, easy to take, regularize and tone the system. They build up resistance and help Nature avoid or throw-off colds quickly. Feverish condition, headache, or stopped-up feeling, all yield with surprising speed… Remember there is only one Bromo Quinine. So emphasize GROVE'S, when asking for GROVE'S BROMO QUININE. Price 30c.

A CHALLENGE TO REAL SALESMEN.

Regardless of what your sales experience has been, we have the liveliest, most remunerative sales job open that you have ever had or even heard about.

We ask that you read the above statement again.

Our business is the most interesting and most talked of business on earth today. It is one of the youngest businesses, too; therefore there is plenty of room for men who can DO THINGS.

We are just launching an aggressive campaign in Chicago and vicinity. Some men hired two weeks ago have been promoted to District Managers, with salesmen now working under them. You have the same identical opportunity if you can do what these men have done. Your promotion is as sure as theirs was. Men who have sold high grade specialties, such as

Pianos, Victrolas,
Automobiles, Oil Burners,
Vacuum Cleaners,
Washing Machines,
Electric Refrigeration, and similar products, sold direct to the purchaser, are the men we are looking for.

NO TRAVELING.

If you qualify you will be associated with a highly successful forty year old electrical manufacturer of international reputation whose products have always heretofore been sold through Distributors and Dealers.

The directors of our company are men who are internationally known and whose names are household words.

You must possess character, integrity, honesty, loyalty and perseverance, and a determination to succeed.

We have nothing to sell you. BUT you must sell yourself.

Miscellaneous.

MEN.

Waiting lists will soon be established for applicants seeking positions with a large international organization. These lists already exist in many of the 43 countries in which we operate over 500 branch offices. We are just commencing operations in the United States and our expansion program calls for about 40 men in the Illinois territory.

These men will be assured of a splendid income and a remarkable future with a financially strong old company. Inasmuch as we are the only ones in our particular field, we cannot get experienced men, and the qualifications are loyalty, intelligence and aggressiveness.

Men who apply for personal interview from 10 to 12 today will be able to start work immediately if they are accepted. Call

TRANSPORTATION BLDG.,

Ask for Mr. Daniel,
PERSONNEL DIRECTOR.

CO-OPERATORS WANTED.

I want 3 men to assist me in calling on prospective buyers whom I have already interested to bring them to me so that I can complete the deal. I don't want you to sell them as I do that myself.

The men I now have working are only ordinary men and are all making more money than they ever made before, with less effort on their part. They are unable to handle all my prospects so I must get more help.

This is a rare opportunity for the man who wants to make a success of himself, and build up a nice bank account which will increase faster than you ever dreamed it could.

If you are in earnest, trustworthy and willing to follow instructions, see me today from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. MR. BALTZELL, 3d floor, 100 N. La Salle-st.

2½% Loans 2½%

YOU SAVE ALMOST ONE-THIRD BY BORROWING FROM HOUSEHOLD.

This old established organization, by reason of large volume, efficient management and ample capital, is now making a substantial reduction in the cost of loans up to $300 by lowering the interest rate from the legal maximum of 3½ per cent a month on unpaid principal balances to 2½ per cent.

FOR EXAMPLE, ON LOANS
Payable in 20 Equal Monthly Payments
You Save as Follows:
$ 50 Loan—You Save $ 5.25
$100 Loan—You Save 10.50
$200 Loan—You Save 21.00
$300 Loan—You Save 31.50

Loans may be paid in full at any time and you will only be charged for the actual time you keep the money. You get the full amount in cash—no deductions of any kind. We do not notify your employer, neither do we make inquiries of your friends, relatives or tradespeople. If it is not convenient to call personally, phone the office nearest you and we will send a representative to your home.
